

Town, County, and Variety.

Get registered. Thousands of base deceivers are hung every night on the backs of chairs. The Luzerne Union contains five columns of sheriff sales. Hard times! The house of Ed. Conklin, South Bridgewater, took fire on Sunday afternoon, but was extinguished without much damage being done. Remember that the Tilden and Hendricks Reform Club meets at their room over M. A. Lyon's drug Store this (Wednesday) evening. As the managers of the Hartford Fair failed to furnish us a copy of their premium list in time for this issue, it will be held over till our next. The Honesdale Citizen says, two of the most enterprising tanners in that county have failed, owing to the great depression in their line of business. Judge Ellwell has recently decided, in Columbia county, that repairs to school buildings cannot be properly paid out of the special tax for building purposes. The South Bridgewater neighborhood will picnic at George Decker's grove, on Saturday of next week. The Brewster neighborhood are cordially invited to join them. Philip Hahn, the Avenue butcher, has finished up a neat room in Lathrop's planing mill for his sausage mill, and now runs it by steam. Mr. H. is bound to be up with the times. A picnic will be held on the 7th of Sept. on the fair grounds, in Montrose, for the benefit of the Roman Catholic Building Association. Good music in attendance. All are cordially invited. Rev. G. H. Kirkland, former rector of this parish, gave his old congregation a happy surprise last week by making them a short visit. He officiated in the desk of St. Paul's, on Sunday morning and evening. Mr. J. Groves says that he has a hen that laid four eggs in a day, that is two double yolked ones in twenty-four hours. He showed us two monster eggs that this hen produced, and what is more wonderful she continues to do the same thing every day. A special telegram from Harrisburg to the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin says: "James S. Courtright, ex-Treasurer of Luzerne County, who was convicted recently of embezzling about $20,000 of the State funds while in office, has refunded the money." We are glad there is one, who is unquestionably a citizen of Susquehanna county who would not get down and roll over when the "Texan Ranger" commanded him so to do. We believe that James E. Carmalt, Esq., can go before the voters of Susquehanna county today and take the majority against G. A. Grow. The Wyalusing District Camp Meeting, at Dimock, commenced on Wednesday last, and will close on Friday morning of this week. The attendance has been large each day so far, and on Sunday ten thousand people or more visited the grounds. Each charge is well represented, and much interest is manifested in the religious services. With but one or two exceptions perfect order has prevailed. The Crystal Lake House is one of the finest houses for a summer resort in this part of the country, and is kept in first-class style and the beautiful lake and grove make it much more inviting. Parties going on a picnic or a ride will find it a splendid place, and the charges are very reasonable. Mr. Phinney, the proprietor, is a very accommodating and pleasant landlord, and is always ready to wait on his guests. A Tilden and Hendricks Reform Club was organized at Auburn Center on Thursday night last with the following officers: President, Elijah Crane; Vice-Presidents, Abe White and Patrick Cavanagh; Secretary, Thomas Sheridan; Treasurer, William B. Linabery. A very interesting address was delivered by E. O'Neill, esq., of Montrose, and much enthusiasm was manifested. The club will hold its regular meetings every Saturday evening. The Republicans of Bradford county have nominated the following ticket: Congress—Col. E. Overton, Jr., of Towanda. State Senator—W. T. Davies of Towanda. Representatives—E. Reed Myer of Wysox, James Foster of North Towanda, John N. Gilet of South Creek. Congressional Conference—N. C. Elsbree, J. M. Smith, Nelson Gilbert, John H. Grant, Volney Saxon. Jury Commissioner—T. A. Lee. The grading of the Montrose Railway track was completed to the plank road, its original terminus, yesterday and the track will soon be in readiness so that passengers and freight will be landed at that point instead of at the foot of "Bank Hill." We rejoice to be able to announce this fact and we will raise both hands in commendation of the company for this action. It will be of great advantage to our people in these hard times in several particulars. It will save us 33 1/2 per cent. on carriage of coal and more than that in other expenses. There are those who assert that Mr. Grow said in his delamatory speech against the editor of this paper that he would read the articles if he had the paper. We heard no such thing or he would have been accommodated. But if he did say so, it does not relieve him from responsibility in the matter. It was his business to have had them if he did not intend to misrepresent. Mr. Grow said, when he charged Hon. B. S. Bentley with falsehood, that he had Mr. B's letter in evidence of it and he then pettuled out of it by saying he would read it, he had it and on being called to produce it he said it had been lost. Such dodges are "too thin" for honest people. The Democrat is not lost and can be furnished him any time he desires.

