R. bridge at New Milford Borough, but a passing train was stopped upon the bridge while assistance was procured and the obstructions removed. No bridges were carried away in New Miltord borongh, but cellars were flooded, streets and gardens badly washed, and fences and sidewalks floated from their moorings. -----The Decoration ceremonies on Tuesday, May 30th, in Montrose, were of a character that reflects credit upon our community and all who participated, and are well calculated to perpetuate the memory of the brave boys who haid their lives on their country's altar and in the right spirit. The day was magnificent and the attendance very large. At 5 o'clock a. m., the bells were rung and at 5:30 the soldiers and sailors of the late war assembled at the Court House, and preceded by the No. 2 Drum Corps, marched to the cemetery and planted flags and flowers at the head of the grave of each soldier. The business places and many of the residences in town were very generously decorated with flags. At 2:30 p.m., the procession formed at the Court House, consisting of the No. 2 Drum Corps, Montrose Fire Department Montrose Cornet Band, the Sunday Schools from the various churches, Knights of Pythias, a company of Soldiers with cartridge boxes and muskets and other citizens and marched in fine style to the music of the Drum Corps and Band, to the cemetery, where the ceremony of strewing the soldier's graves with flowers was duly performed. After which the firing party discharged three volleys of musketry in. due army regulation form. The procession then formed about "Memorial Cross," which was also duly decorated with flowers and wreaths in honor of those comrades who sleep in unknown graves in the various camping grounds and battle fields. The exercises were here opened by music from the Baud, followed by a memorial ode from the Quartette club; prayer by Rev. W. L. Thorpe ; a hymn by the whole assemblage; a very well received and appropriate oration from Rev. Dr. J. E. Chesshire; another hymn by the assemblage, closing with a fine piece of music from the Cornet Band. The procession then reformed and marched back to the Court House where it was duly disbanded. At 7 p. m., the Soldiers headed by No. 2 Drum Corps, marched to the cemetery and took up the flags, returning to the Court Honse, where they gave some amusing specimens of army drill, which closed the scenes of the most appropriate and interesting Decoration ceremonies it has been our fortune ever to ness. Captain H. F. Beardsley, as Marshal of the day, performed his duties in a very satisfactory manner.

music, and for securing a place for future meetings and rehearsals. The committee for the selection of music met at the house of Mrs. J. C. Biddle, on Wednesday evening, May 31st. Unfortunately previous engagements of some members, prevented a full meeting, but those present decided upon the following, viz : Whittier's Centennial Hymn, The Star Spangled Banner, America, Hail Columbia, and Old Hundred-the latter to the hymn beginning, "With one consent let ail the earth," to be followed by the Doxology "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." It is hoped that this invitation will meet with a patriotic response from who are willing to sid in forming a grand chorus for this memorial occasion. W. H. COOPER, Sec.

COUNTY CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION .- The Seneral Committee on the County Centennial Celebration, met at the Court House, on Tuesday. May 30th, as per adjournment, and was called to order by the chairman, General W. H. Jessup. The business of the meeting as announced by the chair, was hearing reports from the various committees. Sister Vanauken had been a christian for many years and a sufferer from loss of health for some years. She bore her affliction with great patience. Her religious experience was bright and confirming. While suffering very much she would repeatedly call for singing.-She wanted to hear the new pieces and then the old songs of Zion, "Shall We Know Each Other There," "O, That Beautiful World," and others like them were favorites. As the time of her departure drew nigh she called her family to her and gave them the parting counsel and clasping her hands said "Precious Jesus" and took her rest in heaven. She leaves a husband and three children and many relatives and friends in deep mourning." H. WESTON. Brooklyn, May 31, 1876
