THE GOLDEN SIDE.

There's many a rest on the road of life, If we only would stop to take it...

TRUST.

Searching for strawberries ready to eat, Finding them fragrant and large and sweet...

THE SCIENCE OF ADULTERATION.

Some months ago, in examining a specimen of cream of tartar, I found two or three per cent. of gypsum...

This adulteration can only be recognized by the microscope. The starch grains of rice are very small and angular...

A MOTHER'S EXAMPLE.

The first book read, and the last book laid aside, by every child, is the conduct of its mother.

THE CAUSE OF HARD TIMES.

The Unstarian Review for January and February, among other able articles, has one on the "Business Situation," in which the present stress of the times is ascribed to over production...

ONE OF THE SORROWS OF LIFE.

Many a volume has been written about the love of parents, the love of mothers, its enthusiasms of hope and fancy, its adorations of the unworthy...

SNOW BLINDNESS.

Here is a preventive of snow blindness, says a traveler, which I heard of when in California in 1873.

"I see that when I follow any shadow it flies from me, when I fly from my shadow it follows me. I know pleasures are but shadows, which hold no longer than the sunshine of my fortunes..."

EDUCATION BEGINS IN THE NURSERY.

The instinctive love of offspring, common to all animals, has been given for the preservation and protection of the young, while they are weak and helpless...

Let, then, the gentle and kindly sympathies get, as it were, the start, and let us not even disdain the mechanical assistance they may receive from the habitual exercise of the muscles...

The desire to excite sympathy is a part of our nature, and a constant interchange of sympathy is, from the beginning to the end of our existence, the great charm of life.

Do not betray the fact that you are amused with their little attempts of imitating others. If they find they attract your admiration while they are playing, or, as they call it, pretending, they become buffoons...

Believer, desire to find thy will in the Divine will alone. Be silent when he strikes, content when he denies, thankful when he gives, and resigned when he takes away.
