Neighboring Counties. Eight petitions for divorce are reported in the Bradford Courts for one term.

Port Jervis is again putting on airs, in consequence of another ice gorge being quite probable. It will make that village popular in the New York dailies, you know.

Arthur J. Wilson, of Hollisterville, Wayne Co. while out riding down hill on the evening of the 22d ult., lost the control of his sled, and running into some obstruction, had a leg broken.

Many of the mill ponds in Wayne Co. are frozen to the bottom, compelling a temporary suspension of manufacturing. On account of the scarcity of water the factory at Tracyville has been running on half time for a few weeks past.

Rev. Dr. Dunning, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Honesdale, fell upon the icy sidewalk in that borough on Wednesday evening of last week, fracturing both bones of one leg below the knee. The accident is a serious one, and will probably lay the Doctor up for some time.

The dwelling of Joseph Harris, near Waymart, caught fire from a defect in the chimney, about 10 o'clock, on the morning of the 23d, and burnt to the ground. The family were in Honesdale at the time, and in consequence but little of the household effects were saved. Loss about $3,500. Insured $1,500 on house at Kalisch's—Honesdale Citizen.

Orley H. Pease, of Hollisterville, who removed to Kansas a few months ago, met with a fatal accident, week before last, while out hunting with his brother. They had stopped at a spring to quench their thirst, when Mr. Pease handed his brother his gun. The trigger unfortunately, was caught by a bush, and pulled back, discharging the weapon, the full charge striking him in the face killing him instantly. He was about 28 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children, the former in the last stages of consumption.—Honesdale Citizen.

Mrs. Debr Ridgway, now 62 years of age, residing in Wysox, first house west of the white church, has woven during the past eight years, the extraordinary number of 8,988 yards of carpet, by the ordinary loom, as follows: 1869—1,009 yards; 1870—669 yards; 1871—803 yards; 1872—1,350 yards; 1873—1,243 yards; 1874—1,333 yards; 1875—1,381 yards; 1876—1,200 yards. Total, 8,988 yards, or an annual average of 1,122 yards. Who can beat this?

State Items. Out of 441 small pox cases in Reading, 102 proved fatal. The champion coaster of Williamsport is a clergyman, but he is not a backslider.

William Graham, of Pittsburg, and a young friend committed suicide recently by suffocation with illuminating gas. Mr. Ario Pardee, of Hazleton, has just completed a church at an expense of $40,000, and presented it to the Presbyterian congregation of that town. Mr. Markle, of Philadelphia contributed a bell and organ, costing $3,000. Mr. Pardee's gifts to Lafayette College, Easton, have made it one of the best institutions of learning in the country.

For selling liquor on election day, after the election was over, Benjamin Rogers, of the Rose Tree Hotel, Delaware Co. has been fined by the Court two hundred and fifty dollars. His legal adviser had told him he could sell liquor after election. Since the passage of this law it has always been the practice in some counties to open the bars of the hotels and restaurants and sell after the clock has struck seven, but if the above is a fair interpretation of the law it will be dangerous to continue it.

The Pottstown Ledger says that on Monday afternoon of last week, the scholars attending the Fegley's school, in Pottsgrove Township, that county, saw a very large bird alight on a tree about 300 yards from the school house on the Gue property, and carrying in its talons a small sucking pig, which it commenced to devour. The children scurried off in the direction of the tree, when the bird was sailing away, leaving behind it the two hind legs of the young porker. From the description given of the bird, by the children, it was no doubt an eagle.

A car thief who had been operating on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad has been committed to the Norristown jail for stealing about $250 worth of goods. The mode of carrying on these robberies is peculiar. Two of the thieves, carrying a rope, board the cars at some point where the train has to move slowly. They climb to the roof and lie flat on their faces until a clear stretch of the road is reached. One of them then fastens the rope around his body and the other lets him down at the side of the car. Thus suspended he picks the lock of the car door and enters. At a point of road before agreed upon he throws off the goods, and accomplices are awaiting to secure them.

Sheriff Piatt of Lycoming county, stepped, last Wednesday, off a Reading Railroad train at Fairmount avenue with six prisoners bound for the penitentiary, handcuffed two and two, under the charge of himself and five guards. But when Sheriff Piatt reached the penitentiary his prisoners numbered only five, Edward Scalin, sentenced to three years and three months for a store robbery in Williamsport, having escaped somewhere on the street, carrying with him a pair of handcuffs, one of which had been attached to his fellow-prisoner. Yet as Sheriff Piatt remarked last evening in the Central Station, "I got five of them safe, anyhow," and he mourns, therefore, as one not without comfort. A pair of shoes, out of which Scalin is supposed to have run in his flight, was all that he left behind him.

News Gleanings. The Kansas Legislature is served by little female pages, who chew gum.

Jefferson Davis has taken up his residence at Bevier, near St. Louis. He is writing recollections of his public career.

A mass meeting of unemployed workmen of New York was held on Saturday night in that city. A memorial to the Legislature was prepared and agreed upon, calling for an appropriation of two million dollars on public works for the purpose of giving employment to some of the fifty-five thousand unemployed men in that city.

The Brooklyn, N. Y., grain-beavers who are on a strike held a meeting on Sunday and resolved not to work for less than 24 cents per hour. On Monday the strike was to be general all along the docks and fears are entertained that the strikers will make a serious onslaught on the new hands employed in their places.

The Alabama Legislature appears to be doing its best to bring the State up to a higher plane of enlightenment and prosperity. It has put aside politics, and is working apparently for the public good. The lower branch lately appropriated, in addition to the trust funds, $150,000 per annum for the public schools, instead of $100,000, as last year. The finances of the State are improving under the new administration, and the schools are about the first public institutions to get the benefit of it.

A Sister of Charity died recently in Bensheim, Germany, who had charge of the typhus ward in the military hospital at that place during the war of 1870-71. At her funeral the coffin was borne to the cemetery by twelve veteran soldiers, among whom were several Protestants and Jews, who outrivalled the Catholics in their veneration for the deceased. The municipal authorities not only gave a special place for the interment of the sister, but have also undertaken to erect a suitable monument at their own expense.

The Irish Times' London dispatch, gave some interesting details of the life of Commodore Vanderbilt, on the occasion of his death, how he had fitted out a private ship of war, and gone cruising after the rebel ram Merrimac, which proudly kept out of his way; how he circulated a report of his own death a few weeks ago to "rig" the stock market, netting precisely a million by the operation; how he went abroad in a yacht of 5,000 ton, and in London, gave the widow and orphans of a man who had befriended him when he was poor and struggling $50,000, on the interest of which they are still living in great luxury; and so on.

The sale of Taylor's Family Medicines is steadily on the increase. The sales of the past year being more than double of any previous year. The reason of this is an account of the genuine merits of the goods themselves and the fair and impartial manner in which they are sold. July 26, 1876.
