

THE REGISTER.

STILLMAN FULLER, Acting Editor, During the absence of the publisher in the duties of his appointment as Deputy Marshal.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1850.

Whig Nominations. FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER, JOSEPH DUNGAN, of Bucks county. FOR AUDITOR GENERAL, HENRY W. SWITZER, of Union county. FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL, JOSEPH HENDERSON, of Washington.

WOOD wanted immediately on subscription, at this office.

Our Candidate for Congress. The proceedings of the Whig Congressional Conference will be found in another column. We are more than satisfied with the result of that conference.

JOHN C. ADAMS and WILL BE ELECTED BY EVERY WHIG DISCHARGES HIS DUTY IN THE PRESIDENTIAL CONTEST. Hope, cheering hope is dawning upon us, and it can but inspire every lover of the honor and prosperity of his state and country with energy for the triumph of whig principles.

The annual Fair of the agricultural society, held in this village yesterday, was well attended by the intelligent yeomanry of the County. The assemblage was larger than at any previous time, and the increasing interest in the operations of the society, displays that the farming community of this county are not unconscious of the improvement susceptible in their business, and the advantage derivable from the association formed for their mutual benefit.

"A time and season for all things," and now is the time for politics. Important political matters are pressing themselves upon our attention now, and will for a few weeks to come. Our readers who are fond of miscellany, must excuse us if we trespass a little upon their good nature till after election.

THE FOREST DIVORCE CASE.—The notorious Edwin Forrest, who occupied so much attention in the State Senate last winter, commenced a suit in August against his wife in the Court of Common Pleas for the city and county of Philadelphia, for a divorce.

A restless fellow driving his team at a furious rate down the public Avenue yesterday, when the street was filled with people attending the Fair, ran over a young child, killing her.

The Locofoco Meeting. We replace other matter to give a brief sketch of the meeting of the Hunter Locos at the Court House last evening. Bradford, it seems, feels a deeper interest for the benighted political leaders of Susquehanna, and we understand a sort of political Missionary Society is there established for the dissemination of political truth in Susquehanna.

Mr. Lowry of Tioga next took the floor. His voice was so low we may possibly misreport him; but we understood him to acknowledge all that had been alleged against him as to his opposition to the regular nominee of the party both in '46 and '48. Now, Mr. Lowry's faction are urging his election on the all-absorbing virtue of "regular nominations" and his consistent democracy, and opposing Wilnot because he failed to endorse regular nominations in 1848!

But that Piolet—steam and thunder! what an explosion! We never heard him before, and never desire to again. We have heard of him, and that was at Harrisburg, taking strong ground for the "Proviso," and claiming the pithiness of the resolutions which were passed so unanimously by the Legislature of '47 in favor of Mr. Wilnot's course, in advocating which, with his characteristic energy, he was wont to exclaim, "we must sustain Dave!"

Col. Piolet, whose whole life has been one complete tissue of inconsistencies, is the last man to complain of the irregular course of others; and had he not more brass than sense, he could not face the man and do it.

Col. Piolet arose to address the meeting at the close of Mr. Lowry's speech, amid a deafening call for "Wilnot," who was present. Throughout the whole time he occupied the floor, which was nearly or quite two hours, the most ludicrous scenes were almost constantly taking place which we ever witnessed on any occasion. This taunts, jeers, and hisses, and almost every kind of "noise and confusion," often arose above his stentorian voice, and compelled him to stand speechless upon the floor.

SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.—We are happy to announce the appointment of the Hon. A. H. H. Stuart, of Virginia as Secretary of the Home Department, and his acceptance thereof. Mr. Stuart was formally a representative in Congress, and during the period of his services as a member of the House was an able champion of the Protective Policy.

JENNY LIND.—The receipts of her first concert in New York were upwards of $27,000. Jenny has given the whole of her share of the receipts, amounting to over $10,000 to various societies and public charities. The excitement is running as high as ever, and all the art of Barnum, is brought into requisition to keep it up: The receipts of her second concert will fall but little short of the first, the tickets being disposed of at auction at an average price of five dollars. A perfect Jenny Lind mania is raging in New York.

