Haven dollars and fifty cents is what it eggts to kick a boy in New Milford. -The Lehigh Valley Railroad is now runming six passenger trains each way, daily. -The Scranton Times, May 18th; says there is no longer any doubt about the prevalence of small pox at Hyde Park. Few cases are reported. The third rail is already laid two thirds of the distance toward Buffulo from West Junction. Twelve hundred car loads of rails will be required for the entire job.

The success of the canvasser for this pa per will be understood in the fact that he added one hundred and five new names to our list in ten days, closing with Saturday last.

tel Brewster to drive our (the borough) oxen. In other words the 'Town Council have elected him Street Commissioner, at a salary of $2 25 per day.

The ladies of Montrose and vicinity are requested to meet at the Engine House on Monday, May 29th, to assist in forming decorations for the soldiers' graves. Bring all the flowers rossible.

The recent election on the question of erecting a new township of portions of Salem and South Canaan, in Wayne county, has been approved by the Court, and the new township named "Lake." -Next Tuesday, May 30.is Decoration Day and also the meeting of the General Committee on County Centennial Celebration. Let all interested bear it in mind and govern them selves accordingly.

B. C. Sayre and wife have just returned from Florida, very much delighted with their lars in any one payment. It is nearly as large sojourn. The young alligators which they as a quarter, and is just like it except the figbrought to Dr. W. W. Smith for his aquarian furnish great amusement to small boys as well as those of larger growth.

--- We have failed to receive from the mem ber of the Democratic County Committee in s number of the townships and boroughs, the names of three persons for a Vigilance Committee. We desire to publish the names of this committee at once. Let the names be sent us immediately without fail.

F. B. Chandler has been making some fine improvements about his residence by moving his wagon barn, which fronted on the should be set for her out of the proceeds of a street, to the rear end of his lot. It not only | single piece of real estate sold by creditors of improves his own premises but also those of her husband. The point at issue was whether his neighbors, adding greatly to the whole ap pearance of that part of the town.

-Information is wanted of James McGasry, a lunatic, who wandered away from his home in Honesdale, May 11th. He had on a pair of pepper and salt pants whitish coat stained with car grease, and a brown cotton shirt. Any person having knowledge of his whereabouts is requested to detain him and immediately notify C. B. O'Neill, Honesdale, Pa. Neighboring papers please copy.

- Unlike most retiring officers, Mr. E. C. Fordham, our obliging Postmaster, has fixed up the office room for his (Democratic) successor in a manner, of which the citizens of Montrose should be proud. For convenience to the public as well as the official himself, and neatness of appearance, it is not excelled in any town or city. There are those more extensive but none more convenient and symmetrical,

-A lady who has visited the centennial and consequently has valuable experience, says that those who go there must not wear any article they do not expect to ruin entirely. The grounds are five miles from the city and the streets are deep with dust, which goes through clothing like a sieve. Ladies are advised to wear linen suits and hats should be as near dust color as possible and very plainly trimmed.

-Mr. Daniel Clark, for the last six years proprietor of a saloon and restaurant near the depot, died at about 6 o'clock last evening, from a hemorrhage, probably caused by the bursting of a blood-vessel. He had been troubled for several years with chronic rheumatism, but was apparently in his ordinary health yesterday.-At about 5 o'clock he took a dose of medicine, which he was in the habit of using, and commenced bleeding soon afterwards.—Binghamton Times, May 18th.

--- While at Ararat last week we had the pleasure of meeting a boy of "ye olden time," Mr. Nuthaniel West. Mr. W. is in his 88th year and as he expresses it, "is as lively as a boy." He can jump up and crack his feet together as nimble as any one. It is doubtful whether another man of his age can be found in this section of the country, who possesses the vigor and activity of Mr. West. We hope to see him among the honored and invited guests at the County Centennial Celebration.

