Fall & Winter Arrangements for 1852---3.

Union Hall Wholesale & Retail

Clothing Warehouse,

Corner of Fulton and Nassau streets, New York.
(Established A. D. 1850.)

THIS immense establishment, which occupies three large six story buildings, contains six leading distinct departments, sub-divided into various minor branches, each having its separate corps of salesmen. These departments are distributed over six floors, and the system upon which they are conducted insures prompt and satisfactory attention to the wants and wishes of every purchaser. The stock of Ready Made Clothing is the most comprehensive, varied, and fashionable in the United States, and the apparel made to measure cannot be surpassed in style, workman-ship or material, by any house in New York; while as regards cheapness, in every department, comparison is invited, and competition defied.

Organization of the Establishment.

The entire system of the concern is under the general superintendance of Mr. J. Souder, whose long experience and thorough knowledge of the various branches qualify him admirably for the situation of manager. The first floors are devoted wholly to the Retail business, and are stocked with an unsurpassed assortment of Fashionable & seasonable clothing for gentlemen and boys. S. H. Noe, Director of the gent's department. The boy's department comprises a complete assortment of the most tasteful and elegantly cut suits for boys ever offered in this city—W. K. Taylor, superintendant. The second floor is the Custom Department, where all styles of fashionable and serviceable goods are kept, and gentlemen's and boy's Clothing made to measure by the best artists.—None but Cutters of the very first class are employed. Managers—James T. Barry and William Helon. The third and fourth floors are appropriated to the wholesale branch. Buyers will here have an opportunity of selecting from a stock, the extent and variety, the beauty and cheapness of which must be seen to be appreciated. This department is under the direction of A. Phillips, with several assistants. The fifth and sixth floors form the manufacturing portion of the establishment—superintendent, J. C. Parr. Purchaser of Trimmings, Fancy Goods, &c. T. Scales.—P. L. Rogers purchaser of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings, &c.

☞No advertisement can convey an adequate idea of the vast business done at Union Hall; of its extensive stock; its order and regularity, and the cheap prices which laid the foundation of its popularity, and continue to sustain and increase it. The Proprietor, under whose own eye the whole system works so satisfactorily, respectfully invites buyers and the public generally, to come and see for themselves. P. L. ROGERS, Proprietor.
J. SOUDER, Superintendent.

CARRIER'S ADDRESS

TO THE PATRONS OF THE

"SUSQUEHANNA REGISTER."

January 1st, 1853.

The year Fifty-two has departed forever,
Like the white-crested wave on the fast flowing river;
It has gone, has departed, it will never return,
Oh, plant ye the willow to weep over its urn.
Like a drop in the ocean, a breath in the blast,
That year has been lost in the measureless past.
No more will we gaze on its leaves and its flowers.
Its sunshine and starlight, its rainbow and showers;
For its leaves and its flowers are sleeping in dust,
Its rainbow and sunlight have forsaken their trust,
And will smile on the New Year as loving and bright,
As they did on the Old in its hours of delight.
Its starlight and showers, they are recreant too,
They've forsaken the Old Year & are courting the New:
Thus it is when the vigor of life has decayed,
When the frame, growing weak, calls the staff to its aid,
When no longer the eye in its loveliness glows,
And the locks have been sprinkled with a centurys snows,
Then friends will forsake you, their hearts will grow cold,
They will leave you uncared for because you are old.

I was musing thus, on yester-night,
Beside my taper's feeble light,
When I beheld, within my room,
A lovely female form;
She stood amid the shadows' gloom
And beckoned with her arm.
O she was lovely and fair to see,
As lovely and fair as aught could be;
She was dressed in gold and jewels rare,
"And an eagle plume in her dark brown hair,"
A robe of purple silk she wore,
A sceptre of gold in her hand she bore,
All studded with diamonds, rich and bright,
That glanced and glared in the taper's light.
Her shoes were all of the Poland fur,
And jewelled rings on her hands she wore;
A robe of costliest minever
On her lovely snow-white arm she bore.