The Senatorial Conference has met this day and nominated Elihan Smith of Wyoming County as the whig candidate for the State Senator.—This selection is a good one and dictated by sound policy. To Wyoming belongs the candidate, and we are happy her claims have been respected by the whig Conference. The proceedings are in another column.

V. B. PALMER'S BUSINESS MEN'S ALMANAC for the year 1851, is upon our table. It is replete with valuable statistical matter, imparting important information to all. To business men generally we would particularly commend it. A billing could be sent on to either of the following: Published by V. B. PALMER, No. 157 Nassau Street, New York. Advertising Agency, Tribune Buildings, New York. Single copies 12 cents, $1.00 per dozen, $7 per hundred, $65 per thousand.

Meeting of the Senatorial Whig Conference. In pursuance of an arrangement made between the conferees from the Senatorial District composed of the counties of Bradford, Susquehanna and Wyoming, the said conferees met at the Hotel of L. Searle, in Montrose, on Thursday Sept. 19th.

Bradford—Hiram Mix, and M. C. Mercer. Susquehanna—Orange Mott, Jr., Benjamin S. Bentley. Wyoming—Wilber Rassel, and G. S. Tuttor. On motion, Hiram Mix, Esq., was called to the Chair and B. S. Bentley appointed Secretary.

Meeting of the Whig Congressional Conference. The Congressional Conference of Susquehanna, Tioga, and Bradford, convened at the Bradford House, in Towanda, on Tuesday evening, Sept. 10th.

Resolved, That the depressed condition of the great industrial interests of Pennsylvania and the Union, demands a repeal of the odious Tariff of 1846, and the re-establishment of a revenue system that will discriminate in favor of the products of American labor.

Resolved, That having entire confidence in the ability and integrity of JOHN C. ADAMS, and believing that he will truly and faithfully carry out these cardinal doctrines of the Whig party, in our National councils, we unanimously present him to the people of Susquehanna, Tioga, and Bradford counties, as our candidate for Congress.

On motion, Henry Drinker, Allen M'Kean and W. D. Bailly, were appointed a committee to inform Mr. Adams of the action of this conference. On motion, W. C. Bugarl, L. Searle, and O. F. Taylor, were appointed a committee to draft an address to the Whigs of this Congressional District.

TOWANDA, Tuesday evening, September 10, 1850.

J. C. ADAMS, Esq.: Sir—The undersigned were appointed a committee by the Whig Congressional Conference of Susquehanna, Bradford and Tioga, to inform you in this place, to inform you that the Conference, confiding in your ability and integrity, and believing that your views fully coincide with the doctrines set forth in the resolutions accompanying this note, have unanimously nominated you as the candidate for Congress of the Whig party of this Congressional District, and ask your acceptance of the same.

With sentiments of high esteem, We remain yours, &c. HENRY DRINKER, ALLEN M'KEAN, W. D. BAILLY.

TOWANDA, Sept. 10, 1850. GENTLEMEN:—Yours of this evening, with accompanying resolutions, has just been handed me. The nomination tendered, being unanimous, I cheerfully accept it.

I concur most fully with your resolution in regard to the Tariff as well as that in relation to the non-extension of Slavery into territory now free.—To its farther extension, I am as a Whig and as a man, utterly opposed, and would at all times and under all circumstances, use all fair and honorable means to prevent it. Between this and the day of election I shall take occasion to make my sentiments upon these and perhaps other questions, fully known to the people of the district, and for that purpose shall go among them.

I tender you, and those you represent, my hearty thanks for the honor done me by a unanimous nomination for Congress in this District, and remain, Very truly, your obt servant, J. C. ADAMS.

To Henry Drinker, Allen M'Kean, W. D. Bailly, Committee, &c.

THE young Ladies and Gentlemen of Lenox (I say young, for the majority present were of that class,) have made a move which is worthy of example. They met pursuant to notice, at the school-house near Lenox Pond, on Friday evening of last week for the purpose of forming (or reviving) a Temperance Society. After listening to some very able remarks delivered by Messrs. LENO and CARPENTER of Harford University, the most of those present amounting to 42 in number, pledged themselves to total abstinence. The following resolution was then adopted:

Resolved, That this Society be called the Lenox Temperance Society, independent of Political or Sectarian principles.

