

Lackawanna Coal & Legett's Gap Railroad.

The N. Y. Tribune says: Among the many branches running into the New York and Erie Railroad, none are likely to be more important than that known as the Legett's Gap Railroad, extending from the Erie Basin of the Lackawanna to the New York and Erie Railroad, at Great Bend, a distance of about forty miles. The charter for this road was obtained from the State of Pennsylvania about the time that the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company obtained theirs; but could not be made available until the Erie Road was completed to Binghamton, as in reaching that place the road passes into Pennsylvania at the Great Bend, and approaches nearer the coal field than at any other point on the route.

The route is, beyond doubt, the best that can be obtained. The grades are remarkably favorable for the transportation of coal, the summit being reached in five to six miles from the valley of the Lackawanna, as about 45 feet to the mile. From Lackawanna, there is no ascending grade over 18 feet, while 20 to 30 miles will be descending about 25 feet to the mile.

This enterprise has been taken hold of by some of our most wealthy and enterprising citizens, with a view of supplying the great demand for coal in the interior of our State. The route is about 50,000 tons a year. The company have secured 1,000 acres of the finest coal lands in the Lackawanna Valley, of which the coal is now handsomely opened, ready for a commencement; and those at all acquainted with the different Anthracite Coal deposits of Pennsylvania, are well aware that coal can be mined and delivered into cars in the Lackawanna Valley at a less cost than in any other coal field. It is understood that the proprietors of the Lackawanna Iron Works have offered to furnish the iron and chains for the entire road, and receive a large portion of the stock in payment thereof; and other parties have offered to furnish all the cars required for transporting coal and take one-half pay in stock.

Every one at all conversant with the route and requirements of the State of New York, and the Lackawanna and the Canadas, for this indispensable article of fuel, cannot fail to see at a glance the importance of at once opening this avenue for the outlet of Anthracite Coal.

With this road made and connected with the New York and Erie Railroad, coal can be distributed over the whole of Western New York and the Canadas; the road would be without a rival, being the most feasible and forming the most direct and natural connection with the railroad and Canadas in New York; and a market at fair prices would be found for all the coal that can be transported on the road.

President Judges in Pennsylvania.

The following is a statement of the judicial districts in Pennsylvania, and the several presiding judges, as they now stand under the recent appointments by Gov. Johnston. ### New Banks.

We recommend the following article from the Lancaster Union, to the perusal of those who are fond of denouncing the whigs for passing new bank bills:—The Lancaster papers are finding fault with the Legislature for chartering the Danville Bank, and granting banking privileges to the York Savings Institution, although the bills creating these new institutions were twice defeated by whig votes in the House of Representatives, and were subsequently passed by the aid of loquacious votes, and at the instigation of loquacious politicians on the counties in which they are located. The Danville Bank was warmly urged by the loquacious Senator from the district, backed by a number of leading loquacious; and when the York bill had been twice rejected by whig votes, the bill was literally overrun with loquacious editors and loquacious politicians from that county, who begged and implored the Legislature to pass the bill. But for their importunities neither of these bills would now number our statute books. Notwithstanding all this, we expect to hear of the very men who procured the passage of these bills denouncing the whigs who voted for them. Such is the consistency and honesty of loquacious.

Important Newspaper Case.

The following case, decided in the Supreme Court of Rhode Island, is reported in the Bristol Phoenix:

Jasper Harding vs. Henry De Wolf, action of assumpsit for the recovery of nine years' subscription to the Pennsylvania Inquirer, a newspaper published in Philadelphia.

It was proved on the part of the plaintiff that the name of the defendant was on his subscription books from 1835 to 1844; that the paper was regularly enclosed in a wrapper, directed to the defendant, and deposited in the post office in that city. Bills for the paper had also been forwarded. The defendant denied ever having ordered the paper.

The Court ruled that the regular mailing of a newspaper for a length of time at least prima facie evidence of its reception; and that receiving a paper for a certain time, and not ordering the same discontinued, was sufficient to hold a person liable for the subscription price, notwithstanding he may never have ordered the paper sent. Verdict for plaintiff.

The Southern Address.—M. Calloun's famous effort to array the South against the North is becoming more and more ridiculous by the numerous failures—numerous as the attempts—in the South to get up sympathetic responses.—Some of the meetings called have coincided in the declaration of grievances, but oppose warmly the suggestions in the address; while others both deny the grievances and protest against the remedies.