I am the Goddess of Time said she;
Mortal arise! and come with me,
And behold the things I will show to thee.
I will show unto thee the years that are gone,
Encamped upon the Eternal plains,
Their tents, their banners, their gonfalons,
Their marshaled rank and glittering trains.
I will show thee the realms of the Past said she,
And explain their mysteries unto thee.

Prose and followed her gliding form,
As she led the way through the howling storm.
We traversed the hill, and we trod the plain,
For many a mile ere we paused again.
At length we stood on a mountain's height,
Where the snow and the ice shone fair and bright;
For the stormy clouds had rolled away,
And the moon sent down her silver ray;
The stars looked forth, and the winds were still,
And heaven's blue vault spanned dale and hill:
All was serene, and bright and fair,
And my nerves were braced by the cool night air.
The Figure paused, and showed me where
Her car of gold all radiant stood,
All glittering in the moonlight there,
That shimmered through the leafless wood.
The horses were white as the drifted snow,
Their harness shone with a ruddy glow,
For rubies were studded around the hames,
Their nostrils spouted streams of flame.
We took our seats in the glittering car,
She lashed the steeds—like a falling star
We sped away to the realms afar.

We sped away, through the ether blue,
And alighted on the Eternal plains,
Bespangled all with the diamond dew,
Where uninterrupted summer reigns.
Mortal, behold, said the goddess fair,
My empire here in the realms of air,
Behold the army of Years that are gone,
Their tents, their banners, their gonfulons,
Their spears and shields, their armor bright,
As it flashes back the Eternal light—
Behold, said she, my empire here,
And mourn no more the departed year.
I looked and saw, on the field immense,
Rows on rows of most beautiful tents;
They were decked all o'er with streamers fair,
That shook and danced in the cool night air,
They were lined with silk of crimson hue,
And bordered with fringes of gold and blue,
The outside cloth was as pure and white
As the snow on Chimborazo's height,
Which, leaning against the azure sky,
Seems like a pure white cloud on high.

They seemed to me like a snowy ledge
Of sunset clouds, with their golden edge.

We moved along, and as we passed.
I saw that the tents more dusky grew;
Each one was gloomier than the last,
And the linings had lost their crimson hue;
They were mildewed, and soiled, and covered with dust,
And the spears & the shields, they were eaten with rust,
The streamers and flags defaced and torn,
And the fringes of gold all dim were worn.
But where are the tenants of these, said I,
They are spirits of air, she made reply;
And cannot be seen by mortal eye.

Just then I saw that another tent
Was being reared by hands unseen,
The ropes and flags all upward went,
And spirits arranged the silken screen;
And over the door they placed a scroll,
Embroidered with letters of gold and blue;
I saw its folds all slow unroll,
'Twas Eighteen Hundred and Fifty Two.

We entered and saw that the walls were hung
With pictures, and names in every tongue,
And some were placed in golden frames,
And some were dressed in a mourning hue;
And I noticed that the different names
Were written in black, and red, and blue.

'These pictures and names,' said the goddess fair,
"Are the records here, in these realms of air,
Of the many events that have happened on earth,
Since Eighteen Fifty Two had birth;
They will tell for aye what happened then,
Among the degenerate sons of men."
"Behold," said she, "and remember well
What these pictures and names to thee shall tell."

The first that I saw was one of those
That were hung in the bright and gilded frames
It showed a speaker, from out whose lips
There seemed to be rolling words of flame.
The crowd was swaying to and fro,
Like waves of the sea when north winds blow,
And banners and flags were dancing in air,
Waved in the hands of the people there.
"This," said the goddess, "thou'lt understand,
Is Kossuth pleading for Fatherland."

And I saw the departure of Henry Clay,
And America mourning her Webster gone,
And England weeping above the clay
Of her mightiest chieftain, Wellington.