Flowers are among the most pleasing ornaments either in nature or art and it always speaks well for the refinement of any one who takes pains to cultivate them. Mrs. H. F. Turrell has a fine collection of them. Among her specialties is a verbenia bed. She also has a Southern Ivy vine rooted in a small jar, that encircles a room 12 by 18 feet with a very heavy and beautiful wreath. On Friday last a severe storm passed over Liberty township, in this county, by which Mr. J. A. Wilber was seriously damaged. He had just erected a barn 30 by 100 feet and had it roofed and enclosed, and about 30 feet of shed attached. The storm completely demolished the barn and shed making of it a perfect wreck and mass of rubbish. No other damage was done in that locality as far as we have heard. Judge Wilson, brother of Mr. Mason Wilson of our borough, visited Montrose last week. The Judge will be remembered by many of our citizens as a former resident here. There is one thing certain, that no one need be at a loss to know how he will vote on the Presidential question this fall for he declares himself unequivocally for Tilden, Hendricks and Reform, and he is prepared to give evidence of the faith that is in him with great argumentative force. He says he voted for the Lamented Lincoln on reform principles and now he shall vote for Tilden and Hendricks for the same reason. He had no room for argument with us. The Night Blooming Cereus belonging to Mrs. A. N. Bullard has been celebrating our centennial year in a most appropriate manner. Last week ten beautiful blossoms sprang forth their fragrance to the night, and opened their snowy petals to the gaze of the admiring crowd, which thronged to view them. On Monday night we were favored with two open blossoms; two more on Tuesday, and yet another couple on Wednesday night. Thursday night the climax was reached by four opening in unison, three of which grew from one leaf. Mrs. Bullard was kind enough to open her house to all who cared to examine this wonderful plant, and all who have not seen it have lost a rare and beautiful sight. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever" and certainly, all who had the pleasure of seeing this beauty, will carry the joy in their hearts forever. South Main Street is ahead on improvements this year. In addition to those we spoke of a few weeks since, we notice S. H. Morse and Wm Smith have been beautifying and improving about their dwellings. D. Brewster and O. P. Beebe have built a fine stone walk in front of their store building, besides the great improvements they have made upon the building itself. Mr. H. F. Turrell has also laid a first class stone walk in front of his store buildings, procuring the stone from Mr. Sprout's quarry. One of the finest improvements yet made by our street commissioner, Mr. D. Brewster, is being made on Plank Road street. What makes it of most importance is the prospect of its permanence. The road is being filled with pounded stone and is to be covered with earth, and when done will be something durable. Such improvements, at this time, are far more practical than making checkers on the Public Square, with private sidewalks out of the public funds. WHO IS THE LIAR?—I am and have always been a warm Republican and as anxious for the best interests and success of that party as any other man, but when such an uncertain man as G. A. Grow is by his own well learned tricks and efforts made a candidate, I cannot give him a vote. His denunciation of Mr. Hawley as "a common malicious and willful liar," in a place where the latter was at an entire disadvantage and Grow well knew could not properly reply or resent it, shows him to be a cowardly politician and not fit for the suffrages of peaceable Christian men. But it turns out that Hawley stated no untruth when he said Grow was connected with the Texas railroad. Mr. Hawley needs no defence among his neighbors, where he is known as a kind hearted, peaceable, truthful and respected man, and he may be assured that the outrageous abuse of him by Grow makes him many friends. G. TILDEN AND HENDRICKS REFORM CLUB OF MONTROSE AND BRIDGEWATER.