- As the temperature will soon warrant bathing, a little advice may be productive of good results. It has long been known that it is injudicious for anyone to go into the water, to bathe just after eating a full meal, but it is not so well known that it is dangerous. This latter fact, was demonstrated by the recent under any special act of assembly for that purdeath in a bath of a boy thirteen years old. pose, whenever any such bridge has been or He had never had a fit, and is believed to have been in perfect health. When found in the water the crown of his head was just above the surface and he was standing in a stooping position, with his face just under the water .-At the place where he was, the water was only ature of the water was seventy-five degrees .-The medical testimony disclosed the fact that the deceased had eaten heartily just before entering the water, or at least had not given his quantity of food, and when found his throat and month were full. The opinion was expressed in the medical testimony, and endorsed by the verdict of the jury, that death resulted from epilepsy, brought on by the dangerous practice of entering the water immediately af- to issue bonds therefor in sums not exceeding ter eating a meal.

The theremometer on Sunday hight last stood at 86 degrees, while on Monday night it fell to 32, only a matter of difference of 54 degrees in a little over twenty-four hours.

-Mr. Leonard Searle is excavating for an addition on the rear of his new brick store on Public Avenue, and the earth is used for grading on Turnpike street, which is making a substantiai improvement.

-He took something to irrigate his stomach. It flung wild sensations into the dome of his faculties. He walked waveringly a furlong on Public Avenue. His knees smote him like those of Belshazzar, and he lay down as one who was dead. His pillow were two papers of Aroma coffee and his tombstone a jug

-The concert by Dickenson's Orchestra, for the benefit of Frank Beman, was well attended and generally enjoyed by the lovers of instrumental music. The parts were all rendered in an artistic manner. The only draw back was a little monotony in the programme caused by the absence "on account of sickness" of Miss Jennie Thompson, which caused considerable disappointment. The particular features of the concert were a picolo solo by Mr. Geo. Stevenson and a trombone solo by Mr. Frank Beman, both of which were encored.

The twenty-cent piece is a feature of the new circulation medium which will prove a novelty. This coin was authorized by the act of March 31, 1875, and has never appeared in public except in rare instances, when it has been an object of great curiosity. Its weight is five grains, and it is a legal tender at its nominal value for any sum not exceeding five dolures denoting the denomination, and it has a smooth instead of milled edge; the latter renders it easily distinguishable by the touch, though at the first glance it could easily be mistaken for the quarter.

-A case was decided by the supreme court recently in which Margaret Hufman, of Berks county, a widow, claimed the personal property of her husband, amounting to $90 25, and fur; ther claimed under the act of April 14, 1851, that the balance of the $300 to which she was entitled, exempt from all claims of creditors, or (not having complied with the requirements of the law in having the property appraised and declared to be undivisible)the widow could claim her share of the proceeds of the sale as part of her $300. Judge Gordon delivered the opinion declaring she cannot and the "claim favors, and one more than merited. must be treated as unfounded and negatory."

--- The famous Te'ford Guards, formerly known as the Telford Zouaves, of Susquehanna Depot, took part in the military parade at Scranton, on Tuesday, with Capt. Smith, Lieuts. Hall and Langford, and forty-seven men. The Times says of them:

"This was the most business-like company in line, being fully equipped with knapsacks and blankets, and wearing a very handsome yet serviceable uniform. To anticipate, somewhat, we must accord to this company the palm for fine soldierly bearing and excellence in drill.-There were no companies upon the ground that compared with it, save the McClellan Rifles of Pittston."

This company was named in honor of Col. Wm. H. Telford, who is now Deputy Sheriff of this county, under Shertff White, and who is the highest in military rank of any officer in the county. The above high compliment shows that the honor is deservedly worn.

diers' Monument would probably be laid on friends. She had been a devoted follower of Decoration Day, and the Monument completed to be unveiled the Fourth of July. We are sorry to learn that such will not be the case as the building committee claim that they cannot get any monument builder to agree to have it completed by that time without additional expense. It is now understood that the corner stone will be laid on the Fourth of July instead of the Thirtieth of May. We hope there will he no necessity of announcing any farther delay. The work upon the foundation is progressing. Notwithstanding there has been what old fashioned people would have called a "spell," upon this enterprise for several years past, yet we are not now inclined to believe that the committee who have in charge the construction of the monument and the dis bursement of the fund, have anything in view but the best interests of the Association, and we shall patiently await the development of their energies.

