

TOWN, COUNTY, AND VARIETY.

E. L. Weeks has sold his three-fifth interest in the "Avenue Store" building to H. Crutcher.

It is said that "figures won't lie," but the figures of some females seem very deceptive, to say the least.

The Lenten season commences to-day. There will be services in St. Pauls church, Montrose, every evening until Easter.

E. L. Weeks is converting the old M. E. church into a tenement house. He is finishing it in good style. It will easily accommodate six families.

The Danbury News says, "The revival feeling is prevailing yet it hasn't got down deep enough to effect rearranges on country newspaper books."

One thousand newspapers have failed in the last twelve months, having sunk $8,000,000. And yet some people wonder if it costs anything to run a newspaper.

Rev. A. D. Alexander of Binghamton, will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. Church next Sunday, Mr. Thorpe having made an exchange with him for that day.

W. H. Jessup has bought the property known as the Old Court House, in this borough. Consideration $1,000. It has formerly been owned by a stock company.

As a general thing, our exchanges are all speaking of the necessity of a reduction of rents the coming spring. In some localities rents have been reduced from ten to thirty per cent.

The Ladies of the M. E. Church will hold a mite society at the house of Jared Deans in South Bridgewater, this (Wednesday) evening. An excellent chance to improve the sleighing.

There was a large attendance at the Sixth Annual Reception of Montrose Fire Company No. 3, on Friday evening last. It was emphatically a season of great pleasure to all present, and one of profit to the company. The net receipts were $125.

There has been a bill introduced into the state legislature, enacting that all lands for farming purposes within the limits of cities, boroughs or municipal corporations shall not be taxed except for state, county, road and school purposes, the same as other lands in the townships of this commonwealth.

That "goose bone" prophet has the floor since February fifteenth. Fair winter weather with fine sleighing is the condition of things, just now, provided the weather doesn't change before we get to press. If it does then the "probabilities" are it will be something else and our readers will know without our telling them.

We have received a copy of The Temperance Benefit an eight page monthly paper, published by L. A. Tyler of Brooklyn, Susquehanna county, Pa. It is devoted to "Insurance, Temperance and Health," and the interests of the Temperance Mutual Benefit Association of Great Bend Village. Subscription price fifty cents.

A young servant girl of Mrs. Julia A. Miner of this city, was found dead in her bed late on Friday morning last. She had been in ordinary health, but afflicted the day before with toothache or neuralgia in the face, and procured a vial of laudanum to relieve her from the pain. Not understanding the strength of the medicine, she took too much, and being unattended, died from its effects, before any one had visited her room.—Wilkesbarre Union.

The Young Men's Christian Association met at the Parlor of the Presbyterian Church for organization and the election of officers on Saturday evening last. The officers elected are as follows: President, E. C. Sherman; 1st Vice, James Brady; 2nd Vice, C. B. Potter; Corresponding Secretary, Amos Nichols; Recording Secretary, E. W. Lyons; Treasurer, N. L. Lenheim. Meeting adjourned to meet at the Baptist Church on Tuesday evening, Feb. 23.

The Binghamton Times says: "Mr. E. Flynn, now stopping with his family at Way's Hotel, Binghamton, is the father of a boy who was born during Mr. Flynn's residence at Greene, N. Y., and weighed at birth about two and one-half pounds. He is now between four and five years of age, is physically perfect in every way, is healthy, talks very distinctly, is very active and weighs, fully dressed, nine pounds. His height is twenty-three inches. For a few months after his birth the child grew as rapidly as children usually do, but for the last three years has not increased perceptibly in size or weight."

The lecture at the Court House on Tuesday evening last, by Rev. E. A. Warriner, for the benefit of the poor of Montrose, was noticeable for a very slim attendance, about eighty persons being present. The lecture was a success. Although well acquainted with the ability of Mr. Warriner, we were doubtful that many new or very entertaining ideas could be advanced on a subject that has been so freely discussed as the "Centennial," but his version seemed different from any we have heard.—From the beginning, it was interesting and instructive, and the few who attended were well repaid for their trouble.—Montrose Republican.

