mail accommodations to California and Oregon Exertions have been made to execute that law: but the limited provisions of the act, the inadeout the immed provisions of the act, the inade-quacy of the means it authorizes, the ill adaptation quacy of the measure of compensation of that coun of our post office laws to the situation of that country and the measure of compensation of services ary, and the measure of compensation of services of labor and rents in California, render those exertions, in a great degree, ineffectual. More partic-

The act of 1845, reducing postage, has now, by its operations during four years, produced results fully showing that the income from such postage is sufficient to custain the whole expense of the service of the Post Office Department, not including the cost of transportation in mail steamers on the lines from New York to Chagres and from Panama to Astoria, which have not been considered by Congress as properly belonging to the

It is submitted to the wisdom of Congress whether a further reduction of postage should not now be made, more particularly on the letter correspendence. This should be relieved from the unjust burthen of transporting and delivering the franked matter of Congress; for which public service provision should be made from the Treasury. I confidently believe that a change may safely be made reducing all single-letter postage to the uni-form rate of five cents regardless of distance, without thereby imposing any greater tax on the Treasury than would constitute a very molerate com-pensation for this public service; and I. therefore respectfully recommend such a reduction. Should Congress prefer to abolish the franking privilege entirely, it seems probable that no demand on the Treasury would result from the proposed reduction of postage. Whether any further diminution should now be made, or the result of the reduction to five cents, which I have recommended, should be first tested, is submitted to your decision,

Since the commencement of the last session of Congress, a Postal Treaty with Great Britain has been received and ratified, and such regulations have been formed by the Post Office Departments of the two countries, in pursuance of that treaty, as to carry its provisions into fell operation. The attempt to extend this same arrangement, through England, to France, has not been equally successful; but the purpose has been abandoned.

For a particular statement of the condition of the Post Office Department, and other matters connected with that branch of the public service, I refer you to the Report of the Postmaster Gener

By the act of the 3d of March, 1849, a Board was constituted to make arrangements for taking the seventh census; composed of the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, and the Postmaster General: and it was made the duty of this Bonfil to prepare and cause to be printed such forms and schedules as might be necessary for the full enumeration of the inhabitants of the United States; and also proper forms and schedules for collecting in statistical tables, under proper heads, such information as to mines, agriculture, commerce, munufuctures, education, and other topics, as would exhibit a full view of the pursuits, industry, education, and resources of the country."— The duties enjoined upon the Census Board, thus established, having been performed, it now rosts with Congress to chact a law for carrying into effect the provision of the Constitution which requires an actual enumeration of the people of the United States within the ensuing year.

Among the duties assigned by the Constitution to the General Government is one of local and limned applications but not, on that account, the lass obligatory; I allude to the trust committed to Congress, as the exclusive legislator da I sole guardum of the interests of the District of Columbia. I beg to commend these interests to your kind at-tention. As the National Metropolis, the City of whose immortal name it bears, its claims to the within its own appropriate sphere. The first sec-tion of the Constitution ordains that "All legislative powers therein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives." The Executive has authority to recommend (n.t. to dietate) measures to Congress. Having performed that duty, the Executive Department of the Gorcrament cannot rightfully control the decision Congress upon any subject of legislation, until that decision shall have been ficially submitted to the President for approval. The check provided by the Constitution, in the clause conferring the qual-ined veto, will never be exercised by me. except in the cases contemplated by the fathers of the Republic. I view it as an extreme measure, to be resorted to only in extraordinary cases—as where it may become necessary to defend against the encroachments of the legi-lative power, or to prevent hasty and inconsiderate or unconstitutional legisla-tion. By cautiously confining this remedy within the sphere prescribed to it in the cotemporaneous tions of the framers of the Constitution, the expositions of the framers of the Constitution, will of the people, legitimately expressed on all subjects of legislation, through their constitutional organs, the Senators and Representatives of the United States, will have its full effect. As indis pensable to the preservation of our system of self government, the independence of the Representa tires of the States and the people guarantied by the Constitution; and they owe no responsibility to any human power but their constituents. By holding the Representantive responsible only to the people, and exempting him from a ll other in fluences, we elevate the character of the constitu ent and quicken his sense of responsibility to his country. It is under these circumstances only that the elector can feel that in the choice of the lawmaker, he is himself, truly, a component part of the sovereign power of the nation. With care we should study to defend the rights of Exedutive and Judicial Departments. Our Government can only be preserved in its purity by the suppres sion and entire elimination of every claim or ten dency of one co-ordinate branch to encroachmen

