THE COMING SHOW. The long-heralded and world-lamed show of John O'Brien is to exhibit here on Monday, October 2d. Everywhere endorsed as the greatest and grandest tented exhibition ever organized; we append the following commendatory notice. It is from an exchange. John O'Brien's great combination made a public parade yesterday. Beyond question it was the finest show procession ever seen in this new suit at city, and gave an adequate idea of the great amusement enterprise which Mr. O'Brien has founded. The combination is the most meritorious exhibition now traveling. An hour spent looking at the birds and beasts in the great menagerie which he has collected will teach a person more of the wonders of nature, and will more vividly impress the mind with the wisdom of the Creator, than days of devotion to reading.
