which during the last fortnight 75 deaths have occurred; whole families in two or three instances being swept off.

Lexington, Louisville and other places in Kentucky also have their share of suffering. Six deaths occurred in one German house in Louisville on the 2d inst. The papers there and at St. Louis attribute the extreme mortality to immigration—at least three-fourths of the victims being immigrants.—Every vessel from New-Orleans brings numerous cases. More than 20 of our cargo died at St. Louis the day they landed. The daily deaths at Cincinnati are reckoned at about 11-2 per cent of the population.

It appears to be generally believed at the West that eating fresh pork produces Cholera and the authorities of St. Louis have forbidden the sale of hog meat in that city, under a heavy penalty.

The Louisville Journal mentions two houses in an alley in that city, distinguished for being filthy and over-crowded, which furnished in eight days, Seventeen cases and fifteen deaths by Cholera.

State Convention—Canal Commissioner.

To the following resolution we call the attention of our friends, in the hope that early action will be had in the premises:

Resolved, That the friends of the National and State administrations, in Pennsylvania, be requested to meet in the several cities and counties of the State, and select delegates equal in number to their representatives in the State Legislature, who shall meet in convention at the court house in Harrisburg, at 11 o'clock A. M., on Thursday the 16th day of August next, for the purpose of selecting a candidate for Canal Commissioner, and to do such other business as the interests of the country may require. [By order of the Committee.]

GEO. ERETY, Chairman pro tem.

CONSUMPTION.

This terrible disease is commonly attributed to our climate. But if the climate were to blame, the disease would have been inflicted on that and not on the people. We think the fault is in the people, and that if the people would keep the skins of themselves and their children properly washed, and abstain from gluttony, poison, and illeness for a generation or two, consumption would be no more known.

However, consumption prevails as matters are, and picks out the best and prettiest of us, in our grave. As this state of things we must do the best we can, piece and patch out the web of life, with journeys, voyages and medicines. Of all the medicines we know of, Dr. Wistar's "Balsam of Wild Cherry" is what we first recommend. We have in our office a living proof of its efficacy, who, but for it, would have been beneath the sod long ago. The inventor of this medicine, Dr. Wistar, was a man of science, of humanity, and undoubtedly prepared the remedy in its best form, and the public may rely upon Mr. Fowle for the genuine article.—Boston Daily Chronotype, Jan. 18, 1847.

RESOLUTION

RELATIVE TO THE AMENDMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Penn'a. in General Assembly met, That the Constitution of this Commonwealth be ammended in the second section of the fifth article, so that it shall read as follows: The Judges of the Supreme Court, of the several Courts of Common Pleas, and of such other Courts of Record as are or shall be established by law, shall be elected by the qualified electors of the Commonwealth in the manner following, to wit: The Judges of the Supreme Court, by the qualified electors of the Commonwealth at large. The President Judges of the several Courts of Common Pleas and such other Courts of Record as are or shall be established by law, and all other Judges required to be learned in the law, by the qualified electors of the respective districts over which they are to preside or act as Judges: And the Associate Judges of the Courts of Common Pleas by the qualified electors of the Counties respectively—The Judges of the Supreme Court shall hold their offices for the term of fifteen years if they so long behave themselves well: (subject to the allotment hereinafter provided for, subsequent to the first election:) The President Judges of the several Courts of Common Pleas, and of such other courts of Record as are or shall be established by law, and all other Judges required to be learned in the law, shall hold their offices for the term of ten years, if they shall so long behave themselves well: The Associate Judges of he Courts of Common pleas shall hold their offices for the term of five years, if they shall so long behave themselves well: all of whom shall be commissioned by the Governor, but for any reasonable cause which shall not be sufficient grounds of impeachment, the Governor shall remove any of them on the address of two-thirds of each branch of the Legislature. The first election shall take place at the general election of this Commonwealth next after the adoption of this amendment, and the commissions of all the Judges who may be then in office shall expire on the first Monday of December following, when the terms of the new judges shall commence. The persons who shall then be elected Judges of the Supreme Court shall hold their offices as follows: one of them for three years, one for six years, one for nine years one for twelve years, and one for fifteen years; the term of each to be decided by lot by the said judges as soon after the election as convenient, and the result certified by them to the Governor, that the commissions may be issued in accordance thereto. The judge whose commission will first expire shall be Chief Justice during his term, and thereafter each judge whose commission shall first expire shall in turn be the Chief Justice, and if two or more commissions shall expire on the same day, the judges holding them shall decide by lot which shall be the Chief Justice. Any vacancies happening by death, resignation, or otherwise, in any of the said courts, shall be filled by appointment by the Governor, to continue till the first Monday of December succeeding the next general election. The Judges of the Supreme Court, and the Presidents of the several Courts of Common Pleas, shall at stated times, receive for their services an adequate compensation, to be fixed by law which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office, but they shall receive no fees or perquisites of office, nor hold any other office of profit under this Commonwealth, or under the government of the United States, or any other State of this Union. The Judges of the Supreme Court during their continuance in office shall reside within this Commonwealth, and the other Judges during their continuance in office shall reside within the district or county for which they were respectively elected.
