

Increase of Salaries.

Five Prospects ahead for the Democracy.
The United States Senate have amended the Appropriation Bill so as to increase the salary of the Vice President from $5,000 to $8,000 a year, those of the Heads of Departments from $6,000 to $8,000 a year; the salaries of the Ministers to Great Britain, France, Russia, and Spain each from $6,000 to $12,000 a year, besides salaries for private Secretaries; that to Turkey from $6,000 to $10,000.

The salaries also of the Clerks of all the Departments are raised from $900 to $1,200, $1,800, $2,000 and $2,200. A new office is created, to be called Assistant Secretary of State, with a salary of $3,000 a year.

The coming in administration and its friends will have fine times. They have the power and the Treasury at their command, and they are determined to use it. This is but the beginning of the reign, what the latter end will be is beyond the view of mortal eyes.—Pennsylvania Telegraph.

CLIMATE AND CHARACTER.—Nothing is commoner than to hear persons talk of the warm blood of the South Europeans, which is supposed to depend upon the warm climate, and there must produce violent outbursts of passions. This is used to explain the bloody revenge of the Corsicans. But the Hindoo, who lives in a far warmer climate than the Italian, is brought forward as an instance of patience and resignation; while the Turk, who has come to Europe from warmer regions, is noted for his phlegmatic temperament. Is the Dutchman more passionate than the Norwegian or Scotchman? and whence came the sanguinary vindictiveness of olden times to Scandinavia, even in that cold Iceland?

It is imagined that mountaineers possess more strength of pre-energetic character, and more warlike spirit, than the inhabitants of plains; the character of the latter is supposed to be softer. Thus it is thought the Norwegian and Swede are more energetic than the Dane. Mountain countries, perhaps afford more numerous examples of obstinate defences behind the cliffs of narrow valleys, but a man is not to be called courageous because he has a good shield. The soil of Denmark, however, has not sunk since that time it sent out those combatants who kept the population of the Atlantic and Mediterranean coasts in terror; whence did they acquire their spirit, and has it not really vanished? They were inhabitants of the plain of Northern Germany, who rose against Napoleon's despotism; the July revolution took place on the plains, and on the plains did the Poles, etc., in vain! fight probably the last battle for their liberty.

It is believed that the great pre-eminence of the Europeans above the inhabitants of the rest of the world is caused by Europe being so intersected by the sea, and so free from elevated plains, so that communication between the nations is much facilitated. But in the great Indian Archipelago of the West Indies, communication is still easier. The cause of the war civilization in India, and Egypt is sought in the great rivers Indus, Ganges, and Nile, which so greatly facilitate intercourse; but civilization did not exist on the largest rivers of the world, the South American Amazon and Plata, until the Europeans sought it.—Schow's Earth Plants and Animals.

A Chinese preacher in a Christian pulpit is a novel incident of the times, yet such an incident, we notice, in which in the services at Christ Church, Savannah, on the evening of the 13th, in aid of the Episcopal Mission in China, Tong Choo Keung, a christianized Chinaman, and a pupil of the Missionary School at Shanghai, made a touching and affective appeal on behalf of his benighted countrymen. The address was simple and affecting, and considering the great difference between the idioms of the Chinese and English languages, was pronounced distinctly, and with great correctness. Among other things, he said, that, when he arrived in New York, he was astonished at the fine buildings he saw on every side, such as were not to be seen in China. This enabled him to distinguish, better than before the difference between the countries, where God is worshipped, and where idols. Shall not China be thus blessed! I thank you that you sent a Bishop and ministry, through whom I was brought to the knowledge of God. But we have not yet seen enough. China is taught, and children are taught there, in ignorance of the true God.

Elder King, whose daughter Mary, a black man (one Allen, "Professor" in McGrawville College, in New York) wanted to wed the other day, had an indignation public permitted, we see, now expressing his thanks to that public, for preventing the consummation of his daughter's disgrace. The young lady, it seems, had been an inmate of McGrawville Institution, the negro Allen being her instructor. Black teacher and white students associating together there, and all taught that they must do away with color, it is to wonder that the opportunity was sought to put in practice the principles enunciated. The indignation of the affrighted is excited among the whites in that part of the State is said to be intense, and if there be an effort to repeat these attempts at amalgamation, there will be reason to fear deplorable results. The Black Professor, who wished to marry the Elder's daughter, subsequent developments demonstrate, is a sheep of the very blackest kind. No other white women already having fallen a prey to his arts!

DISCOVERY OF GOLD IN VIRGINIA.—We learn from the Lynchburg (Va.) Express that a few days ago a party of hunters, engaged in digging after a fox, which had burrowed in a cliff on Pine Creek, discovered a vein of quartz mingled with a yellow mineral. A specimen of the mineral was sent to Mr. Scott, a silversmith, in Jacksonville, who, after assaying it pronounced it gold. The vein is eight feet wide, eleven inches thick, and of unknown length. A solid foot of the quartz will yield, upon an average, six dollars per pound.

To KEEP A STOVE BRIGHT BY TWO APPLICATIONS A YEAR.—Make a weak alum-water, and mix your "British luster" with it; put two spoonfuls to a gill of alum-water; let the stove be cold, brush with the mixture, then take a dry brush and dry luster, and rub the stove until it is perfectly dry. Should any part before polishing become so dry as to look gray, moisten it with a wet brush, and proceed as above.—N. O. Courier.

TRIBES TO WEBSTER.—Mr. Mesher in his speech at the supper given him in Boston, the other evening, said in allusion to Mr. Webster:

The crowd of thoughts which press upon my mind in the shadow of your great monument descends upon me, and the spirit of your statesman rising from the base, swells into the proportion of the plain shaft, and towering with it, in immortality as in life, watches beside it, over the growth of your fortunes, the stability of your constitution and confederation, and the silent, but resistless expansion of your principles and example, forbid me to say more.

LAST OF THE MOHAWKS.—3779 Indians in New York comprise the total remainder of the once powerful confederacy of the Six Nations. Seneca numbering 2679, Tuscaroras 280, Cayugas 139, Onondagas 457, Oneidas 213, and Mohawks one.

The Mohawks were the fiercest and most dreaded of the New York savages. The very name of "Mohawk" passed into a proverb in Europe, for all that was subtle, ferocious and terrible. And now we have reached the last of the race. How few years, at the present rate, will suffice to bring about the extermination of the whole Six Tribes Confederacy!

MARRIAGES.

By Wm. T. Case, on the 23d ult. Mr. John D. Scott, of Hartford, and Miss Eliza J. Tickner, of Gibson.

Deaths.

In Jessup Township, Feb. 28th, PARTHENIA NEWCOMB, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Newcomb, in the 49th year of her age.

In Jessup, on the 2d inst., Mrs. MARILLA HAGANS, aged 46.

In New Milford, on the 17th ult., Mrs. DOROTHY STRAKER, wife of Ira Summers Eq., aged 56 years.

She had long lived the life of a Christian, though much of the time too feeble to attend public worship; yet ever striving, to trust to the will of her master who is in heaven. Life went out as a candle in the socket of a candle-stick, and she at last slept the quiet sleep of death, resting as it were, in Jesus' arms. If anything can make one feel the truth of Baham's words, it would seem it must be the softness of the death of such a Christian. Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like his.

Her epistles at the closing scene, might well be expressed by the words of Sir Philip Sidney on a like occasion.—Love my son, govern your will and affections by the will and word of the Creator, in me beholding the last end of this world, with all her vanities."
