Reply of Wade Hampton.

COLUMBUS, E. C., Dec. 7.—Chamberlain to-day took the oath of office as then set a building on him, or do you ingovernor in the state house before Probate Judge Boone, of Richland county, for liberty by forbidding despotism to be a joint resolution repealing the law that the oath of office should be taken before the chief justice or associate justice being passed. The inauguration was over before it was known in the city, and only parties admitted by the authorities witnessed the ceremony. A company of soldiers was stationed in the lower corridor, and constabulary guarded the entrance. In his inaugural address Chamberlain promised that the usual reccommendation to the legislature would be given at an early day. He declared the present time a crisis at which no citizen should shrink from any public post to which he might be called, and while warmly denouncing the Hampton party whom he accused of boasting that they held the peace of the state in their hands, he exhorted his own followers to strenuously resist the aggressions of their op ponents. After the inaugral the republican house adjourned.

Hampton says: "I pronounce this state-ment infamously false. I, by my anwearied exertions, have endeavored to preserve the peace of this state and I have thus contributed to shield from popular indignation one who has proved hlmself a disgrace to his race and a traitular indignation one who has proved hlmself a disgrace to his race and a traitor to his trust. His conscience may make him tremble, but neither 1 nor the men with whom I act countenance the hand of the assassin."

WADE HAMPTON. (Signed)

During the whole of the Louisiana investigation there have been two men whose reports were received by the north with especial willingness. They were newspaper correspondents—Z. L. White, of the New York Tribune, and H. V. newspaper correspondents—Z. L. White, of the New York Tribune, and H. V. Redfield, of the Cincinnati Commercial. Both of these men established long ago a reputation for strict truthfulnes and fair dealing, and have exemplified it during these investigations. They have related the testimony given in New Or leans, just as they heard it. They have suppressed nothing in the interest of one party or the other. They have reported frankly what seemed to tell against the the republican party, and just as frankly what was unfavorable to the democrats. The case in Louisians has closed, and these correspondents have summed up their impressions in their respective papers. Mr. Redfield says: My impression is that the Returning Board will count in Hayes. I have thought so all the time. And that there have been gross intimidain Hayes. I have thought so all the time. And that there have been gross intimidation and outrages, and much political murder, in the five bull-dozed parishes I am also satisfied. But the throwing out of all these parishes, or any parts of them, will not quite give the state to Hayes, as the figures stand now. But I believe that the Board will find excuses in the other parts of the state sufficient to satisfy themselves that Hayes should be counted in." Mr. White makes a final review bidder, at the residence of James E. Howe in of the situation, in which he declares the the Borough of Great Bend, on action of the Returning Board, in several particulars, "clearly illegal and indefensible." And this is all Mr. White has to say of giving the state to Hayes, after it has voted for Tilden. "The republicans expect this state will be given to Bend, Susquehanua County, bounded and de-Hayes and Packard, becacuse they think scribed as follows: Bounded on the northerly that when the precincts in which the by lands of the Truman Baldwin estate, south that when the precincts in which the erly by the lands of M. B. Bassett and Bald-election was not free have been rejected win estate, westerly by Main street, containing disappear with them." Not a word, you will notice, claiming that Hayes has honestly carried Louisiana. Both of these Second Lot—Situate in the Borough of Great Correspondents are republicans and both Bend Village, Susquehanna County, bounded of their papers are supporting Hayes, and and described as follows, viz: Bounded on the telly carried Louisiana. Both of these if they believed Haves ought to receive south by lands of A. W. Millard, on the east by lands of A. W. Millard, on the east by lands of A. W. Millard, on the north by lands of the estate of Ebenezer Brown, one story and slow to say so. That they do not say so, a half frame dwelling house and barn. is clear proof that they do not think so. counted in Hayes-

> While there were six New York dailies represented each by a special correspondent at New Orleans, Philadelphia had but one journal-The Times-that had en terprise enough to send its own reporter and learn for itself the true condition of things. It is not to be wondered at that Philadelphia journals are looked upon as the second editions of more enterprising papers published eleswhere, or that the Times so fur outstrips its city contemporaries in news and reliability.

The democratic house met with a constitutional quorum of members holding certificates from the secretary of state.—
They confirmed all the acts previously done and finally seated the Edgefield and Laurens delegations. A committee was appointed to inform the senate that the house was ready for business and to ask Gen. Ruger to remove the troops from the state house.

This evening Gen. Hampton issued a card to the public in which he refers to the statement of Cnamberlain, made to-day, that the democrats boasted of holding the peace of the state in their hands and that his (Chamberlain's) life was not safe. After quoting Chamberlain's words
Hampton says: "I pronounce this state—

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY

An Unrivaled Illustrated Magazine.

When Scribner issued its famous Midsummer Holiday Number in July, a friendly critic said of it: "We are not sure but that Scribner has touched high-water are not sure but that Scribner has touched high-water mark. We do not see what worlds are left to it to conquer." But the publishers do not consider that they have reached the ultima thule of excellence—they believed there are other worlds to conquer, and they propose to conquer them."

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fitty papers (mostly illustrated,) by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

we 'ave "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntering about Constantinople," by Charle 'udley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

"NICHOLAS MINTURN," By Dr. Holland, the editor,

whose story of "Sevenoaks" gave the highest satisfac-tion to the readers of the Monthly.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will begin on the completion of "That Lasso' Lowrie's!" by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett.

There is to be a series of original and exquisitely illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on "HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL." Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, filiage improvements etc., by well known specialis's.

A richly illustrated series will be given on 'American Sports by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of "Household and Home Decoration" will have a prominent place, whilst the latest productions of American humoriets will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches etc., is a long one.

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and induences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.
Subscription price $4 a year—35 cents a number.—