Recently a public meeting in Montgomery (Ala.) refused to approve of Mr. Calloun's recommendation; and a similar result took place at another assemblage at Athens, in North Alabama.

AVFUL TRAGEDY.—Mrs. H. D. Pearson and her twin daughters, four years of age, were found murdered, at their residence, in Wilmington, Mass., on Wednesday morning last. The children were in bed with their throats cut, and the mother was lying on the floor beside it, having many stabs and cuts in the neck and on different parts of the body. In one hand was a quantity of hair torn from the assassin's head, and in the other was grasped the bloody knife with which the tragedy was perpetrated. On unclasping the fingers, which enclosed the knife, the palm of the hand was found cut and mangled in a shocking manner.

On Friday, Daniel Pierson, the husband and father of the deceased, was examined in charge of perpetrating the triple murder. The prisoner was noticed about Wilmington, on Tuesday afternoon, having arrived in the cars from Boston and on Wednesday morning he was seen hurrying towards the railroad station. A foot-print from the house coincided precisely with the shape of his boot at the tuft of hair found in the hand of the woman exactly resembled that of the prisoner. The latter made no defence; and was committed for trial.

A difficulty has existed for some time between Mr. Pearson and his wife, and negotiations were going on for a divorce. He has not lived with her for late, but has been employed as a servant in a gentleman's family in Boston. Mrs. P. is said to have been a woman of irreproachable character, and to have been exceedingly fond of her children.

Wm. H. Harrison, a grandson of President Harrison, and well known in Cincinnati as a highly promising young man, who accompanied Col. Webb's California party to the gold region, was of the number who died of the cholera on the Rio Grande.

Twelve Days Later From Europe.

The Europe reached New York, on Thursday evening last, with London dates to the 6th of April.

The principal matter of interest, is the news of the defeat of Charles Albert, King of Sardinia, by the Austrians, and the allocation of Charles in favor of his oldest son, Victor Emmanuel. Duke of Savoy, and his flight to France. A battle was fought in the neighborhood of Verceil, on the 21st of March, and after an obstinate struggle on both sides, the Piedmontese were completely routed, and forced to retreat precipitately towards Turin. On the 23d, the armies came again in collision, and the Austrians gained a second and more complete victory than the first.

Both conflicts were sanguinary, and undoubtedly were attended with great slaughter. The second battle lasted for ten in the morning, until a late hour in the night, and the respective armies were composed of not less than 50,000 troops each. The Austrians report 3,000 to 4,000 of the enemy killed and wounded. Charles Albert fought desperately, and finding the fortunes of the day turning against him, sought the most exposed situations in the hope of meeting death on the field.

On the abdication of Charles Albert, an armistice was immediately concluded between the new King and the Austrian commander, upon terms that would undoubtedly eventuate in peace.

The war between Austria and Hungary is still rife, but no very definite information is received respecting it.

The King of Prussia has been elected Emperor of Germany.

The English have had another fight with the Sikh army in India, which resulted in the complete rout of the latter.

England.—No particular change in the market is reported. Money continued abundant, and the bank of England had a large amount of specie in its vaults. It was rumored in the political circles, that a change was about to take place in the British Ministry. Lord Stanley was assigned the Premiership, D'Israeli the Foreign Office, and Brougham the post of Lord Chancellor.

Ireland.—Letters from the south of Ireland are very alarming as to the spread of starvation. The cholera is also daily adding to the number of deaths.

EMANCIPATION IN KENTUCKY.—There will be held on the 25th inst., in Frankfort, a general convention of the opponents of perpetual slavery. The citizens of Fayette county met at Lexington on Saturday week, and appointed some thirty delegates. The meeting was addressed by Hon. H. Clay and Rev. R. J. Breckinridge. The latter gentleman offered resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, to the effect that as hereditary domestic slavery as it exists, is contrary to the rights of mankind—opposed to the fundamental principles of free government—inconsistent with a state of sound morality—hostile to the prosperity of the Commonwealth, it ought not to be made perpetual; and that the Convention should meet to amend the Constitution of the State afford a proper occasion on which steps should be taken to ameliorate the condition of slavery in such way as shall be found practicable in itself, just as regards the master of slaves, and beneficial to the slaves themselves.

Another Body Found.—The body of Chester Minor, of Bradford county, drowned at the Nanticoke dam, on the 31st ult, was found in Hunlock's Eddy, a short distance below the dam, on Monday last. After inquest the remains of the unfortunate man were deposited in the burying ground at that place. The dam, from some cause, or other, is becoming a perfect slaughter house.

