

Town, County, and Variety.

Semi-annual election of Montrose Fire Co. No. 2, on Friday evening next.

We ask our readers to excuse any lack of local mention in our columns this issue.

Hewitt's Meat Market has been moved into the basement of B. C. Sayre's store, on Public Avenue, where Mr. Hewitt, himself, will always be found to wait on his friends.

An exchange tells of a man who placed two hundred potato bugs in a bottle and sprinkled lime over them.

The Pennsylvania board of centennial managers announce that the Pennsylvania state centennial building has been completed.

The Nicholson Examiner says that a serious accident occurred to Mrs. Stephen Breed, of Booklyn, while she and her husband were on their way to that place on Wednesday, June 21.

A Philadelphia correspondent writes that the cheese and butter factory on the Centennial grounds is 116 feet long, and is divided into three apartments, illustrative of the American cheese factory and creamery system.

WHEREAS, A widespread and persistent effort is now being made, by the enemies of the Sabbath, to impair its sanctity, and override its laws; and, whereas, this effort is especially directed to change the decision of the Commissioners of the Centennial Exposition, and to open the gates to the public on the Lord's Day; therefore Resolved, 1. That we hereby declare anew our fidelity to this God-given institution, handed down to us from the fathers, and pledge our influence for its perpetual maintenance.

Resolved, 2. That we recognize with grateful satisfaction the position taken by the Centennial Commissioners, and maintained hitherto, in relation to the observance of the Sabbath on the Centennial grounds, and hereby express our earnest desire that the same loyalty to God and the laws of the Commonwealth may characterize their counsels and decisions to the end.

Resolved, 3. That a copy of these resolutions, signed by the officers of this meeting, be forwarded without delay to the Commissioners in Philadelphia, and that the same be reported for publication in the papers at the county seat.

M. D. THAYER, Secretary. E. A. PRATT, Chairman. New Milford, June 30, 1876.

Lost.—In Montrose on the evening of June 26th, a Russia leather pocket book, containing $15 and some small change. The finder will be suitably rewarded by returning it to this office.

BASE BALL.—On Saturday, June 24th, the Pastimes, of Silver Lake, played a game of base ball with the Hawleytons, of Hawleyton, on the grounds of the latter club, which resulted in a victory for the home club.

BOGUS SILVER QUARTERS.—The industrious artisans who assume government functions for livelihood have invented a counterfeit of the silver quarter, now so generally in circulation.

Strawberries are giving place to raspberries, and the latter are beginning to come into market.

There have gone into market from the Delaware Peninsula, over the Delaware Railroad, about 4,710,000 quarts of strawberries since the opening of the season, on May 29th.

The Grand County Centennial.

WILL IT BE EXCELLED ONE HUNDRED YEARS HENCE?

THE TOWN FILLED WITH PEOPLE AND ALL ABLAZE WITH BANDS, MILITARY, CIVIC SOCIETIES, AND CITIZENS.

12,000 PEOPLE CELEBRATE THE ONE HUNDRETH ANNIVERSARY OF OUR NATION'S BIRTH.

We have only time and space to simply allude to one of the grandest spectacles ever witnessed in Susquehanna county without being able, this week, to give any detail of the grand County Centennial Celebration which took place yesterday at Montrose.

It is estimated that from 12,000 to 15,000 people were in attendance and the day was one which will pass into history as well worthy of our county and the occasion that called it forth. Everything was conducted in order and with the deepest interest.

At a public meeting held at the Presbyterian church in New Milford, for the purpose of strengthening the hands of the Commissioners of the Centennial Exposition, in their resolution to keep the gates closed to the public on the Lord's Day, Mr. Ezra A. Pratt was called to the chair, and Mr. M. D. Thayer chosen as Secretary.

property of the late Capt. Brennan, on Salem street, Carbondale. The premises are splendidly located on a commanding eminence upon the eastern hillside, and it is proposed to establish a convent and academy there.

Patrick Dougher was killed by the cars on the D. & H. C. Co. R. R. at Olyphant, on Monday morning. He was passing from one coal car to another while the cars were in motion and by a misstep fell under the cars which ran over him killing him almost instantly.

Sheriff Kirkendall on Tuesday took the following prisoners to the penitentiary at Philadelphia: Patrick Kelly, convicted of manslaughter, sentenced to eight years; Michael Kelly, rape, four years; John Norton, assault with intent to kill, three years.

The corner stone of the new Odd Fellows Hall on Lackawanna avenue, will be laid with appropriate ceremonies on Saturday next, July 8th. A parade of the several Odd Fellows lodges will take place previous to the corner-stone laying.

At a German picnic at Dolph's Grove, Dunmore, on Saturday afternoon, a disturbance was created by several roughs, during which Roland Roberts was seriously beaten with a mallet by Chas. Engle. The latter was arrested and held in $500 bail for his appearance at court.

The Democrats in this city had a big ratification jollification of the nomination of Tilden and Hendricks on Thursday evening. Fireworks, firing of cannon, marching, speechifying, &c., made things lively here, and the old time Democratic enthusiasm seemed to have been again fairly aroused.

Ex county treasurer James Courtright, whose trial for embezzlement of state funds was to have taken place last week plead guilty to all the counts on the indictment. By special request of Auditor General Temple, sentence in his case was deferred until September.

It is said that the reason for such a postponement is, that the state authorities want him as a witness in the trial of similar defrauding custodians of public funds in other counties. It does seem, as though in public affairs there is none that doeth good, no not one. "An honest man's the noblest work of God," but politics have become so corrupt, that such a man belongs to no political ring and so cannot be elected to office.—Scranton Journal.