upon another. With the strict observance of this rule and the other injunctions of the Constitution-with a sedulous inculcation of that respect and with a sedulous inculcation of that respect and love for the Union of the States, which our fathers cherished and enjoined upon their children, and with the aid of that overruling Providence which has so long and so kindly guarded our sliberties and institutions, we may reasonably expect to transmit them with their immumerable blessings to the remotest posterity. But attachment to the Union of the States should be habitually fostered in every American heart. For more than half a century, during which kingdoms and empires have fallen, this Union has stood unshaken. The patriots who formed it have long since descended to the grave; yet still it remains, the proudest monument to their memory and the object of affection and admiration with ev ery one worthy to bear the American name. In my judgement, its dissolution would be the greatest of calamities, and to avert that should be the study of every American. Upon its preservation must depend our own happiness and that of countless generations to come. Whatever dangers may threaten it, I shall stand by it and maintain it in its integrity, to the full extent of the obligations imposed and the power confermal maintain in the standard of the obligations. imposed, and the power conferred with me by the Increase in Size: Reduction to Clubs PETERSON'S MAGAZINE, (or, LADIES! NATIONAL)

Edited by Ann S. Stevens. PROSPECTUS FOR 1850.

OR 1850, the subscriber, anxious to introduce the Ladies National into every family in the United States, will increase its size and reduce its prices to clubs.

Sare a Dollar:—The price of this Magazine is but two dollars per year, or one dollar less than the other magazines; yet the press unanimously pronounces it as complete as its more costly cotem poraries. When a club sends $10 or $20, the Lalies' National can be had for little over a dollar per

Increase in pages monthly .- In 1850, at least 19 extra pages will be given every month; and some-times 24; thus it will maintain the regular number of pages of the three dollar magazines, at one-third

Further improvements in 1850 .- Still other improvements will be made in the Magazine. Without abandoning its costly mezzotints, the Ladies' National will add new styles of illustration, in every walk of pictorial art. New type has also been purchased.

Illuminated in Gold.—The January number will be out by the first of December, and will be unequalled in beauty. In addition to the usual costly embellishments, will be an illuminated title-page, printed in seven colors, on a ground of gold." other respects, also, the January number for 1850 will excel anything we have ever published.

Eminent Literary Writers.—The literary conents of the Ladies' National are entirely by Amercan authors. The best writers are uniformly employed, and the consequence is that the newspaper press which has a good opportunity of comparing magazines, generally pronounces this periodical the most readable of all. No translation from immoral French authors, such as appear in other magazines, shall deface the pages of the Ladies National. Our im is to instruct as well as to amuse. .

Fashions Ahead of all Others .- This magazing has always been the best guide for the fashions, which we get in advance. The costumes are selected, engraved, and colored for us a month ahead of all rivals. To:each plate is added a full letterpress description, besides information on all the atest styles. This magazine is in our Eastern cities the Text Book of fashion; and the other magazines, in their fashion department, are but poor imitations

Best Ladies Magazine.-As its name imports, this periodical is peculiarly a magazine for the sex, and it is also, what none others are, thoroughly national. The general aim of its literature renders it more American than any rival. Its monthly pages on Horticulture; its illustrated articles on Embroid ery, Crochet-Work, and Netting, in addition to its colored Fashion plates, make it unquestionably the best magazine for ladies.

No sporn out English Plates.—Several of our cotemporaries impose on their readers with worn out English plates, which they publish as original. We patronize American art regardless of the extra expense. One of our superb mezzotints costs us more than two, or even three of the ordinary plates that appear in other magazines. Our series of mezzotints in a single year, makes a more splen did pictorial book than two six dollar annuals can furnish.

One copy, per annum, Three copies 7.50 Eight copies Seventeen copies " 20.00 Forty-three " " 50.00

The money at our risk, and the letter franked, or post-paid. All the magazines of a club must go to ne post-town, to come within these terms, As a premium for procuring any of the above clubs, a large and splendid engraving, of a size to hang up in a parlor, and valued at a print store at three dollars, will be sent : or a bound volume for 1849: or an "Antual of Plates" for 1850.