After choosing the proper officers the society adjourned to meet again on Friday evening the 11th of October. Let the young ladies and gentlemen of every school district in Pennsylvania follow their example—form themselves into societies for the purpose of putting down the "monster intemperance," and use their united influence to induce the young, the old and the middle-aged, to shun the paths of that instigator of crime and misery, and soon our Poor-Houses will be turned into Churches, our Prisons Work shops, and the "fall destroyer" will no longer be seen stalking forth with his damning tread to blight the fairest portion of society. Montrose Sept. 18th 1850. T. W.

DEATH OF DR. NES.—The Daily News announces the death of Dr. Nes, which was prematurely reported in the papers some time since. He died at his residence in York, on Tuesday evening, the 3d inst. He was about fifty years of age.

The Small Note Law. We understand it is asserted by the Locofoco candidate for representative in this county, Mr. Mowry, that the law against small bills is a Whig measure and was strongly recommended by Gov. Johnston.

From the vote on the law which we published last week and again re-publish—as we mean to keep it before the people—it will be observed that Mr. Mowry's name is recorded in the affirmative. This bare fact is enough to show the utter falsity of the statement; for no one in his sober senses would for a moment believe that the views upon this question held by so bitter a Locofoco as Mr. Mowry, would coincide with the Governor's.

Resolved, That the depressed condition of the great industrial interests of Pennsylvania and the Union, demands a repeal of the odious Tariff of 1846, and the re-establishment of a revenue system that will discriminate in favor of the products of American labor.

Resolved, That having entire confidence in the ability and integrity of JOHN C. ADAMS, and believing that he will truly and faithfully carry out these cardinal doctrines of the Whig party, in our National councils, we unanimously present him to the people of Susquehanna, Tioga, and Bradford counties, as our candidate for Congress.

On motion, Henry Drinker, Allen M'Kean and W. D. Bailly, were appointed a committee to inform Mr. Adams of the action of this conference. On motion, W. C. Bugarl, L. Searle, and O. F. Taylor, were appointed a committee to draft an address to the Whigs of this Congressional District.

TOWANDA, Tuesday evening, September 10, 1850.

J. C. ADAMS, Esq.: Sir—The undersigned were appointed a committee by the Whig Congressional Conference of Susquehanna, Bradford and Tioga, to inform you in this place, to inform you that the Conference, confiding in your ability and integrity, and believing that your views fully coincide with the doctrines set forth in the resolutions accompanying this note, have unanimously nominated you as the candidate for Congress of the Whig party of this Congressional District, and ask your acceptance of the same.

With sentiments of high esteem, We remain yours, &c. HENRY DRINKER, ALLEN M'KEAN, W. D. BAILLY.

I concur most fully with your resolution in regard to the Tariff as well as that in relation to the non-extension of Slavery into territory now free.—To its farther extension, I am as a Whig and as a man, utterly opposed, and would at all times and under all circumstances, use all fair and honorable means to prevent it. Between this and the day of election I shall take occasion to make my sentiments upon these and perhaps other questions, fully known to the people of the district, and for that purpose shall go among them.

I tender you, and those you represent, my hearty thanks for the honor done me by a unanimous nomination for Congress in this District, and remain, Very truly, your obt servant, J. C. ADAMS.

To Henry Drinker, Allen M'Kean, W. D. Bailly, Committee, &c.

THE young Ladies and Gentlemen of Lenox (I say young, for the majority present were of that class,) have made a move which is worthy of example. They met pursuant to notice, at the school-house near Lenox Pond, on Friday evening of last week for the purpose of forming (or reviving) a Temperance Society. After listening to some very able remarks delivered by Messrs. LENO and CARPENTER of Harford University, the most of those present amounting to 42 in number, pledged themselves to total abstinence. The following resolution was then adopted:

Resolved, That this Society be called the Lenox Temperance Society, independent of Political or Sectarian principles.

After choosing the proper officers the society adjourned to meet again on Friday evening the 11th of October. Let the young ladies and gentlemen of every school district in Pennsylvania follow their example—form themselves into societies for the purpose of putting down the "monster intemperance," and use their united influence to induce the young, the old and the middle-aged, to shun the paths of that instigator of crime and misery, and soon our Poor-Houses will be turned into Churches, our Prisons Work shops, and the "fall destroyer" will no longer be seen stalking forth with his damning tread to blight the fairest portion of society. Montrose Sept. 18th 1850. T. W.

