

Of Kilpatrick's "blood and money" letter the gallant General Bartlett says that it is "simply infamous and that if it can be shown that Governor Hayes received the letter without denouncing the author openly at once it ought to defeat him."

With Benjamin Haywood presiding for Frack Hughes to talk Cooper greenbacks to the multitude in Schuylkill, and Judge Beatty presiding for Sam Cary to enthrone the masses of Lycoming, Colonel Hoyt had better hasten to gather up the wayward brethren.

The Late E. L. Merriman, Esq.

We are obliged to announce the death of E. L. Merriman, Esq., late of Wilkesbarre, and son of J. L. Merriman of Franklin, this county. He was a young man who had the brightest of prospects and had made his mark in his profession.

"The members of the bar met in the bar office at Wilkesbarre, Judge Dana presiding, and the following report of the committee on resolutions relative to the death of E. L. Merriman was read."

R-port of the committee appointed at a meeting of the bar of Luzerne county, called upon the death of E. L. Merriman, Esq., on the 4th day of September, 1876.

The announcement is made to us of the death of E. L. Merriman, a member of the bar of Luzerne county. Often as we have been convened, of late, to take action upon the death of our brothers, this announcement comes to us with startling suddenness and finds us unprepared to appreciate its full significance, before which we may well stand appalled.

Mr. Merriman was a young man—a man of great physical vigor and of great mental force and activity. Of us all, he seemed least liable to the service of the great summons. He came among us in his early life; he prepared himself for his active duties here; his fine physical presence, combined with mental vivacity, attracted attention and interest; he was hopeful and energetic; he possessed no ordinary share of natural ability; he had a quick perception of the salient features of a case; he had the capacity to identify himself thoroughly with his client's interests.

It is customary and appropriate to inscribe upon our records and leave among the proceedings of our bar some suitable testimony of our regard for our departed brethren; be it, therefore,

Resolved, That we regret the unexpected death of Mr. Merriman; we mourn his young life so suddenly closed; we miss his genial association with us; we bear cheerful testimony to the efficiency and brilliant qualities which he possessed.

Resolved, That we tender to his bereaved wife and family our heartfelt sympathies in the great sorrow which has fallen upon them.

Resolved, That we will attend the funeral in person, and wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days; and that a copy of these proceedings be presented to the court, and with permission, entered upon the minutes thereof.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be submitted to the faculty of the county, and be printed in the Democrat.

W. M. HOTT, CHARLES L. LAMBERTON, WILLIAM S. McLEAN, JOHN LYCH, STANLEY WOODWARD, Committee.

Remarks were made by Hon. H. M. Jones, John Lynch, William S. McLean,

Charles Pike, C. M. Bunnell, H. Hakes and Judge Dana, when the report and resolutions were adopted.

THE FUNERAL.

At four o'clock the mourners and friends of the deceased assembled at the residence on Franklin street, to witness the last sad rites. Among those present were Rev. H. L. Jones of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, Rev. F. B. Hodge of the Franklin street Presbyterian church, Rev. W. H. Olin of the Franklin street M. E. Church; and Rev. F. L. Hiller of the Ross street M. E. Church. The funeral services were begun by Rev. Mr. Jones, and were of the Episcopal order. Choral singing by the St. Stephen's choir was a prominent feature.

At five o'clock the remains were taken to Hollenback cemetery. Here the reading of the services were concluded and the casket lowered to its resting place strewn with lovely summer floral offerings. The pall bearers were Judge Dana, W. S. McLean, Alexander Farnham, H. Hakes, A. T. McClintock and H. M. Hoyt.

(From the Financial and Commercial Chronicle.)

The reputations of our citizens are the property of the State. And when a character has stood the test of three score years, every individual has a personal interest in it, reaching far beyond the passing political excitement of the day. With deep regret, therefore, one sees a growing disposition, even among some of our more conservative newspapers, to accept and give currency to defamations of character, simply because the persons attacked happen to be candidates for a high office. The form of charges seem to be something like this: "You swore falsely in 1862," or "You stole in 1863."

As an instance of the evil we complain of taking the charge, which we are called upon to believe, that Gov. Hayes during the war stole $400 left with him by an ex-cuted soldier. The facts assumed are (1) that such a man was executed;