—In pursuance to the notice published in the DEMOCRAT to all who were interested in the election of Tilden and Hendricks and an honest reform, a meeting was held in the club room over Lyon's drug store, last Saturday evening, Aug. 26th. The meeting was called to order by E. B. Hawley, Chairman of County Committee, who stated the object of the meeting. The election of permanent officers was immediately begun. The following gentlemen were elected. President, Abel Turrell; Vice-Presidents, C. J. Curtis and M. B. Dessauer; Secretary, E. O'Neill; Treasurer, G. P. Little. A plan of organization was adopted and all those present immediately enrolled themselves as members. Among the questions discussed during the evening was with regard to the necessity and expediency of keeping the club room open every evening (Sunday excepted) during the campaign and keeping a supply of political newspapers and other campaign documents so that all might have a place where they could sit and read the political news of the day. A finance committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions to defray the necessary expenses of the club. A motion was carried that the club hold their regular meetings on Saturday evening of each week. A committee of five were appointed to report an executive committee of ten and to report on this (Wednesday) evening to which time the club adjourned. Let all voters who desire a change of administration attend the meeting this evening and enroll themselves members of the Tilden and Hendricks Reform Club of Montrose and Bridgewater. The time for work is at hand and there is enough for all to do.

No liquor of any kind is allowed to be sold within three miles of an encampment or reunion of soldiers of this State, except by licensed dealers at their usual places of business. On Wednesday afternoon last some person or persons unknown, entered the residence of Mr. W. J. Falkenburg, the family being absent, and took therefrom a large quantity of things among which were six pairs of kid gloves, a valuable gold ring, two silver cups, a silver goblet, spoons, a pair of boots, etc. The thieves were undoubtedly well acquainted with the situation of affairs, knowing that the family were away from home, Mrs. Falkenburg having been for some time past with her invalid mother at Lanesboro. Entrance was effected from the rear of the dwelling by prying off a shutter and raising a window. Tuesday evening last at about half past eleven an unsuccessful attempt was made to enter the residence of Mr. M. Lannan on Jackson street, but the prowlers made too much noise in raising a window and were overheard by a member of the family. Upon being discovered they hastily fled and no clue of them has been obtained.—Susquehanna Journal. From the Scranton Republican we learn that "shortly after nine o'clock on Saturday night a gang of about twenty ruffians made an attack on the house of H. B. Dalton, of Meadow Brook, and battered in the doors and windows, besides threatening violence to Mrs. Dalton, who happened to be alone at the time, her husband having gone to town on some business. Mrs. Dalton was terrified almost out of her wits by the savage demeanor of the crowd, who, instead of being restrained by her presence, added to their work of destruction that of blasphemy and obscenity. Before they succeeded in laying violent hands upon her, however she took refuge in the house of a neighbor, Mr. Jones, where she remained until the desperadoes departed. It would seem that this is the same gang who, a few nights ago broke into and robbed the house of Mr. John Davis, at Greenwood. They have terrorized the entire neighborhood, and the respectable and unprotected are in constant dread of them from nightfall until morning. The sanctity of home is no barrier to their villainy, and plunder and pillage form their highest aim. It is about time they were made to feel the strong arm of the law, and that they were taught how to respect the rights of peaceful citizens. A vigilance committee is, we understand, being organized to give them a warm reception one of these nights. It would be better, however, to let the law deal with them, and weed them out of the place." CORRECTION.