win wholesale buyers from the country. The advartage expected to be derived from the Centennial Exhibition by New York dealers bas at las become apparent. In almost every. branca of frade transactions are daily increas, ing, and many buyers, who in previous years obtained beir supplies from Western towns, are to be seen making purchases in New York. They generally report crops to be in good condition The Fall wholesale trade is now fairly begun, and the busile and activity visible in every business part of the city furnish sufficient evidence of returning prosperity. So great is the pressure of business that the clerks of many wholesale houses are occupied up to 12 o'clock at night preparing the dayls sales for shipment. One of the most encouraging indications, merchants say, is the disposition of buyers to do business upon a safe basis.

THE TRICK OF A TRAMP-Elias Schweitzer. a fatmer living near Beartown, Lancaster Counly, agreed to entertain a gentlemanly looking tramp, who professed willingness to pay for his lodging, one day last week. After having partaken of his supper the tramp took a cigar and handed one to his host. They smoked and talked on different topics until 10 o'clock, when Mrs. S. told the boys to go to bed. At this point the stranger said he would amuse the boys before they retired. He preformed several tricks which pleased them all. He said he could take a ball, which he held in his hand, and place it in the barn without leaving the nom. This astonished them all. He said that if the family would permit him he would go into a room up stairs to arrange the ball, which, would not require more than twenty minutes, and when he would stamp on the floor they were to go into the barn, where they would ind the ball behind a horse, they kept the curry.comb. wrapied in a piece of silk. The amily being anxious to see the performance showed the stranger toto the best room and then waited for the signal to go out. In about wenty minutes the stamping was heard and he party left for the barn and examined the turry-comb box and on the ground, but could not find the ball, and in ten minutes returned, when Mr. Schweitzer went up to the room and bud it empty and $78 taken from the drawer.

WE TAKE pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the fact that the popular Dry Goods house of C. F. Sisson & Co., Binghamton, are now receiving an unusually large and complete assortment of new spring goods. Notwithstanding the cry of "hard times," this bouse informs us that their trade is larger than at any former season. This is easily accounted for by the fact that they always offer the most reliable goods at the same prices that many bouses sell a very inferior grade. All the novelties of the season, both of toreign and domestic manufacture, may now be found upon their shelves, and a visit to their store, will conyince anyone that that is the place to trade.