And I saw the emigrants, young and old,
Crossing the seas, in quest of gold.
And far to the North, in the polar sea,
Surrounded with ice and frozen snow,
I saw two ships, dismantled all,
And covered with ice, aloft and alow;
And the northern wolf and the polar bear
Were prowling around the vessels there;
And I wondered much if these hapless men
Would ever behold their homes again.

I saw them treading the merry dance,
Afar on the sunny plains of France.
While trumpet and bugle loud were blown,
And cannon replied with thundering tone,
Methought I heard—but am not sure—
The shouts of Vive l' Empereur.

Just then I heard a clamor loud
As thunder breaking through a cloud;
Hail Fifty-Two! the accents rang,
The eternal hills sent back the clang.
Hail, Fifty-Two! was shouted round,
The Echoes prolonged the stirring sound:
The glittering spears in air were cast,
And the banners waved without a blast;
And shields were strook, and armor's clang
Loud and more loud and louder rang,
While the goddess, waving her golden wand,
Welcomed the year to the Spirit Land.

Then the spears, and shields, and armor bright,
And the beautiful tents all faded in night,
And vanished the plain where the white tents lay,
And the Goddess passed in a mist away;
Where I saw the flags and the streamers dance,
Was naught but a dark and drear expanse.

I woke with a start—I was in my room;
My light had gone out, and all was gloom;
Then the last stroke of twelve just struck on my ear,
And I wished all the world a happy New Year.

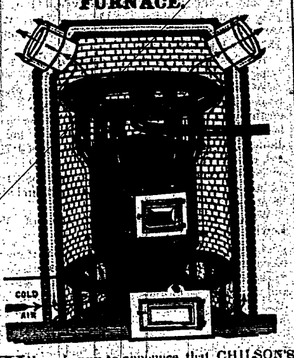
CHILSON'S PATENT.

World's Fair Prize Medal FURNACE.



WE are happy to announce that CHILSON'S PATENT AIR WARMING AND VENTILATING FURNACE, as recently improved and patented, is declared by high and reliable authority to be the Best Furnace in the World.

Not only is this furnace and our system of Ventilation proved and declared to be the best mode of Warming and Ventilating DWELLINGS, CHURCHES, ACADEMIES, SCHOOL HOUSES, COURT and STATE HOUSES, HOSPITALS, STORES, &c., in nearly all the cities and towns in the United States, but is meeting with equal favor in the Canadas, England, Russia, and other Foreign Countries. It has been awarded at the recent Fairs in this country GOLD AND SILVER MEDALS, FIRST PREMIUMS, and lastly, the GREAT PRIZE MEDAL at the WORLD'S FAIR, LONDON. It has been subjected to the most rigid investigation & severe practical tests, and unanimously declared the best. (See the printed reports of the Fairs, also City and State public Committees on Public Buildings.) We have more than twenty-five hundred references, many of whom are professional gentlemen, whose scientific attainments in such matters are well known. To attain this desirable object, the inventor of this Furnace first abandoned the manufacture of the common frail hot air furnaces seven years since, under the settled conviction that red-hot iron furnaces burn the oxygen out of the air, producing an unhealthy, scorching, disagreeable odor, unfit to be inhaled by human beings; besides the constant cracking and burning out of the pots which permits the poisonous gases to escape and mingle with the air; and then the annoyance and expense of repairs, new pots, &c. He now has the satisfaction of knowing that his efforts to secure a HEALTHY, ECONOMICAL and DURABLE APPARATUS, for thoroughly Warming and Ventilating buildings, has been entirely successful. They posses the following advantages: purity of air, powerful heaters, economical plan for burning anthracite, bituminous coals or wood, all equally well—flues easily cleared out—great durability of furnace, not liable to repairs for a lifetime; perfect safety against setting buildings on fire in which they are located; may be set in low cellars. Sizes for all classes of buildings. Also four sizes of new and superior PORTABLE FURNACES—Dr. Clark's Improved BOSTON SCHOOL STOVE.