—Judge Pearson has decided that Wednesday, Sept. 6th, is the last day on which registration can be lawfully made. Persons not registered, and entitled thereto, should give this matter immediate attention. WILLIAM MCLELLAND, Chairman Democratic State Committee. Harrisburg, Aug. 25, 1876. ACCIDENT TO JUDGE COOK.—On Tuesday last, as Mr. J. H. Cook was preparing to return from a social gathering at Mr. F. D. Lyons', he met with a very painful and serious accident. As he was coming out, he missed his footing and fell the whole length of the stairs, bruising him very badly, but fortunately breaking no bones. He is said to be doing as well as the nature of his injuries will permit.—Susquehanna Journal. EAST BRIDGEWATER.—It has been some time since we noticed any items from this vicinity, so I thought a few lines would be acceptable. We are having it very dry here as well as elsewhere, some farmers having to draw water from the brooks, and others drive their stock away to drink. The fall crops are very light, especially buckwheat and potatoes. We had a light frost a week ago that injured the buckwheat some, but the dry weather is doing the most damage thus far. Mr. Thatcher, who bought the Meahan property about a year ago, and moved from Scranton here, returned last week to remain during the fall and winter. He will probably come back to his little place in the spring if he does not dispose of it previous to that time. He wishes to sell out, has made many improvements, which adds much to the appearance of the looks of the place. Mr. Kent, of Brooklyn, bought at sheriff's sale the Wallace Hewitt property (opposite the Passmore gate house.) It had been rented by East Bridgewater Grange, for nearly a year, but now by the kindness of Mr. E. R. Ketchum they have farms free. The Grange meets Saturday Sept. 2nd, and a full attendance is desired as delegates are to be elected to the Pomona Grange. Mr. Wm Reynolds has repaired the brick kiln on the Passmore farm and any desiring brick will do well to give him a call. Some of our young men are expecting to visit the Centennial, soon. EAST BRIDGEWATER, Pa., Aug. 28. CARBONDALE NOTES.—There was a Tilden and Hendricks Club organized in the Third Ward; they made their first appearance this evening. They have a good flag and banner; the latter being about ten feet long and three feet wide, and printed in large letters are the words, Tilden and Hendricks. The banner is made of muslin with a red and blue border. On the top of the banner is a lithograph of Tilden and Hendricks decorated with flags. The Carbondale base ball club have disbanded for the season and three of their best players are employed by the "Irving's," of Honesdale, for the rest of the season. Burrows is the only Honesdale in that club now and "sarcastic outsiders presume to call them the "Carbondale Irving's." It is too bad that they disbanded so soon but in these hard times it is hard for a city like this to support a club like that one. They are negotiating with nineteen first class clubs; the games to be played on Tripp's Driving Park at Scranton. Among the clubs are the Mutuals, Chicago, Crickets, Chelseas, and others. Church street from the Public Square to Smith street is in first-class condition and a very fine drive. The Luzerne

County Convention did not favor the Carbondale politicians very much. At the Convention held in this city on Saturday, John Miller was defeated. He wanted the nomination for Representative. Mr. Stanton of Dunmore was victorious. The Wilkes-Barre correspondent of the new Democratic paper, the Luzerne Leader, published at Pittston says that the County Convention at that place consisted of delegates that it would be hard to find their equals. He says that they even sold themselves on promises. This paper like the Leader of this city is a paper that does not support every rascal who has the audacity to run for office and who thoroughly disgrace the Democratic party. CARBONDALE. Carbondale, Aug. 17, 1876. COUNTY TEACHERS ASSOCIATION.