We suspect most of the accidents arise from carelessness.—Willesbarre Farmer.

REMARKABLE PRESERVATION.—We learn that Mrs. Knupp, wife of Mr. Lyman K. of Springfield, whose late mental aberration has cast a gloom over the community in which she resides, lately in a fit of insanity, threw her child (a babe) from the chamber window to the ground—a distance of nearly thirty feet, and then jumped out herself. It was at first supposed that both escaped unhurt; but it is now stated that Mrs. K. was considerably injured.—Wilmington Democrat.

LIEUT. GOFF'S MURDER.—It has been decided by the attorney General of the United States, that there is no authority by which Capt. Porter, who murdered Lieut. Goff, of Wilkes Barre, can be tried for the cowardly act. We do not envy him his feelings, though a legal quibble saves his neck from a merited halter. The still small voice of conscience, ever guiding him, will illumine his life, and make his existence miserable.

The Simons twins, who have been living some years with wives and children, on their own plantations in North Carolina, are said to be on their way to New York to embark for Europe with a view to consult the most eminent surgeon on the practicability of an operation to divide the ligament that binds them together. It is further said that one of their sisters had been adopted into the family of the Emperor of Siam.

THE PRINTER'S FOREVER.—The Journey-men Printers of Columbus, Ohio, a few days since, presented, ASIA G. DIMMOCK, Esq., Senator from Holmes county, with a gold "Composing Rule," as a testimonial of respect for his exertions in behalf of the craft in Ohio. Senator D. edits the Holmes county Farmer, a radical orthodox Democratic sheet. He is also the author of the Homestead Exemption Bill presented in the Ohio Legislature during the present session.

At HARRISBURG, on the 11th inst. John Keely, senior, an old and esteemed citizen, was murdered in his own house by his own son, who was insane.

Mr. BENTON.—Great effort will be made in Missouri to prevent the reelection of Col. Benton to the United States Senate, chiefly on the ground of his Anti-Slavery action.

The Colonel, it is understood, will visit the principal points in the State previous to the next election, and address the people in regard to this and other important matters.—In relation to this subject the St. Louis Re-ville remarks:

Our political papers are deeply interested in what may possibly be the fate of Colonel Benton in this State. The Republican fears lest the recent slavery extension resolutions in the Legislature may prove too troublesome to the Senator. Col. Benton has started a railroad extension movement, which will be apt to silence all objections to his course this side the Rocky Mountain.

QUEER REVENGE.—Two Irishmen, discharged by the Lawrence and Manchester Railroad Company, Mass. last week, sought revenge by exploding a magazine of forty-six kegs of powder, which blew the buildings to atoms, and one of the incendiaries with it. The other was sadly scorched.

DEATH OF JUDGE FOX.—We regret to learn that John Fox, Esq., died at his residence in Doylestown, on Sunday morning last. He was for many years a leading member of the Bar, and for several years was the President Judge of that Judicial District. His age was about seventy.

DYSPEPSIA.—This distressing complaint is a weakness of the digestive organs, caused by impurities of the blood. The gastric juice, a fluid peculiar to the stomach, which secreted from bad blood, is deficient in those salutary properties which are of such importance to digestion. Consequently the food, instead of being dissolved, often becomes spoiled or putrified in the stomach; hence bad breath, sour belching, costive bowels, pains in the stomach, colic dysentery, and other dreadful complaints.

In Gibson, by the Rev. J. Todd, H. T. WHEATLEY, M. D., of Jackson, to Miss E. E. TREVETT of the former place.

DIED.

In this Village, on the 20th inst., Mrs. MARY ANN WASSER, wife of Geo. D. Warner, and daughter of J. W. Reynolds, Esq., aged 35 years and 6 months.

The illness of Mrs. Warner was short—less than a week before death she was actively employed in her domestic pursuits—no fears were entertained for her life until three days previous to her decease. Possessed of an uncommonly vigorous constitution, she died as she lived—cheerful and contented.

