Littell's Living Age.

PROSPECTUS.—This work is conducted in the spirit of Littell's Museum of Foreign Literature, (which was favorably received by the public for twenty years,) but as it is twice as large, and appears so often, we not only give spirit and freshness to it by many things which were excluded by a month's delay, but while thus extending our scope and gathering a greater and more attractive variety, are able so to increase the solid and substantial part of our literary, historical, and political harvest, as fully to satisfy the wants of the American reader.

The elaborate and stately essays of the Edinburgh Quarterly, and other Reviews; and Blackwood's noble criticisms on Poetry, his keen political Commentaries, highly wrought Tales, and vivid descriptions of rural mountain Scenery; and the contributions to Literary, History and Common Life, by the sagacious Spectator, the sparkling Examiner, the judicious Athenæum, the busy and industrious Literary Gazette, the sensible and comprehensive Britannia, the sober and respectable Christian Observer; these are intermixed with the Military and Naval reminiscenes of the United Service, and with the best articles of the Dublin University, New Monthly, Frazer, Tait, Ainsworth, Hood, and Sporting Magazine, and of Chambers' admirable Journal. We do not consider it beneath our dignity to borrow wit and wisdom from Punch; and, when we think it good enough, make use of the thunder of The Times. We shall increase our variety by importations from the continent of Europe, and from the new growth of the British colonies.

The steamship has brought Europe, Asia, and Africa, into our neighborhood; and will greatly multiply our connections, as Merchants, Travellers, and Politicians, with all parts of the world: so that much more than ever it now becomes every intelligent American to be informed of the condition and changes of foreign countries. And this not only because of their nearer connection with ourselves, but because the nation seems to be hastening, thro' a rapid process of change, to some new state of things, which the merely political prophet cannot compute or forsee.

Geographical Discoveries, the progress of Civilization, (which is extending over the whole world) and Voyages and Travels, will be favorite matter for our selections; and, in general, we shall systematically and very fully acquaint our readers with the great department of Foreign affairs, without entirely neglecting our own.

While we aspire to make the Living Age desirable to all who wish to keep themselves informed of the rapid progress of the movement—the Statesmen, Divines, Lawyers, and Physicians—to men of business and men of leisure—it is still a stronger object to make it attractive and useful to their Wives and Children. We believe that we can do some good in our day and generation; and hope to make the work indispensable to every well-informed family. We say indispensable, because in this day of cheap literature it is not possible to guard against the influx of what is bad in taste and vicious in morals, in any other way than by furnishing a sufficient supply of a healthy character. The mental and moral appetite must be gratified.

We hope that by "winnowing the wheat from the chaff," by providing abundantly for the imagination, and by a large collection of Biography, Voyages and Travels, History, and more solid matter, we may produce a work which shall be popular, while at the same time it will aspire to raise the standard of public taste.

TERMS.—THE LIVING AGE is published every Saturday; Price 12½ cents a number, or six dollars a year, in advance. Remittances for any period will be thankfully received and promptly attended to. To insure regularity in mailing the work, orders should be addressed to the office of publication, as above. CLUBS, paying a year in advance will be supplied as follows:

Four copies for	$20 00
Nine " "	40 00
Twelve " "	50 00

Complete Sets, in twenty-three volumes, to the end of 1849, handsomely bound, packed in neat boxes and delivered in all the principal cities, free of expense of freight, are for sale at 46 dollars.

Any Volume may be had separately at two dollars, bound, or a dollar and a half in numbers.

Any Number may be had for 12½ cents; and it may be worth while for subscribers or purchasers to complete any broken volume they may have, and thus greatly enhance their value.

BINDING.—We bind the work in a uniform, strong and good style; and where customers bring their numbers in good order, can generally give them bound volumes in exchange without any delay.—The price of the binding is 50 cents a volume. As they are always bound to one pattern, there will be no difficulty in matching the future volumes.

AGENCIES—We are desirous of making arrangements in all parts of North America, for increasing the circulation of this work—and for doing this a liberal commission will be allowed to gentlemen who will interest themselves in the business. And we will gladly correspond on this subject with any agent will send us undoubted references.

POSTAGE—When sent with the cover on, the Living Age consists of three sheets, and is rated as a pamphlet, at 4½ cents. But when sent without the cover, it comes within the definition of a newspaper given in the law, and cannot legally be charged with more than newspaper postage, (1½ cts.) We add the definition alluded to:

A newspape is "any printed publication, issued in numbers, consisting of not more than two sheets and published at short, stated intervals of not more than one month, conveying intelligence of passing events.

MONTHLY PARTS.—For such as prefer it in that form, the Living Age is put up in monthly parts, containing four or five weekly numbers. In this shape it shows to great advantage in comparison with other works, containing in each part double the matter of any of the quarterlies. But we recommend the weekly numbers, as fresher and fuller of life. Postage on the monthly parts is about 14 cents. The volumes are published quarterly, each volume containing as much matter as a quarterly review gives in eighteen months.

E. LITTELL & CO., Boston, Mass.

WASHINGTON, 27 Dec. 1845.

OF all the Periodical Journals devoted to literature and science which abound in Europe and in this country, this has appeared to me the most useful. It contains indeed the exposition only of the current literature of the English language, but this, by its immense extent and comprehension, includes a portraiture of the human mind in the utmost expansion of the present age. J. Q. ADAMS.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

NEW YORK EVENING POST.—Littel's Living Age keeps up its character. The back numbers contain a prodigious amount and variety of the best periodical literature of England.

NEW YORK EXPRESS—A new weekly magazine established at Boston, by Mr. E. Littell, whose taste and talents are too well known throughout the country to require particular notice. It is elegantly executed as it regards both type and paper. Its contents are selected from the most distinguished periodicals of Europe, LOUISVILLE JOURNAL.—A handsome weekly magazine. The articles the choice ones that appear in the periodicals of Great Britain. Mr. L's qualifications are universally known.

CINCINNATI DAILY TIMES—The selections are of a high order of merit, and afford an agreeable variety, being confined to no particular department of literature. There is the grave and the gay, both of prose and poetry, all in the most beautiful and finished style. Every general reader should take the Living Age, if he wishes to become acquainted with the world around him, and progress with it.

In short, a whole newspaper might be filled in the vain attempt to enumerate the one half of the articles kept for sale at TURRELL'S. This is the right place to buy Goods, and to buy them cheap.—The best kind of Drugs are kept here, and from the variety and quality of them, great inducements are offered physicians to make it their place of regular purchase. The public generally are invited to call and examine the quality and prices of goods.