At the borough election in Susquehanna Depot, on the 15th inst., the following officers were elected: Burgess, Dennis Casey; Town Council, D. Malpass, Michael Lanan, A. Benson, John Keas, Pat O'Shannessy, P. H. Furey, High Constable, Michael Fernan; Assessor, A. W. Bowley; Constable, W. J. Leslie; School Directors, M. H. Eisman, W. Healy; Judge of Elections, First Ward, A. C. Parلمان; Judge of Elections, Second Ward, J. B. Scovill; Inspectors of Elections, First Ward, John C. Kane, M. M. Biles; Inspectors of Election, Second Ward, Thomas Haskett, John R. Townsend; Poor Commissioner, Bradley Beebe; Auditor, J. G. Brewer; Assistant Assessors, First Ward, Martin Herch, Second Ward, W. R. Greeley.

The confession made by one of the "Molly Maguires" now in the Carbon county jail charged with the murder of mine boss Jones, will doubtless have the effect of bringing a number of those who have had a hand in these cowardly assassinations in the coal regions to justice. Eight persons have already been arrested in Schuylkill county, and the names of others charged with the murder are in the possession of the officers. The criminal who has made the confession implicating his confederates, doubtless hopes to save his own neck by putting the rope around the necks of his fellow assassins. He has at all events, done a good work for the community whether he saves his own life or not.—Scranton Republican.

At a meeting of the Directors of the D. L. & W. R. R., on Friday last, it was decided to narrow the gauge of that road and also all its branches, and the work to commence at once. This is good news to the working men along the line as it means steady employment and full time. This is an immense work as not only the track is to be narrowed, but there are one hundred and fifty-six locomotives to be altered, besides all the passenger and baggage cars as well as coal and freight cars. It is said there are thirteen thousand coal cars to be remodeled. The cost of this whole work will be about $2,500,000. We have heard it said that the D. L. & W. Company will lay a "loop" track from Hopbottom in Montrose. "Lay on McDuff!"

It will be noticed in our advertising columns that the County Commissioners give notice that they will find the debt of the county in bonds of $500 or more to suit those who desire to invest their money. This is as it should be and the people will universally commend their action in this particular. It gives us to understand that the Commissioners intend hereafter to play an open hand in the disbursements of the county taxes, which will relieve them from any responsibility as to the cause of the unwarranted county indebtedness or complicity in those dark transactions of past administrations. The present Commissioners, as well as the people, must take things as they find them and not as they ought to be, and they will only be held responsible for their stewardship. They can rely upon the Democrat to stand at their back in a straight forward, open-handed course just as certain as that it will be in their hair if they play the old Ring "dark lantern" game.

The dwelling house of J. H. Townner, of Rome, together with most of its contents, was burned on Tuesday night, 15th inst. The family barely escaped with their lives. The first intimation of the fire being the falling of the plastering down into the room below. Mr. Townner's loss is very heavy, probably $3,000. He has an insurance on building, furniture, etc., of $1,400.

SAD ACCIDENT.—It is seldom we are called upon to announce a more tragical and heart-rending accident than occurred on last Friday, on the playgrounds of the Warburton Hill school house, in Forks township, resulting in the death of Llewellyn Young, aged 17, son of Abraham and Ann Young, caused by being accidentally hit near the temple with a ball-club, fracturing the skull, from which death shortly ensued.—Laporte Press.

CONCERNING CAR CHARGES.—A bill has been introduced in the house limiting the charge for a single berth in a sleeping car to one dollar and for a section one dollar and a half. Tickets are required to be on sale at ticket offices on the railroad. A charge above the rate fixed is finable not exceeding $300 and not less than $100, one half to go to the common schools and one half to the complainant. The Secretary of internal affairs is authorized to institute suit for violations of the law.

RAILROAD COMPANIES MUST PAY FOR WHAT THEY BURN.—The supreme court has affirmed the judgement of the common pleas of Northumberland county in a case, where Abraham Hendrickson obtained a verdict against the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroad Company for burning his barn, the fire being kindled by sparks from a passing engine. The main point of defense was that the weather was extremely dry, and the roof of the barn was in a rickety condition, which was argued as contributory negligence on the part of the owner.—The court held that this point was unavailing in law, and sustained the judgement of the lower court damages.