REGISTERS of all descriptions; HOT AIR GRATES; ROOM VENTILATORS, &c.

Emerson's celebrated VENTILATORS for Roofs of Buildings and smoky chimneys, &c. COOKING RANGES, with or without Bath Boilers and Hot-Air Fixtures. All sizes and styles of those beautiful

MIRROR MARBLE MANTELS, Parlor & Chamber Frame Grates,

Of rich European and American styles. Also a splendid article of LIVERPOOL SOFT COAL GRATES, for Parlors, &c.

Architects, Builders, and the public generally, please examine our extensive assortment. Personal attention given to warming and ventilating buildings in any part of the country.

Another Scientific Wonder!
GREAT CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA!
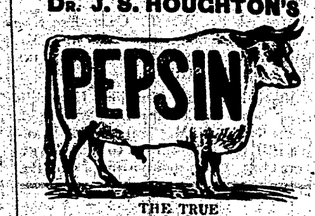
Dr. J. S. HOUGHTON'S



THE TRUE
DIGESTIVE FLUID,
OR, GASTRIC JUICE.

Prepared from RENNET, or the fourth STOMACH OF THE OX, after directions of BARON LIEBIG, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D. Philadelphia, Pa.

This a truly wonderful remedy for INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, JAUNDICE, LIVER COMPLAINT, CONSTIPATION, and DEBILITY, Curing after Nature's own method, by Nature's own Agent, the Gastric Juice.

☞Half a teaspoonful of Pepsin, infused in water, will digest or dissolve, Five pounds of Roast Beef in about two hours, out of the stomach.

Pepsin is the chief element, or Great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving, and Stimulating agent of the Stomach and Intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming an artificial digestive fluid, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it. By the aid of this preparation, the pains and evils of Indigestion and Dyspepsia are removed, just as they would be by a healthy Stomach. It is doing wonders for Dyspeptics, curing case sof Debility, Emaciation, Nervous Decline, and Dyspeptic Consumption, supposed to be on the verge of the grave. The Scientific Evidence upon which it is based, is in the highest degree curious and remarkable.

Scientific Evidence.

BARON LIEBIG in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid, analogous to the Gastric Juice, may be readily prepared from the mucous membaane of the stomach of the Calf, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened, changed and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach."

☞Call on the agent and get a descriptive Circular, gratis, giving a large amount of scientific evidence similar to the above, together with reports of remarkable cures, from all parts of the United States.

As a Dyspepsia Curer

Dr. Houghton's Pepsin has produced the most marvellous effects, in curing cases of Debility, Emaciation, Nervous Decline, and Dyspeptic Consumption. It is impossible to give the details of cases in the limits of this advertisement, but authenticated certificates have been given of more than two hundred remarkable cures, in Philadelphia, New York and Boston alone. These were nearly all desperate cases, and the cures were not only rapid and wonderful, but permanent.

It is a great Nervous Antidote, and particularly useful for tendency to bilious disorder, liver complaint, fever and ague, and the evil effects of quinine, mercury, and other drugs upon the Digestive Organs, after a long sickness. Also for excess in eating, and the too free use of ardent spirits. It also reconciles Health with Intemperance.

Dr. Houghton's Pepsin is prepared in powder and fluid form—and in prescription vials for the use of physicians.

Private Circulars for the use of Physicians may be obtained of Dr. Houghton or his agents, describing the whole process of preparation, and giving the authorities upon which the claims of this new remedy are based. As it is not a secret remedy, no objection can be raised against its use by physicians in respectable standing and regular practice Price, ONE DOLLAR per bottle.

☞OBSERVE THIS.—Every bottle of the genuine Pepsin bears the written signature of J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D., sole proprietor, Philadelphia, Pa. Copy-right and Trade-mark secured.

☞Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicines. ABEL TURRELL, Druggist, &c.
