

Town, County, and Variety.

Many a man has ruined his eyesight by sitting around in barrooms looking for work.

Sunday before last snow was falling and the ground freezing while last Sunday the thermometer stood at 85 degrees in the shade.

It is suggested that if some folks desire to do something extraordinary to celebrate the centennial year, they had better pay their debts.

The Tunkhannock Republican says that a gentleman of that place has fifteen hundred bushels of very fine potatoes which he offers to sell at fifteen cents per bushel.

C. E. Uptegrove, boot and shoe maker, has just procured a new style of last, which is not called "Centennial," but over which he does make a first class fit, of finest finish.

The letting of the pews in the M. E. Church, by a committee detailed for that purpose, will take place on Saturday, May 13th, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m., and 12 m., and 4 and 6 o'clock p. m.

Rev. I. T. Walker, P. E., will hold Quarterly Meeting at the M. E. Church next Saturday and Sabbath. Preaching Saturday, at 2 p. m.; Sunday morning and evening at the usual hours of service.

The Women's Union Temperance Prayer Meeting will be held on Wednesday, (today) May 10th, at 8 p. m., at the residence of Mrs. M. S. Wilson. Those interested will please take notice of the change from Thursday to Wednesday.

A public temperance meeting will be held in the audience room of the M. E. church on Monday evening the 15th inst., commencing at half past seven. The exercises will consist of singing, declamations, and recitations by the young people and children. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

It is very evident, from the long epistles on "Woman's rights," signed "Nesbit" (she that was a splinter) in the Montrose Republican, that the bundle of "edged tools" which manufactures those documents never was married in her life, and that she is just as ignorant of the "rights of a female" as a babe unborn.

We copy from the Scranton Times the following notice of Willis D. Hager, son of Nelson Hager, of New Milford, this county:

Mr. Willis D. Hager, who recently removed to the New York office of the D. L. & W. Supply Department, has been put in charge of the lumber interests of the corporation, and will return with his family to this city at an early day. His headquarters will be here.

We copy the following from the Allegheny Democrat, published at Wellsville, N. Y., and we conclude from it that Mr. Sterrett, who was rector of St. Paul's church, Montrose, for a few months, is now located at that place:

We notice that Rev. J. McBride Sterrett, rector of St. John's church, has returned from his somewhat extended wedding trip South. It seems to us that his step is more buoyant than of old.

Quarterly meeting at Rush on Sunday last was a notable time. Rev. P. Holbrook, of Leraysville, preached, an excellent sermon to a crowded house. The pastor, was in his glory, and well he might be, for his people rally around him nobly. Elk Lake said, with grand melody,

"Welcome home beloved pastor,
Earnest prayers come not in vain;
God has heard and in His mercy
Brought thee to thy charge again."

The month of May is set apart by the Catholic church as a season of devotion and homage to the Virgin Mary. In all the churches the altar which is erected in her honor is ornamented with numerous lights and a profusion of flowers. Her statue is clothed with a veil of white or blue, and on its head is placed a handsome crown. Services are held every evening in most of the churches, and in some of them, at the end of the month, a cantata is sung by young girls, which concludes with the crowning of a May queen, typical of the virgin.

The Executive Committee, on the erection of a Soldiers' Monument have fixed upon Thursday (to-morrow) as a day to fit the ground on the Public Green for that object, and all who can come or send a hand to assist, are earnestly solicited to do so. If by contributing such a day's work twelve or thirteen years ago, you could have cleared yourselves from a draft, we doubt if there would have been standing room within the borough limits for those who would have been on hand. Let us see how many are ready now to give a peck of labor in honor of the boys who fought our battles for us.

The practice of stealing free rides on the different railroads has become a nuisance, and has resulted in great loss of life and in the maiming of reckless people. The general superintendents of the Philadelphia and Reading and Lehigh Valley railroads have issued orders instructing their special officers to arrest all persons offending. An act of the legislature fixes the penalty for the offence at five dollars and costs, and five or ten days imprisonment. The companies have resolved to use the full power of the law in all cases in order to stop the dangerous practice, many accidents having been occasioned by parties attempting to jump on or off moving trains. If the law was generally enforced many lives and limbs would be saved thereby.

