A New York J. P.

Lest some inconsiderate reader should assume that the following letter is a fabrication, we beg leave expressly to declare that it is a veritable production, here printed from the original without the slightest variation in word, letter or punctuation. It was sent to an enterprising publishing firm in Auburn, in this State, who had announced the "The New York Justice," a legal publication as "in press." The letter upon inquiry was found to be entirely authentic, the writer living then as now, in a certain town in the county of Ontario. His name was suppressed with the exception of the initials:

"Mr. D. ——— Sir ——— I Reced in a little Book the other day an accont of a book Call the new yorke justice which yu as is in the press. I would like to no when you will will git him presed as I want one of them books most orfully I was elected Squire last Spring to our town Meten to take effect the first of January my friends told me that the County Clerk would qualifi me I Called on him the first of january to be qualified and he said he Culd not do that thing he culd aware me in and I must do the other my Selfe here I am green as Cattle never Sude any body —never was Sude; witness never but once on a gurl twise and at that time never thout of bein Squire please rite me when you will have that book presed I will give you your prise if you wont take any les. Yours &c.

D. D. S——— Squire."

Mr. D. D. S., Square, is a fine specimen of a "Gustis of Peace" in one of the noblest of our mid land counties, isn't he? It would have been cloth a trate to hear him "lay down the law" to his less informed auditory!—Ex. pr.

SALANDER AND THE DRAGON.—Since the days of John Bunyan, no allegory has appeared so useful in its character, and so perfect in its construction, as the one with the above title, for which we are indebted to that sterling publisher, John S. Taylor, of New York. The author Fredk. Wm. Shelton, is an Episcopal clergyman on Long Island, who, it hitherto unknown, can not long remain in obscurity after writing this work. "Salander, a romance of the Hartz Prison," is simply a description of the origin and workings of Slander in the Hearts of men; its insiduous disguises, its cool and callous cruelty, and its various modes of destruction of honor, of virtue, of character, and of life, are given in an allegory, the more striking and impressive from its quaint names and mode of exhibition. The work comprises nearly 200 pages, with illustrations, neatly bound in red muslin, and will be forwarded, free of postage, by mail to any part of the United States, on the receipt of an order with fifty cents, sent to John S. Taylor, 143, Nassau St., New York.

PENNSYLVANIA ANTHRACITE COAL AT THE WEST.—The Buffalo Commercial states that Capt. Arthur Edwards has decided to use anthracite coal on his magnificent new steamers now being completed at that place, and has contracted with the Lackawana and Western railroad Company for a supply of their celebrated coal from the Diamond mines of Scranton Pa., to be delivered at Buffalo, during the coming season. Also, that a quantity has been ordered for the Michigan Central Railroad Company's steamers for trial, and that extensive arrangements are being made to forward to Buffalo large quantities of this coal for steamboats, foundry and domestic purposes, as well as for shipment on the lake the coming season. The price at which the coal will be sold, adds the Commercial, cannot fail to introduce it rapidly into general use, and must necessarily create a large and growing market as this point.

SUNBURY AND ERIE RAILROAD.—The people of Northern and Northwestern Pennsylvania seem to be fully aroused to the importance of a speedy completion of this public improvement. They are taking hold of the subject in the right spirit. The citizens of Lock Haven have subscribed $20,000, and those of Clinton county, $100,000. The city of Erie has also subscribed $300,000. We also observe the proceedings of a meeting at Jersey Shore last week at which a resolution was adopted recommending the subscription of $200,000 by the commissioners of Lycoming county. Let these movements be followed by citizens of other counties equally interested in the construction of the road and the whole amount of capital necessary for its completion will soon be raised.

PROHIBITION IN NEW JERSEY.—The Maine Liquor Law, with several modifications, has been reported to the New Jersey Legislature. The friends of the measure have strong hopes of its passage. It is to be subject to the popular vote.—Liquor may be manufactured under it, but not for sale; and it can only be sold by persons appointed for the purpose, for medicinal and mechanical uses. Unauthorized persons are fined $10 for the first and $20 for every subsequent offence. Manufacturers are fined $100 for the first and $200 for subsequent offences, and undergo a limited imprisonment. Private houses cannot be searched, except on affidavit that there is reason to believe liquor is sold there. Notes, bonds, &c., in payment for liquor are void.

RAILROAD SAFETY.—We are always rejoiced at every attempt to lessen the dangers of locomotion, and are therefore glad to learn that Judge Carpenter, of Rome, N. Y., has invented a method of preventing cars from running off. It consists of a middle rail in the centre of and raised considerably above, the outer rails, and fastened to the same cross ties. A saddle is attached to the engine and at both ends which sets over the middle rail, with friction rollers to play on both sides of it, thereby preventing the cars from rocking or running off. Whenever there is a tendency to run off, the friction rollers play against the middle rail, and bring them back to their place again. It costs $500 a mile.

THE LIBERIAN REPUBLIC.—Commodore Lavalette, commanding the African squadron, writes in the most encouraging manner of the condition and prospects of Liberia. He says, "I believe were it generally known to the colored population of the United States that Liberia offered to them a home possessing incalculable advantages, and the means of transporting them, provided, few of them would remain in this country."

We find that this fact has, for some time, been gradually gaining advocates in the United States, and enlisting in support of it many able pens—among them [illegible] Hayman, who has recently [illegible] But his father's hand is no longer for

NEW COUNTERFEITS.—A new counterfeit ten dollar note of the Harrisburg Bank, we understand, has made its appearance. It is said to be well calculated to deceive, though as we have not seen it we cannot give any particular description.

Counterfeit $10's on the Wyoming Bank of Wilkesbarre, are also in circulation. The general appearance of the note is bad, and the engraving poorly executed, though calculated to deceive those not accustomed to the handling of Bank paper. The shading of the title and the denomination is very coarse and irregular. In genuine notes the shading is always in fine parallel lines. A large amount of counterfeit 2's on the Farmer's Bank of Lancaster, and 1's on the Lancaster Bank are circulating in this community.

Chance to make Money.

Mr. EDITOR:—Will you please give the following a place in your paper. It will give those who are opposed to a reform in our spelling, an opportunity of testing the merits of the "good old way." Let them prove for themselves that it is not necessary to "carry a stone in one end of the bag, to balance wheat in the other," because our forefathers did; but that wheat will do as well. It will cost but little to make the trial.

PREMIUM FOR GOOD READING AND SPELLING.

Dr. James W. Stone, of Boston, Mass., makes the following offer:—"I will give $500 to any one who will, within two months, find for me a child, not more than six years and one month old, who will read and spell, in the common orthography, better than one of the children of the Boston Phonetic School, of the same age, can do the same. Or I will make the same offer to any one who will find a class of either two or three children from the same school, of an average age, not exceeding seven years and one month, and who will read and spell in the common orthography, better than the same number of the Boston Phonetic School of the same age." Who will take the Doctor up? He is able to foot the bill; and the risk is all on one side.