COPPER ORE IN BROOME COUNTY.—For some time past a party of men have been prospecting in the neighborhood of the town line between Windsor and Kirkwood for coal, and in digging test pits recently, found about twenty feet below the surface, what is pronounced to be copper ore. We were shown a sample of the rock in which this supposed ore is found by Mr. Edward Twitchel, of West Windsor, on Saturday, and it certainly has the appearance of being a deposit of copper. He reports it as being found in some instances one-eighth of an inch in thickness of apparently pure copper.—The sample shown us was found on the farm of a Mr. Smith near the town line between Kirkwood and Windsor.—Binghamton Times.

ORIGIN OF BILLIARDS.—An ancient chronicler says the credit of introducing the game of billiards belongs to a pawnbroker. In the sixteenth century there was one William Kew, a pawnbroker, who, during wet weather, was in the habit of taking down the three balls and with the yard measure pushing them, billiard fashion, from the counter into the stalls; in time the idea of a board with side pockets suggested itself. A black letter manuscript says: "Master William Kew did make one board whereby a game is played with three balls, and all the young men were greatly recreated there at, chiefly the young clergy men from St. Pauls, hence one of ye strokes was named a canon, having been by one of ye said clergy men invented. The game is now known by Billiard, because William or Bill Kew did first play with a yard measure. The stick is now called a kew or kue." It is easily to comprehend how "Billiard" has been modernized into billiard, and the transformation of "kew" or "kue" into cue is equally apparent.

PAY YOUR SMALL BILLS.—Upon this topic an exchange gives some good advice when it says that in these hard times there is no better kind of oil to keep the machinery of life easily running than the payment of small bills promptly. Yet just this lubricator is what a great many people neglect to use. The mischief of the neglect is that to withhold money in one case withholds it in another, and so on through a long line. When one horse car is stopped by an obstruction on the track, all the cars behind it are stopped too. It is precisely so with an unpaid debt. And a block on the track is nothing compared with the other kind. Pay your bills promptly. Your creditor is in his turn a debtor. By this means money may be kept moving, which is now very much needed.

EVERYTHING "CENTENNIAL."—We are surrounded on every side with evidences that this is the Centennial year. We put on our Centennial boots and wear our Centennial necktie, eat from dishes of Centennial ware, and read the Centennial Gazette. We smoke Centennial cigars, lighted with Centennial matches. We look at our Centennial calendar for the day of the month, and find out when the sun rises by consulting our Centennial Almanac. We receive Centennial Communications, written on Centennial note paper, with Centennial pens dipped in Centennial ink. We attend Centennial tea parties, purchase Centennial relics and admire ladies dressed in Centennial robes.—How long human nature can stand up under this load is doubtful, for we live in daily expectation of being assailed by the poultrymen that he has a Centennial turkey that he will send home in a Centennial basket for a Centennial dinner.

AN ITEM FOR FISHERMEN.—If any animal but a fish were allowed to die a lingering death by suffocation, or should be drowned, people would be quite unwilling to eat the meat of such an animal, and would consider it an imposition if a provision dealer should send such things for their tables. And yet it is usual when fish are caught to leave them without air (breathing in their way), and they die an unnatural death, after a struggle perhaps for hours. No one seems to think their fish is injured by this suffering. Nevertheless it is. So that if anyone has no thought for the unnecessary suffering of the fish, he ought to kill it instantly, out of regard to his own stomach. He would find a great improvement in the quality. Strike the fish a sharp blow just back of the eyes, or with a knife divide the backbone. We have called attention to this before, but are reminded by a friend that it is not generally understood.