Wednesday morning, when the Erie railway emigrant train had got about two miles west of Binghamton, a little English girl, five years old, who had been left out upon the platform to play, fell off. The cars went right along, and nobody jumped off to look for the helpless little creature until the train arrived at Hooper. There word of the mishap was telegraphed back to Binghamton, and a man was sent to find the missing one. Meanwhile, however, she had been discovered by some trackmen. She was not in the least hurt, but feeling quite badly because her "mammy" didn't wait. Her father went back and got her, and she was forwarded on the day express to catch the emigrant.—Deposit Courier.

M. C. Mercur, esq., has been appointed Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for the division consisting of the counties of Bradford, Susquehanna, Sullivan, and Wyoming, vice G. D. Montanye, dec'd.

An exchange asks: "What are our young men doing?" We can't answer for the rest of the country, but around here they are engaged mainly in trying to lead a nine-dollar existence on a seven-dollar salary.

Remember the Musical entertainment for the benefit of Frank Beman at the Court House on Tuesday evening next, May 16th.—The services of Miss Jennie Thompson of New York city, will be substituted for Mr. Krebs of Scranton. We are assured of a rare treat.

In our visit to the jail, yesterday, we found that the long neglected repairs on the doors and window of which we made mention a short time ago, have been made. Had this been done before, it would have saved sheriff White more than $100 in money, beside a large amount of anxiety.

George DeLaMontanye died at the residence of his father, in this place, on Saturday morning, April 29th, aged 39 years. Mr. M. was born in Towanda, October 3, 1836. He was a graduate of Hamilton College of the class of 1856. Admitted to the Bar September 8, 1857. He immediately commenced the practice of his profession, which he continued to the time of his death. For the last few years he was in partnership with Col. Smith. He also occupied the position of U. S. Revenue Collector for this District.—Towanda Journal.

The most remarkable case of fecundity in the range of our knowledge, is that of a heifer belonging to Sylvester Hart, who lives on the Mulford farm, in Bridgewater. On Sunday last this heifer, which was just one year and four days old at the time, gave birth to a calf, perfect in all its parts. This heifer ran with the cow, and was not weaned until January last. If the like of this has occurred since 1776, we would most respectfully desire to be informed, but we think it useless to attempt to beat Susquehanna County this centennial year, in curiosities or monstrosities.

Two very important events in the history of Montrose, took place on Wednesday last, the breaking of ground for the foundation of the County Soldiers' Monument, and the letting of the building of the depot on the Montrose railway at its legitimate terminus on the plank road. The first dirt for the monument was moved by Benjamin Rhineault, and the job of building the depot was taken by A. W. Cooley. We here most emphatically state that there may be one person in this community who will attribute the effect of this to the small cause of the Montrose Republican which has maintained such perfect silence on both subjects, and that person is the "Democratic director" who held an indignation meeting over E. B. Hawley, at Homer's office, a short time ago.

Burglary was committed in three different places in Montrose last Thursday night.—The store of B. C. Sayre was entered and the money draw rifled of $12. The side door of the building was found open in the morning which is where the thief undoubtedly escaped if he did not enter there. A pane of glass was cut out of the front window to G. C. Hill's saloon, for an entrance and about $5 taken from his money draw. The front window to Philip Hahn's meat market being partly down from the top, through which a thief passed and scooped $5 or $6 dollars from the money draw, and also Wallace Hewitt's market was entered but no money found. No clue to the perpetrators of these thefts has yet been obtained.

Through the vigilance of Sheriff White, the escaped prisoner, Mattice, has been captured and was returned to jail in Montrose yesterday. While the Sheriff was out in search of the escaped prisoners he learned of a party, in an incidental way, that Mattice had friends and relatives in Gilboa, Schoharie county, N. Y., and he also succeeded in learning the name of a man by the name of Striker, who was constable there two or three years ago, and about two weeks ago he wrote to Striker to arrest Mattice if he came there, offering a reward of $100 for his delivery at Montrose. On Friday last he received a telegram signed J. D. Mulford, stating, "Striker is dead, authorize me to arrest," and he immediately telegraphed to "arrest" as per the Striker letter. On Saturday Mulford (who appears like a man used to the business), went to the house of a brother-in-law of Mattice, where he came suddenly upon him and arrested him, and immediately telegraphed to Sheriff White of the fact and started with his man. On arriving at Oneonta, N. Y., he lodged him in jail over Sunday. He started from Oneonta on Monday morning and would have arrived at Montrose, Monday afternoon but for delay caused by a smash-up on the railway. He arrived at Binghamton, Monday night, where he placed Mattice in the care and keeping of the Broome county jailor, and yesterday morning, on the 10 o'clock train, he came with him to Montrose, where Sheriff White gave him the next best room in the house, which is the one adjoining the dungeon. Mr. Mulford says that Mattice was desperate and would have taken any opportunity or means almost, to have eluded him. He attempted to throw tobacco or red pepper in Mulford's eyes while the train was passing through the tunnel above Binghamton and made a leap over the seat of the car but his coat tail caught in Mulford's hand which caused him to resume his seat in a very solid manner and hold his breath until the train emerged again into daylight. Sheriff White paid Mr. Mulford his reward of $100, much pleased that his efforts had been successful.—While a very few "Ring-around" political hucksters, have been dulling their razors in whisperings about negligence, Sheriff White has been keeping his own counsel and has demonstrated that he is a very efficient officer. We learn that he has another trap set so that Wood will undoubtedly awake some morning and find himself in the immediate company of Mattice again.

