THE DATE OF EASTER.-A great many ex cellent people here and in England have been much perturbed respecting, the date of Eastr Sunday in the present year. They have been brought up in a belief that it is to be ascertain ed by a simple little rule that connects it with the first full moon after the vernal equipox. Tried by this rule the date, should be April 9 traditionary beliefs are to go for nothing and Easter day, Lent, and all the moveable feasts of the church can be shoved shead a whole week at the will of the almanac makers. A great deal can be said on both sides, even at this late day, notwithstanding the decision of the council of Nice in the fourth century, and the reformation of the calendor in the sixteenth.

The fact is that the popular methods of find ing Easter day are something like the magic balls in the Der Freishutz legend; sixty times they hit, thrice they go astray. There are rules which are accurate, but they are too cumbrous to be carried in the memory of any except mathematicians. The good fathers of the church who contrived the Prayer book tables, did excellent service and it is scarcely worth while to go behind their work. Their tables yield April 16 as the date of next Easter Sunday to any one who will take the trouble to study out "Dominical letters" and "golden numbers" A wise Frenchman did, indeed, draw up a similar scheme of tables and urged its adoption on the church. This table was founded on the full moons, as is the popular rule. But the schemes of Perc Meliton found little favor with othe church; and as for astronomers they declared that no new plan was good for anything till somebody would declare where on the earth the moon was to be observed.

CENTENNIAL ENTERPRISE—IS IT A SCHEME TO BETRAY THE INNOCENT?—The following is the text of a circular which is being spread of er the country, doubtless with a view to induce girls to go to Philadelphia for the most villainous purpose:

Miss —, our agent has been through your own this month, sent specially by us to gather the names of suitable young ladies to whom we propose to give employment for at least lour months during the coming summer. We, of course, want comely and respectable looking people, and your name is on our agent's report. We have been selected by the Centennial committee to engage for them at least two hundred young ladies for the purpose of attending to the flower stands, act as coshiers in the several refreshment departments, sell tickets for the grand elevator take charge of news stands sell pictures, guide books, &c., attend to and water fountsies. fountains, and many other light and respectable situations. Besides paying you well, say from 88 to $15 per week, including your meals, you will have a fine opportunity of seeing the grand Centennial exhibition every day. You will therefore see the necessity of replying early, as we want to engage everybody we want by the middle of April and thinkleyer them therefore. middle of April, and then have them thoroughly drilled and posted by the time the exhibition pens. We have decided to select young ladies from out of town, vecanise the neighboring cit les should be benefitted as well as Philadelphia. Of course your parents will object to your leaving home. It would therefore be best for you PRINTING. to say nothing about this until you are here commencing the day after you get here.

The letter is undoubtedly calculated to lead hand or printed to order. young girls into some sort of disreputable net, and no attention should be paid to any of that those who are seeking to destroy them.

The largest just below Mather's, walking upon the track, the passenger train whistled him off and he stepped upon the opposite track. Just then a coal train coming south whistled him off, and in the confusion of the moment he stepped again upon the track he had left, when the pilot of the locomotive instantly struck him.-The back part of his head was crushed in and two ribs broken, and he was pitched by the blow into the bank, killing him instantly. The Cassimeres, Black Mohairs, Black Alpacas, and took place on Sunday last. Mr. Soper was a quiet and pleasant old gentleman, who resided with a son in this place, and the unfortunate ending of his life is regretted by all who knew him.—Bradford Argus.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT .- A young man by the name of Streetor stopping with James Fivie, in Smithfield, while cutting wood about one hundred rods from the house, was hit on the head by a falling limb, breaking a hole through the skull and knocking bim down. After recovering somewhat, he started for the house where he arrived some three hours after he had left it. Judging from the amount of work that he had done, he must have been hurt shortly after he had commenced work, in following his back track, the prints of where he had fallen in the snow some sixteen times, on his way to the house. Dr. Cowell was called to dress the wound, and found the skull so fractured that he had to remove a portion of it, and trepan with silver. We learn that he is doing well and bids fair to recover. - Towarda Joornal.