TO EXTINGUISH LAMPS, &c.—A correspondent of an English paper says: "Turn the flame up to full power, then blow a sharp puff horizontally across the top of the funnel, when the light will not only be extinguished, but there will be no after smoke—the formerly ignited wick will be extinguished by its own carbonic acid gas. On leaving my office at night I thus turn up the flaming wick, and with a grateful gladness that the desk labors of the day (and night) are over, give a side way of the hat past the chimney, which draws up the flame from contact with the wick, and the light is gone, and with no after smell. This cannot be too widely circulated.

Lamps become incrustated inside with settlings from the oil, and ordinary washing will not remove it. Take soap suds and fill the lamp about one-third full; then put in a little sharp sand, and shake vigorously. A few minutes will remove every particle.

DOWN IN LUZERNE.—From the Scranton City Journal: Work was resumed at the Coal Brook mines of the Del. & Hud. C. Co., at Carbondale, on Tuesday.

Fred W. Gunster and F. A. Besmish have been chosen delegates to the Democratic State Convention from this city.

The project for a new county in upper Luzerne is destined to fail at this session of the Legislature. The project for a rotary court in the county is being pushed, but does not meet with general favor.

James Fenner, of Moscow, was attacked by three highway robbers, while walking from this city to Dunmore on Tuesday evening. They robbed him of his watch and all other valuables they could find. There is no clue to the perpetrators of this dastardly outrage.

The extensive carriage manufactory of Wm. Blume, at the Hyde Park end of the Lackawanna avenue bridge, was destroyed by fire about midnight on Friday night. The fire caught in the back end of the main building, probably from the stove, and speedily spread to the other two buildings. A large portion of the contents was saved. The loss is about $10,000; insured for $5,800.

One of the Sisters of Charity at the St. Cecilia's academy in this city, known as "Sister Celestine," died on Saturday. Her name before she became a religious was M. Gorman, of Friendsville, Susquehanna county, and she was about 39 years of age. She was a favorite at the academy, beloved by all the students. Her funeral was attended at the St. Vincent's cathedral on Monday morning. The immense building was crowded to its utmost, and the solemn services were conducted by Bishop O'Hara, assisted by seventeen priests.

A fire in the Twelfth Ward on Monday night destroyed the store and two dwelling houses belonging to John Gibson, a dwelling of John Shea and another of Mary Nealon, together with several barns, &c. The loss is estimated at about $10,000, a large proportion of which is covered with insurance. The firemen were promptly on the spot, but were unable to check the progress of the flames owing to a lack of water. While they were vigorously at work, however, they were assaulted with showers of stones, from a class of people who seem determined to give the devouring element full sway. This is the third time our firemen have been attacked in like manner, while doing their duty.

DEATH OF REV. CHARLES E. McILVAINE.—The sudden death of Rev. Charles E. McIlvaine, which occurred at the Parsonage, in this place, Tuesday evening, 23d inst., at 6 o'clock, shocked the entire community. He had been suffering only two weeks from an attack of typhoid pneumonia, first brought on by a cold taken while attending to duties in an adjoining Parish.

The physicians in attendance were confident of his recovery, but a sudden change took place at the time already mentioned and he expired peacefully. Rev. Mr. McIlvaine was aged 37 years, son of the late distinguished and beyleved Bishop McIlvaine. He was a highly cultivated gentleman, having graduated at Kenyon College, Ohio, in 1837, and in addition travelled on the Continent of Europe, where his unusual qualities of observation, were brought into active operation, enabling him in after years to put into practical use the results of his experience. He took charge of this Parish of Christ Church, in the spring of 1874, and from the day which he entered upon his duties as pastor, he endeared himself to our people. Always genial, faithful, prompt and generous, every action bespoke in him a man, whose example was indeed worthy to be followed, whose teachings were for the good of the immortal soul, whose practices led into ways of pleasantness and paths of peace. As a pastor he was beloved by the entire congregation, who are heart-stricken at their irreparable loss. Modest as becomes a mind highly cultivated, yet firm when necessary, he did the Master's work thoroughly, and has at last gone to receive the reward of a faithful servant. It is a sad announcement to make, that he was thus stricken down in the prime of life, when everything seemed so auspicious. He leaves a young wife and two little children, an aged mother and several sisters to mourn the loss of a kind husband, son and brother. The funeral services took place at Christ Church, Thursday, 24th inst., at 3:30 p. m. The body was taken to Wilmington and there interred.—Bradford Argus.