DEATH OF DR. NES.—The Daily News announces the death of Dr. Nes, which was prematurely reported in the papers some time since. He died at his residence in York, on Tuesday evening, the 3d inst. He was about fifty years of age.

intelligent as education can make it. Men are not born blind, or with collars on their necks. We want good order, just laws, and the honest administration of business.

It was most obvious from the opening of the session, that neither Free Soilers nor Slavery Extensionists could have the whole controversy settled as they wished. It was clear that sort of fix-up termed a compromise would ultimately prevail.—The history of like controversies in the past—the increasing public weariness of a struggle which promised no result—the anxiety of the Congress should devote its attention to measures of practical legislation—the intense and all but universal leathing of Congressional speeches, especially those relating to slavery—all pointed to one result. To stand obstinately still, refusing to do anything but that which could not be done, was to court defeat and odium.

Resolved, That the depressed condition of the great industrial interests of Pennsylvania and the Union, demands a repeal of the odious Tariff of 1846, and the re-establishment of a revenue system that will discriminate in favor of the products of American labor.

Resolved, That having entire confidence in the ability and integrity of JOHN C. ADAMS, and believing that he will truly and faithfully carry out these cardinal doctrines of the Whig party, in our National councils, we unanimously present him to the people of Susquehanna, Tioga, and Bradford counties, as our candidate for Congress.

On motion, Henry Drinker, Allen M'Kean and W. D. Bailly, were appointed a committee to inform Mr. Adams of the action of this conference. On motion, W. C. Bugarl, L. Searle, and O. F. Taylor, were appointed a committee to draft an address to the Whigs of this Congressional District.

TOWANDA, Tuesday evening, September 10, 1850.

J. C. ADAMS, Esq.: Sir—The undersigned were appointed a committee by the Whig Congressional Conference of Susquehanna, Bradford and Tioga, to inform you in this place, to inform you that the Conference, confiding in your ability and integrity, and believing that your views fully coincide with the doctrines set forth in the resolutions accompanying this note, have unanimously nominated you as the candidate for Congress of the Whig party of this Congressional District, and ask your acceptance of the same.

With sentiments of high esteem, We remain yours, &c. HENRY DRINKER, ALLEN M'KEAN, W. D. BAILLY.

I concur most fully with your resolution in regard to the Tariff as well as that in relation to the non-extension of Slavery into territory now free.—To its farther extension, I am as a Whig and as a man, utterly opposed, and would at all times and under all circumstances, use all fair and honorable means to prevent it. Between this and the day of election I shall take occasion to make my sentiments upon these and perhaps other questions, fully known to the people of the district, and for that purpose shall go among them.

I tender you, and those you represent, my hearty thanks for the honor done me by a unanimous nomination for Congress in this District, and remain, Very truly, your obt servant, J. C. ADAMS.

To Henry Drinker, Allen M'Kean, W. D. Bailly, Committee, &c.

THE young Ladies and Gentlemen of Lenox (I say young, for the majority present were of that class,) have made a move which is worthy of example. They met pursuant to notice, at the school-house near Lenox Pond, on Friday evening of last week for the purpose of forming (or reviving) a Temperance Society. After listening to some very able remarks delivered by Messrs. LENO and CARPENTER of Harford University, the most of those present amounting to 42 in number, pledged themselves to total abstinence. The following resolution was then adopted:

Resolved, That this Society be called the Lenox Temperance Society, independent of Political or Sectarian principles.

After choosing the proper officers the society adjourned to meet again on Friday evening the 11th of October. Let the young ladies and gentlemen of every school district in Pennsylvania follow their example—form themselves into societies for the purpose of putting down the "monster intemperance," and use their united influence to induce the young, the old and the middle-aged, to shun the paths of that instigator of crime and misery, and soon our Poor-Houses will be turned into Churches, our Prisons Work shops, and the "fall destroyer" will no longer be seen stalking forth with his damning tread to blight the fairest portion of society. Montrose Sept. 18th 1850. T. W.

