'OUR FIRST CENTURY."

The book of which we made mention last week, brings vividly to the mind of the general reader the great historic events of the one hundred years of our national existence in a complete and interesting form.

Each fact and event, as well as invention and discovery or improvement, is complete in itself. Its classified index makes it invaluable to all as a ready work of reference—as the events touching our first century may there be found at a glance.

For its convenience and information it should be in every family library, handy for the young as well as the old. In paper, letter, press, illustration, and price it is among the best subscription books I have seen.

Montrose, PA , Aug. 2, 1876. I have examined, with much care, so much of the volume entitled "Our First Century" as has been given Democratic Vigilance Committee.

"Our First Century." by Professor R. M. Devens, is an extraordinary book. It presents to the reader "Memorable Events" in the history of our country, including Political, Military, Mechanical, Social, Scientific, and Commercial Facts. From the specimen cepy, I bandsomely printed and elegantly illustrated. I feel I must place a copy on the shelves of my library. As a book of reference it will be invaluable. The selection of topics appear to be admirably made. I have every reason to believe that this book will be appreciated by all intelligent people. Already it has been very extensively ordered through the agents who are selling it. I cheerfully give it a cordial and earnest recommendation.

Notwithstanding the cry of "bard times," this house informs us that their trade is larger than at any former season. This is easily accounted for by the fact that they always offer the most reliable goods at the same prices that many C. Howard, Rector of St. James church, Elbert houses sell a very inferior grade. The undersigned, residents of the 5th Normal District of Pennsylvania, comprising the counties of Bradford, Lycoming, Potter, Susquehanna, Sullivan, Tioga, and Wyoming, would respectfully represent, that since
