Col. Wright celebrated the anniversary of the birth of Washington by distributing one thousand loaves of bread to the poor of Wilkes-Barre. The Colonel is a philanthropist, and his distribution of bread to the poor at the time when there is so much suffering, will be long remembered.

On Tuesday night of last week a gang of young men broke into the dwelling of Anthony Sweeney, in Plymouth, says the Star of that place, and going up to Sweeney, deliberately proceeded to cut off his left ear, in spite of his struggles and the applications of his wife, after which the miscreants departed, laughing over their fiendish work. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the perpetrators, and two of them, Wm. Keefe and Martin Wolf, were captured and held to $500 bail.

A young girl, aged 13 or 14 years, by the name of Fetterman or Mutchler, was drowned on Friday last while crossing the river on the ice at Smith's in Falls township, Wyoming Co. She had crossed over the river for the purpose of procuring some butter, and was on her return home when the fatal accident befell her. The body was recovered and buried on Sunday last.

Hamilton correspondence of the Honesdale Citizen says a number of people are on the sick list in that vicinity. Mr. George Chapman was taken with a severe attack of black fever on Saturday last. At times it took several men to hold him and it was thought he could not live but a few moments. However, he is still alive and hope is entertained of his recovery. Mr. Leroy Pelton was also taken with the same disease yesterday and we still hear of more cases in town.

The little town of Slocum was Wednesday morning, 21st ult., thrown into a fever of excitement over an affair which was well calculated, to arouse the indignation of the community. It appears that a hitherto well-to-do farmer named Lewis Kromis, a man about 40 years old, and now married to a second wife, stands charged with the commission of a heinous offense, for which he is now in jail awaiting the action of the courts.

It is alleged that on Tuesday night, the 20th inst., he surreptitiously entered the chamber of his step-child, a little girl only thirteen years of age, named Amanda Rochel, a daughter of his present wife, and by threats and intimidation compelled her to submit to his rude and cruel embraces. It is charged that he made two successful assaults upon the girl, accomplishing his hellish designs in both instances.

A boy named Gantz, of Dauphin Co., while hunting rabbits recently in the hills, found a package of paper under a rock, which upon being opened proved to contain a number of United States Treasury notes in a mutilated condition, which had evidently been deposited there for several years. The notes have been pronounced genuine, and the value will be about $453.

Pat Hester, Tully and McHugh, the Mollie Maguire who were charged with the murder of Alexander Rea, some six years ago, near Centralia, whose trial had been progressing in the Court of Columbia county for the past three weeks, were all found guilty of murder in the first degree, on Saturday afternoon last. They heard the verdict without evincing the least emotion whatever.

Our State exchanges agree in stating that the prospects of the fruit season are encouraging in some regards and the opposite in others. So far, as reported the apple and pear trees, are all right, the frost not having affected them in any degree, although the wonderful yield of last year may not be expected this season. The peach and cherry crops do not promise so well, the frost having damaged the trees.

A bill has been introduced in the State Legislature which is intended to prevent a husband from signing away the benefit of the $300 exemption act. If this should pass, a judgment exemption note will no longer be known in public transaction between debtor and creditor. Another bill has also been framed which repeals the law compelling County Commissioners to pay out of the treasury of said district the sum of $100 annually to each Agricultural Society.

In the suit against the rector and wardens of St. Mark's church, of Philadelphia, to restrain the ringing of the chimes of the church, on the ground that their sound was a nuisance, the opinion of the court was delivered Saturday morning, granting the injunction as prayed for. The court, however, expressed an earnest desire that counsel will come to some agreement by which a moderate tolling of the bells on Sundays before the morning and evening service may be permitted.

J. P. Hassler, ex-cashier of the Carlisle Deposit Bank, committed suicide last Monday, by hanging himself to a rafter in the garret of his residence at Carlisle. About four months ago, while cashier, an examination of the books of the bank showed him to be a defaulter to the amount of $11,000, he having drawn that sum from the bank to engage in stock speculations. He was unfortunate and lost it all.

There is a singular coincidence connected with this suicide, in the fact that Hassler suspended himself to the same rafter used by W. H. Beetem, cashier of the same bank about fourteen years ago, to hang himself. Beetem was a defaulter to the amount of above $150,000, which he also had drawn from the bank and lost in stock speculations, and his body was cut down by the man who committed suicide on Monday, who was then an employe of the bank. Hassler had been a respectable citizen of Carlisle, and, shortly before he died, an elder in the German Reformed church. His age was about fifty years, and an interesting family survive him.

Gen. McArthur, Postmaster of Chicago, has been found to be a defaulter to the amount of $38,000. The red fish of Wallows Lake, in California, are described as being blood red in color, very fat and weighing about eight pounds, and are preferred, when taken, to salmon. It is said there are only four lakes known in which this fish is found—Payette in Idaho, a lake in Maine, one in Scotland and Wallows lake. A company engaged in commercial fishing on the latter, frequently bring in a ton of red fish at a haul with a seine of medium length. Wallows Lake is two thousand feet deep, and the fish suddenly appear on the surface in August and disappear in December.

Wednesday she complained of a severe pain in the hip in the region of the sciatic nerve. Medical aid was summoned and two physicians succeeded, after a careful operation, in removing the identical needle swallowed eleven years since. It measured one inch and a half in length and was not rusted, but perfectly black and polished in appearance.

The success of the cotton manufacturing business in the Southern States is beginning to attract the attention of capitalists at the north. It is perceived that the Georgia cotton mills have been steadily at work and profitably employed while the New England factories have been shut down, running on half time, or interrupted by strikes growing out of necessary reductions in the wages of employes. The Southern mills are now beginning to send their fabrics direct to the New York market where they are able to compete successfully with Northern manufactures.

Dr. Schenck's STANDARD REMEDIES. The standard remedies for all diseases of the lung, are Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Schenck's Mandrake Pills, and Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and if taken before the lungs are destroyed, a speedy cure is effected.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs; nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To enable the pulmonic syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, removing all obstructions, relax the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative; the alkali of which it is composed mixes with the food and prevents souring. It assists the digestion by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and the Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood; then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold.

All who wish to consult Dr. Schenck, either personally or by letter, can do so at his principle office, corner of Sixth and Arch Sts., Philadelphia, every Monday. Schenck's medicines are sold by all druggists throughout the country.