DEATH OF DR. NES.—The Daily News announces the death of Dr. Nes, which was prematurely reported in the papers some time since. He died at his residence in York, on Tuesday evening, the 3d inst. He was about fifty years of age.

intelligent as education can make it. Men are not born blind, or with collars on their necks. We want good order, just laws, and the honest administration of business.

It was most obvious from the opening of the session, that neither Free Soilers nor Slavery Extensionists could have the whole controversy settled as they wished. It was clear that sort of fix-up termed a compromise would ultimately prevail.—The history of like controversies in the past—the increasing public weariness of a struggle which promised no result—the anxiety of the Congress should devote its attention to measures of practical legislation—the intense and all but universal leathing of Congressional speeches, especially those relating to slavery—all pointed to one result. To stand obstinately still, refusing to do anything but that which could not be done, was to court defeat and odium.

Resolved, That the depressed condition of the great industrial interests of Pennsylvania and the Union, demands a repeal of the odious Tariff of 1846, and the re-establishment of a revenue system that will discriminate in favor of the products of American labor.

Resolved, That having entire confidence in the ability and integrity of JOHN C. ADAMS, and believing that he will truly and faithfully carry out these cardinal doctrines of the Whig party, in our National councils, we unanimously present him to the people of Susquehanna, Tioga, and Bradford counties, as our candidate for Congress.

On motion, Henry Drinker, Allen M'Kean and W. D. Bailly, were appointed a committee to inform Mr. Adams of the action of this conference. On motion, W. C. Bugarl, L. Searle, and O. F. Taylor, were appointed a committee to draft an address to the Whigs of this Congressional District.

TOWANDA, Tuesday evening, September 10, 1850.

J. C. ADAMS, Esq.: Sir—The undersigned were appointed a committee by the Whig Congressional Conference of Susquehanna, Bradford and Tioga, to inform you in this place, to inform you that the Conference, confiding in your ability and integrity, and believing that your views fully coincide with the doctrines set forth in the resolutions accompanying this note, have unanimously nominated you as the candidate for Congress of the Whig party of this Congressional District, and ask your acceptance of the same.

With sentiments of high esteem, We remain yours, &c. HENRY DRINKER, ALLEN M'KEAN, W. D. BAILLY.

I concur most fully with your resolution in regard to the Tariff as well as that in relation to the non-extension of Slavery into territory now free.—To its farther extension, I am as a Whig and as a man, utterly opposed, and would at all times and under all circumstances, use all fair and honorable means to prevent it. Between this and the day of election I shall take occasion to make my sentiments upon these and perhaps other questions, fully known to the people of the district, and for that purpose shall go among them.

I tender you, and those you represent, my hearty thanks for the honor done me by a unanimous nomination for Congress in this District, and remain, Very truly, your obt servant, J. C. ADAMS.

To Henry Drinker, Allen M'Kean, W. D. Bailly, Committee, &c.

THE young Ladies and Gentlemen of Lenox (I say young, for the majority present were of that class,) have made a move which is worthy of example. They met pursuant to notice, at the school-house near Lenox Pond, on Friday evening of last week for the purpose of forming (or reviving) a Temperance Society. After listening to some very able remarks delivered by Messrs. LENO and CARPENTER of Harford University, the most of those present amounting to 42 in number, pledged themselves to total abstinence. The following resolution was then adopted:

Resolved, That this Society be called the Lenox Temperance Society, independent of Political or Sectarian principles.

After choosing the proper officers the society adjourned to meet again on Friday evening the 11th of October. Let the young ladies and gentlemen of every school district in Pennsylvania follow their example—form themselves into societies for the purpose of putting down the "monster intemperance," and use their united influence to induce the young, the old and the middle-aged, to shun the paths of that instigator of crime and misery, and soon our Poor-Houses will be turned into Churches, our Prisons Work shops, and the "fall destroyer" will no longer be seen stalking forth with his damning tread to blight the fairest portion of society. Montrose Sept. 18th 1850. T. W.

DEATH OF DR. NES.—The Daily News announces the death of Dr. Nes, which was prematurely reported in the papers some time since. He died at his residence in York, on Tuesday evening, the 3d inst. He was about fifty years of age.

LOUIS PHILIPPE, King of the French, died at Claremont on the 26th ult.