A bridge bill has been approved by the governor which is of general importance. It makes it the duty of the county commissioners in the several counties to rebuild and reconstruct all bridges heretofore built or that may hereafter be erected by the county commissioners of any of the counties, whether the same have been or shall be constructed under the general laws relating to roads and bridges or shall hereafter be blown down, destroyed, partially destroyed or swept away by floods, fresh ets, ice, storm, fire or other casualty, at the expense of the county wherein such bridge was located. The bill also requires the commission. ers to pay the expenses of rebuilding any such three feet four inches deep, while the boy's bridge out of the county treasury in the usual height was four feet nine inches. The temper- manner. A proviso declares that after the completion of any such bridge it shall be subject to view and inspection as is provided for in the act to which this is a supplement. For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions food time to digest. He had vomited a large of this act the county commissioners of the respective counties of this commonwealth are hereby authorized to borrow any sum of mon ey not exceeding the constitutional limitations, if necessary for the purposes aforesaid, at a rate of interest not exceeding six per centum, and -It is stated in the Railway World a journal of high rank in railroad matters, that the Narrow Guage Railways are attracting much attention of late, by reason of the fact that old wide guage roads, are to be effected materially by these little rivals. At first old railroad officials and others interested in such enterprises, looked upon these three feet roads, here and there constructed, as mere playthings, compared with their costly wide guage roads, but experjence has opened their eyes to a different view of the subject. They now witness the fact that these narrow guage roads are being constructed in many parts of the country during these hard times, while the building of broad guage roads is wholly suspended. They moreover ascertain that these three feet roads can be built and operated at a very much less expense, and are destined to damage the investments in wider and more expensive railways. Gradually these little cheap rival roads will be made from town to town, and being so conven iently and economically operated, they must of necessity lessen the business over oth rand more expensive lines. Through trains on the old roads cannot accommodate local travel as well as purely local trains however narrow their gauge, and when more of them are operated they must certainly damage the business of older and more costly roads.

-Through the zeal of our Congressman, Hon. Joseph Powell, and his personal energy in behalt of his constituency in Susquehanna county, the following bill introduced into the House of Congress has been read twice, and has now been referred to Mr. McDougle, of New York, as a sub-committee, who has signified to Mr. Powell that he shall report favorably and we are informed by a private letter from Mr. Powell that he has no doubt that it will pass both branches of Congress. The following is a copy of the bill as printed by order of the House.

Mr. Powell, on leave, introduced the following bill: A BILL donating one condemned cannon and carriage to the Soldiers' Monument Association of Susquehanna County, Pennsyl vania.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of War be, and he is hereby, authorized to deliver, if the same can be done without detriment to the Government, to the Soldiers' Monument Association of Susquehanna County, Pennsylvania, one condeinned cannon and carriage, to be permanently stationed at the base of a monument now being erected to the fallen soldiers of said county.

Should the above bill pass, as we have no doubt it will, for it has an honest, earnest and influential supporter in the person of Congressman Powell, it will be the first substantial recognition the brave boys of Susquehanna county have received in the way of Congressional

-The funeral service of Miss Mattie Chase was held in the Presbyterian church, last Monday afternoon and was largely atttended by friends from this town, Binghamton and elsewhere. The service was conducted by R. Ives, Rev. J. A. Jerome and C. S. Alexander. The burial took place in the new cemetery, in the Village Borough. Miss Mattie was a young lady of a very extended acquaintance, and posessed of that social friendly disposition, which made her dearly beloved, and her company desirable. The expression of love and sympathy of friends, was manifest in the large variety of floral tributes, all of which were beautiful, and several quite expensive. The bier on which the casket rested, while in the church, was covered with flowers, and the grave was also lined with beautiful flowers and evergreens. This was of no account in itself, as the slumbers of the beloved would have been just as peaceful, except as a manifestation of - We informed our readers a few weeks the love and high esteem in which the departed ago that the corner stone of the County Sol- and the bereaved family was held by their Christ for several years, and at the time of her illness was a teacher in the Presbyterian Sabbath School in this place, where she had endeared herself, not only to the class, but the entire school.
