DISTRESSING OCCURRENCE .- We have seldom been called upon to chronicle a more distressing circumstance than the following which occurred in this eity ou Wednesday

Two small children, the eldest aged 12 and the other about 2 years, daughters of Mr. Dark, having been left, for a short time, with no other person about the house, met with a serious accident which resulted in the death of the younger. It appears that two older daughters having gone out upon some errand, left the children in charge of the House, the eldest of whom passed into another room for a moment, from where the child was, and during her temporary absence the clothes of the latter caught fire.

The oldest little girl, on perceiving the sitnation of her sister, by wrapping her own clothes around her, attempted to extinguish having communicated to her own dress, she made an effort to put out the fire by wrapping a bed quilt about their persons. But this attempt was also abortive, and catching her little sister in her arms, she rushed into the street and shricked aloud for help. No help was at hand, however, and ere their situation was discovered, their clothes were almost entirely consumed, and their bodies most terribly burned and blackened. Altho' medical aid was promptly procured, and every assistance that could be given rendered, the youngest of the children lingered but a few hours, ere her sufferings were brought to a close by the fell destroyer, death. The elder of the little sufferers, though most shockingly injured, and enduring the most intense agony, it is hoped will recover. Her heroie

FRANCE .- A Cabinet Council was held on the 19th, at the Elysse, to consider the dispute between Austria and Prussia, respecting the admission of the States, belonging to the former into the German Confederation. It was eventually resolved to forward instruc- subject as a very worthy and respected citizen, tions through the French minister at Vienna late of Brooklyn in this county, where he he let to that court, reiterating the displeasure of numerous friends and acquaintances to sympatise the Republic at the conduct of Austria, intis with a bereaved family in the loss of one who was mating at the same time that should any a kind brother and a stay and support to parents couffict take place between the two German in their declining years :]powers, France would support Prussia.

From Germany we hear that the King of Prussia refuses to accede to the agreement which his representatives had made, admitting Austria to bring all her German Provinces into the German Confederacy. It seems too, that the Court of St. Petersburg protest. against this scheme of annexation. This is not surprising. Austria is subjugated by Russia, but not submissive ; and could she but once shelter her Slavonic Magyar and Italian Kingdoms within the boundary of Germany, and thus control and wield the gone to his reward-gone to join the lost to Heat power of the Confederacy, she would at once renounce her hated vassalage, and become a rival instead of a dependent. This restive disposition is of conrse no secret at St. Petersburg, and this protest may be taken as a check put upon it.

A furious skirmsh' took place in Rome a few days back between the native troops and the flames, but failed in this, and the fire a body of French soldiers, occasioned by the latter having quizzed the former about their habiliments. In this, as well as in similar skirphishes, the inferiority of the French in hand to hand combats, is as evident as then