Her friends regret it might triumph over her disease, but she was too good to be long in this world. A mysterious Providence had otherwise ordered—her bounds were set—on the sixth day of her sickness her spirit left its clayey tenement to join as we humbly trust, the redeemed, and loved ones who had gone before her. During her illness she exhibited great patience and fortitude, and that constant regard for the comfort of those around her, by which she was best characterized. In the various relations of Wife, Mother, Daughter, and Friend, she was ever faithful, kind and affectionate. Her death leaves an aching void in the hearts of her family, and they will mourn her loss without the hope of separation. In her poor and the sick, leave not only a true and generous friend, but one who has been called to mourn.

One who loved her and who had often been the recipient of her kindness, offers this tribute of grateful affection to her memory and heartfelt sympathy to her afflicted relatives on this sad bereavement.

On Sunday evening, the 8th inst., at the residence of C. L. Ward, Esq., in Towanda, THOMAS WELLS, Esq., aged about 70 years.

We know but little of the earlier history of the deceased, but have casually learned that he was a native of Glastonbury, in Connecticut; that he graduated at Yale College with credit, and entered upon the active theatre of life with brilliant prospects. Early in the present century he was married to a lady whose name was admitted to the bar, and soon after appointed Prothonotary of Luzerne county. Endued by nature with high sensibilities, some early misfortune or disappointment clouded his visions of the future, and finally paralyzed the more energetic and ambitious faculties of his mind. He continued for many years, and to his last hour, to indulge in a partial but morbid melancholy, which rendered him careless of the ordinary aspirations of his life—without in the slightest degree affecting the powers of his fine intellect, in other respects. His taste for literary pursuits, which his early scholarship had created, he continued to indulge in, but without method, or any other practical result, except to store his own mind with a vast amount of various information. During the last ten years he has been an inmate of the family where he died; and there, for the satisfaction of his distant friends and connections, we take the liberty of saying he has been uniformly treated with all that unequalled kindness and attention which his purity and worth so amply deserved. Every attention and care were tendered to him up to the latest moment; he died in the fullest possession of the Christian's hope, respected by all who knew his many virtues and blameless life.—Bradford Argus.

AYER'S PECTORAL

For the Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, CROUP, ASTHMA, WHOOPING-COUGH, AND CONSUMPTION.

THE most distinguished Physicians in this and other countries before whom this preparation has been laid have bestowed upon it unqualified praise as an article of rare excellence and one well calculated to cure all forms of Pulmonary disease than any other remedy known.

Read the following testimony, and judge fully from it—It is from the pen of a person who has suffered from a coughed chest for many years before he read.

Dr. J. V. Smith, Surgeon of the Port of Boston, says:—It gives me pleasure to speak with approval of such a medicine as is here offered to the public. If any preparation can subvert disease of the lungs, Cherry Pectoral can do it.

The Editor of the London Lancet writes:—We can speak with confidence of the efficacy of this medicine. Dr. Perkins, the venerable President of the Medical College considers it a composition of rare excellence for the most formidable type of disease in our climate—Consumption.

Prof. Cleveland, of Bowdoin College, writes:—I have witnessed the effects of your Cherry Pectoral in my own family, and that of my children, and I can give great satisfaction in cases of Croup, Whooping Cough, and other diseases of the lungs.

Valentine Mott, M. D., Prof. of Surgery, New York City, says:—It gives me pleasure to testify in favor of this beautiful and truly invaluable remedy in diseases of the Lungs.

Andrew Combs, M. D., P. T. B., Physician, writes:—I have used your Cherry Pectoral, and I can give you no praise for its efficacy in curing Croup, Whooping Cough, and other diseases of the lungs, and I can give you no praise for its efficacy in curing Croup, Whooping Cough, and other diseases of the lungs.

The Rev. Lord Bishop of New Hampshire writes in a letter to his friend, who was sick lying under the affection of the Lungs:—Try the Cherry Pectoral and if any medicine can give you relief with the blessing of God that will.

Dr. J. C. GARDNER, of the Medical College of Philadelphia, writes:—The prevailing epidemic of the winter of 1848-9 has added with surprising rapidity to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and we cannot too strongly recommend this beautiful preparation to the Profession and public generally.

The distinguished Prof. Hare, of the American College of Physicians, says, in the lecture before his class:—This elegant compound, by an eminent chemist of New England affords you an invaluable remedy in treating the various diseases of the lungs. By its skillful use, you can rely upon curing, and often with surprising rapidity, the most violent and dangerous attacks of pulmonary disease.

If there is any value in the judgment of the wise, here is a remedy on which the public can depend. Prepared by J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass., and sold by ABEL TURRELL, Druggist, Montrose, Pa. April 26, 1849.