—First days proceedings. The annual Teachers Institute of Susquehanna county, Pennsylvania, convened in the Graded School building of Montrose, on Monday, Aug. 28th, at 1:30 p. m. Teachers present, 121, as follows: M C Handrick, M H Meeker, E C Smith, Lora Marsh, Mattie E Barnes, Annie Meeker, Stella Barlow, Mary E Bennett, Nannie M Finn, Sarah J Cinley, Lucy Brown, Edna M Garfield, Allie M Guernsey, Mary Frink, Anna M Hand, Alice Mehan, P M Ely, Ella J Baker, Julia Smith, Lucy Cadden, Katie Denison, Sarah A Turrell, Hattie Brewster, D T Brewster, Lottie Gill, Emma Walker, S Addie Harding, Ida Humlin, Susie Horton, Anna C Searle, Mary F Lewis, Myra A Felton, Frank Wilson, Julia Raynor, Alma Foster, Elisha McKinney, G L Gere, Mins Mackey, Hattie Dewey, Alice Tyrell, Frank P Tingley, Ida Gamble, N R Davis, Susan Davis, O C Whitney, Libbie Spencer, Carrie Wellman, Hannah Martin, B E James, Joseph Johnson, E Jessie Bolles, Anna Pepper, M L McMillan, Mary Degan, Frank Raymond, Lena Zorn, Lizzie Bronson, Katie O'Donnell, W F Waterman, Fannie Fraser, S S Wright, H S Meeker, Pat Trodden, Nathan N Martin, Nettie Stanford, Deborah Potter, Clara Doolittle, Ella Griffin, M O Webster, Alice M Hodgson, Anna Keegan, Ella Russell, Louisa Marsh, Emma M Bushnell, Julia Miller, W B Shaughnessy, Eliza Brewster, E A Smith, Mary Griffith, Eliza Futch, Y F Carrig, Libbie Morris, Elsie Turley, H L Griffin, Sarah M Tilden, W W Walker, E K Richardson, Lillian Carlisle, Frankie Horton, F D Brewster, Emma Allen, J Bta Scott, Ella Burert, Ida Everett, Emma A Raynor, D J Ring, Henry Phelan, G L Mackey, Minnie French, Katie Coleman, J H Raynor, Lucy S Perkins, E L Sterling, Wilmot Davis, C P Prescott, Mary Martin, Jennie Dean, James G Gillen, John Reynolds, E D Berthoff, Katie Moore, Lizzie McInerney, Georgiana Eldred, Lizzie Clark, Almira Robertson, Clara Hayward, W B Tiffany, Emma Lord, Lizzie O'Donnell, Maggie Raymond, Jennie Case. Opened with prayer by Superintendent Tilden. He also addressed the Institute on the importance of teachers attending these gatherings. Prof. A. N. Raub of Lock Haven was then introduced and after a few preliminary remarks gave an address on School Ornamentation. By ornamenting school rooms with mottoes, pictures, bouquets, and festoons of evergreens, the teacher renders the room attractive to children, thereby creating more interest in study and attaining a better degree of order than can otherwise be secured. Mr. H. C. Clinton next addressed the teachers on systematizing work in the school room. That teacher succeeds best who proceeds in his work the most systematically. He then illustrated in a humorous manner the sculptor's rule of physiognomy, a new departure in institute matters yet of much profit. Superintendent Tilden then addressed the teachers on neatness in the school room after which the institute adjourned till 7:30 p. m. EVENING SESSION. The evening session of County Institute was called to order by Superintendent Tilden at 7:30. Prof. Raub was introduced and addressed the Institute on "Talk." The speaker gave illustrations of how the English Language is continually changing, new words being added, while at the same time old words are dropped from the language. He gave illustrations or examples of provincial terms and contractions of words, showed the exaggerations of attributes by hyperbole, and introduced in his talk slang phrases and superfluous words, thereby rendering the effect on his hearers more forcible. The speaker next dwelt upon the changes in the meaning of words, the meaning of proper names, and the changes in words by affixes. These remarks on "Talk" were entertaining as well as instructive, and our teachers can hardly fail to make practical use of the ideas in and out of the school room. Prof. E. K. Richardson, of Great Bend, followed in a talk on the word building. The Prof. practices what he preaches and gave the teachers his system which has proved so successful in his school during the past year. The Institute then adjourned till 9 a. m., on Tuesday.