The disastrous fire which occurred at Great Bend in June last and which was attended by many of the firemen from this city, has in one sense been of advantage to the town, for nearly all the frame buildings of which the business portion of the town was composed have been succeeded by substantial and elegant brick blocks. The burned district comprising a tract about 500 feet in length, is on the north side of the business street. It will be remembered that the fire was one of those incendiary affairs for which Great Bend has since become noted, and was first started in the rear of the Lenheim building. It spread rapidly in both directions, and in a short time nearly the entire business portion of the village was destroyed. Commencing at the western portion of the burned district, the first building reconstructed is Bedell's hotel, built of brick, and in the most elegant manner. Mr. Bedell's loss by the fire was about $3,000. Next is George McNamara's brick building, containing McNamara's grocery and the Post-office. Mr. McNamara's loss by the fire was about $1,000. The best of the new buildings come next in order, and is the property of L. S. Lenheim, in whose buildings the original fire started. The plans for this structure were drawn by Mr. T. L. Lacey, of this city. On the first floor, in the western part of the building, is George L. Lenheim's store, in which is kept a stock of dry goods, boots and shoes, and ready-made clothing. The interior arrangement is of novel design, and will compare favorably with anything in this city. The eastern portion of the building is devoted to the bank of Great Bend, of which L. S. Lenheim is President. Both this and the other portion of the building are fitted up with maple and walnut. The second floor of the building will contain the Great Bend Opera House, which for beauty and convenience will surpass any public hall of the kind we have ever seen. Mr. Lenheim lost about $18,000 by the fire. East of this building is the brick block of T. D. Estabrook, containing the drug and grocery store of T. D. Estabrook & Son, and the dry goods store of P. H. Lines & Co.—Next to the Lenheim building, this is the handsomest block in the village. Mr. G. W. Trowbridge, whose wagon manufactory, a little back from Main street, was destroyed by fire, has put up on the ruins a large three-story frame manufactory, devoted to a planing mill and wagon work. In addition to these buildings, Mr. Richard Stack will soon erect a block near the Great Bend hotel for his grocery and provision business, and Bridget Doyle will erect a building near by to be occupied as a saloon.—Binghamton Times.

WHITEWASHING.—As the time for cleaning approaches the following receipt for preventing whitewash from adhering to anything that happens to be brushed against it, will be read with interest:

Soak four ounces of glue in a quart of warm water for twenty-four hours, then add a pint of water, place the vessel (tin) in a kettle of hot water over the fire, and agitate the glue until it is thoroughly dissolved and the solution quite clear. Now put five or six pounds of Paris white (costs three cents a pound) into a bucket and add hot water until the mixture is of the consistency of cream. Then mix the glue with it, stir it well and put it on with an ordinary whitewash brush. It is of the most importance that the calcimining mixture be spread smoothly, and if too thick a little hot water should be added. The quantities given above are sufficient for two coats on a large room sixteen feet square. To make a good job two coats should always be applied.—Ez.

GLASS

It is a liquid Liniment for House and stable use. A valuable combination, discovered by a celebrated English chemist and horse-farrier. Was introduced in the United States in the year 1856, and since that time, by its great success, in the cure of diseases, it has won for itself that world wide reputation it so richly deserves, and now stands at the head of all liniments unrivalled.

AS A FAMILY MEDICINE.
It has already gained the confidence and admiration of thousands of households for its many cures of diseases were external applications are of so much importance. It is especially adapted as a family remedy for its peculiar chemical combination, possessing no harsh ingredients, like tincture of Cayenne or red pepper, or which cheap and valueless liniments are largely composed, which instead of diminishing the inflammation, making it of a more speedy cure for