A GREAT NATIONAL WORK.—The Centennial History of the United States, from the discovery of the American Continent to the close of the First Century of American Independence. By James D. McCabe, Author of "A Manual of General History," "The Great Republic," &c., &c. There has long been a great and universally felt want of a History of the United States suitable for general use. This want is now being supplied by The National Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, who have issued a handsome volume, styled "The Centennial History of the United States," by James D. McCabe, a well-known historical writer. This work will, undoubtedly, take rank as the Standard History of the United States. It is no dry mass of details—no bombastic effort to inflame the national pride, but is a clear, vivid and brilliant narrative of the events of our history, from the discovery of the American Continent down to the present time. It traces the evidences of that mysterious race, the first occupants of our country, and gives a most interesting account of the Indians of North America, from the time of the coming of the white men. The voyages of Columbus, the explorations of the different nations of Europe and the final occupation and conquest of the land by England, are told with graphic power.

Every step of our colonial history is traced with patient fidelity, and the sources of those noble and we trust, enduring institutions which have made our country free and great, are shown with remarkable clearness. The causes of our great struggle for independence are told with a logical force and ability unsurpassed in any work of the day. Then follows a clear and succinct account of the formation of the Federal Constitution; the establishment of the Union; the course of affairs until the breaking out of the Second War with England; and a full and comprehensive account of that War and its results. The events of our career from the close of that contest to the commencement of the Civil War, follow in their order. The history of the Civil War is related with intense vigor, and with a strict fidelity to truth. The author pleads the cause of no party or section. He states facts, points out the lessons which they teach, and appealing to neither passion nor political feeling, trusts to the good sense of his countrymen to sustain his views. The book contains an Appendix, giving an account of the approaching Centennial Exhibition. It is comprised in one large, handsome octavo volume of 925 pages, and contains 442 fine engravings on steel and wood of historical personages and scenes. The price is so low that all can afford to purchase a copy, and each subscriber is presented with a superb lithographic engraving of the Centennial Exhibition Buildings and Grounds. It is sold by subscription only, and the publishers want agents in every county.

THE NEW TOWN HALL AT AYER.—This elegant structure is now complete. In beauty of design it surpasses anything of its kind in the State. Constructed of brick and dark marble it is as permanent as it is charming. The English architects have adorned it, in subdued colors, which please without tiring the eye. Dr. J. C. Ayer built and gave it to the town in acknowledgment of the distinction they conferred upon him in taking his name. Although it is a generous gift, still the hearty good wishes of a whole people of greater value and the generous donor has doubtless secured them.—Groton (Mass.) Journal.

WHAT IS GREAT ENGLISH GREEN REGIO GLASS? It is a liquid Linctum for Hoarse and stable use. A valuable combination, discovered by a celebrated English chemist and horse-farmer. Was introduced in the United States in the year 1854, and since that time, by its great success, in the cure of diseases, it has won for itself that world wide reputation it so richly deserves, and now stands at the head of all linctums prepared.

AS A FAMILY MEDICINE. It has already gained the confidence and admiration of thousands of households for its many cures of diseases were external applications are of so much importance. It is especially admired as a family remedy for its peculiar chemical combination, possessing no harsh ingredients, like the tincture of Cayenne or red-pepper, of which cheap and valueless linctums are so commonly composed, which increase instead of diminish the inflammation, making it of a more speedy cure for

AYRE'S CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The few compositions which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as "AYRE'S Cherry Pectoral." It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvelous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all the affections of the Throat and Lungs that can be cured by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, the cure being so prompt if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the remedy and prompt relief of the members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. Do not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

AYRE'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR. TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disquietude, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often restores the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. This healthy, wet or sticky hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair renews with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resumes their original color. Its operation is so sure and harmless, it cures dandruff, keeps the hair cool, and keeps the scalp clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible. As a dressing for ladies' hair, the Vigor is prized for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft texture and richness of tone it imparts.
