Pennsylvania Legislature.

IN THE SENATE.

MARCH 9, 1853.

On motion of Mr. Sanderson, Senate bill No. 274, to incorporate the Canton and Athens railroad company, was taken up; pending the amendment to an amendment submitted by Mr. Sanderson, when the bill was last up, to authorize the company to extend a branch through the county of Susquehanna or Wyoming; which was adopted.

Mr. Sanderson then submitted another amendment, to authorise the company to extend branches to the coal mines in Franklin and Monroe townships, Bradford county; which was adopted.

Mr. Sanderson moved to amend further by inserting a provison imposing a tax on all tonnage except bituminous coal, passing over that part of the road along the North Branch canal; which was also adopted.

Mr. Sanderson also moved further to amend, to authorise other railroad companies, connecting with this road, to subscribe to the stock of the same. Also adopted.

The bill as amended then passed second reading; and coming up on its final passage,

Mr. Buckalew moved that the Senate go again into committee of the whole for the purpose of considering an amendment to strike out the authority to the company to extend a branch through Susquehanna or Wyoming county, and confine it to a branch through Susquehanna alone.

Mr. Buckalew and Mr. Kunkel further continued the discussion, Mr. Kunkel having the floor when the hour of one o'clock arrived, and the Senate adjourned.

EVENING SESSION.

The Senate met at 7 o'clock P. M., agreeably to resolution of Monday last.

The bill to incorporate the Canton and Athens railroad company came up in order of second reading; pending the motion of Mr. Buckalew to go again into committee of the whole for the purpose of amending the amendment of M. Sanderson, as stated in the morning's proceedings.

The motion was agreed to by the following vote:

Yeas, 23—Nays, 3.

The Senate then again went into committee, and the amendment of Mr. Buckalew, to confine the branch to Susquehanna county, was adopted; and the bill on final passage was laid over.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MARCH 9, 1853.

The veto of the Governor to the supplemental bill incorporating the Lancaster, Lebanon and Pine Grove railroad company was taken up; and the question being shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor? was negatived after some discussion, by a vote of Yeas 31, Nays 55.

IN THE SENATE.

FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1953.

Mr. Forsyth presented a petition from citizens of the city and county of Philadelphia, for the establishment of an office for the collection of taxes.

Also, a number of remonstrances from the citizens of the Lackawanna Valley, against any interferance with the charter of the Susquehanna and Lackawanna railroad company.

Mr. Hamlin of Wayne, presented six remonstrances signed by one hundred and twelve citizens of Wayne and Susquehanna counties, of similar import with the last above mentioned, and for the repeal of the Jefferson railroad charter.

Mr. Sanderson several, signed by two hundred and fifty-six citizens of same valley.

Mr. Hamlin of M'Kean, several, by request, of like import.

Mr. Myers one to establish an agricultural school in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Fric called up Senate bill No. 405, to incorporate the Pennsylvania female college, in Montgomery county. Passed committee and second and final reading. Adjourned.

NOT KILLED QUITE.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer thus sums up a succession of defeats of the Democratic party:

It is a little singular that the election of General Pierce was the last sucess which the Democratic party has any where achieved. In North Carolina, with a clear majority in the Legislature, it was unable to elect its candidate in the Senate, at last took up a renegade from the whig party, and failed with him. In Maine, one of the strongest Northern Democratic states, it lost its Governor, and appears in a fair way to concede the Senate to the whigs. In Massachusetts, where it has borne sway for two years, it has experienced a terrible defeat; losing all save its honor, which was left behind long ago, as an "unconsidered trifle." In Delaware, Mr. Clayton has ridden over all opposition, though he and his friends have been ostracised for three years in the little Bay State. In New Jersey, the Democracy saved appearances only by conferring its choicest honor on a whig whose coat has been so recently turned that the gloss is not yet worn off. In Louisiana the Democracy undertook to reverse the act of the previous Whig Legislature with so little success, that its representatives here are denying the attempt.

MORE VICTIMS.—The Lockport Courier says a well known merchant of that city, H. Nichols, Esq., has lost his reason, "owing to some communications that have been made to him by the mediums from the spirit world." Apropos, the Superintendent of the Lunatic Asylum at Utica, says that insanity is fearfully on the increase in that State. From Monday until Friday last, five days, seventeen new patients were admitted into that institution—the greatest number ever before admitted in so brief a space of time. There is no doubt that this increase is owing, in a great measure, to the unhealthy state of excitement caused by the "spiritual" humbugs of the day.

Southern Dilapidation.

A correspondent of The Ledger writes as follows from Norfolk:

Norfolk appears to be one of those dead alive places, of which I am told there are many in the "Old Dominion." Who on looking through this place, with its dilapidated store-houses, would believe that she once contended, and with every appearance of success, to wrest the whole European trade from New York. However, after she got under weigh, a conflagration tremendously destroyed her store-houses and with a knowledge of Virginian character, you, of course, will not be surprised to learn that the business of the place was completely done up. Nobody thought after the fire of rebuilding the stores, and taking a fresh start, with a determination of doing better next time.—Oh no! that would have been Yankee-like, but too degrading for Virginia, and as the elements were against Norfolk as a commercial city, why, of course, she had got to go down, when to rise Heaven only knows. Hever, it will not be by the actions of Virginians. I have no doubt whatever, that if a few hundred good Yankees were to locate here with a determination to build up trade with Europe, it might easily be accomplished; not to compete with New York, Boston and Philadelphia, but to build up a trade independent of all three cities. Think of Hampden Roads, completely sheltered as a harbor, with a depth of sixty feet of water, and receiving the James River, a stream as large as the Delaware; the Roads extensive enough to bear upon its bosom a fleet of ten thousand ships of war! If Virginia had been peopled by as enterprising a set of people as Philadphia even, which is not saying a great deal, what would Norfolk be now? Instead of a miserable little soap-pot town of twelve or fifteen thousand inhabitants, she would count her population by hundreds of thousands, and James River, a noble stream, would be bordered by villages as the Delaware is, instead of old rattle-trap, tumble-down, one-and-a-half story wooden houses, painted with paint the color of the wood, that is, no paint at all, as is now the case, and very few and far between at that. In fact I do not believe there is in the whole distance, from Richmond down to the mouth of the river, 140 miles, ten good houses, and the land looks impoverished.

The Cleveland Herald gives the particulars of a recent movement on the part of the women of Ashland, Ashland Co., Ohio, to restrain the liquor traffic, which is quite novel. The Herald says: "Some thirty of them, well backed by gentlemen, proceeded to the grocery of Anthony Jacobs, and asked him to discontinue the sale of liquor and the use of a 'bagatelle' board, which had enticed many of the youth and some of the married men from their homes. He refused, and the ladies chopped his 'bagatelle' table into kindling-wood and emptied his liquors.—They then visited another grocery and a tavern, both of which capitulated. Mrs. Witz, better known as 'Mother Younkers,' was obstinate, and the spigots were pulled from her whisky barrels," and now not a drap of the critter can a solitary horseman, which may be seen in the twilight of a spring day winding his way into that town, obtain to put into his camphor bottles.

THE SACRIFICE OF A MEDIUM.—A man whose name is Samuel Cole, residing in Washington county, Ohio, who was made insane from the workings of the spirit rappings delusion, became possessed of the idea that he must offer, like Abraham of old, a sacrifice to the Ruler of the Universe. He accordingly proceeded to carry his object into execution, by taking off one of his feet, which he succeeded in doing, a few days since in a very scientific manner, and with a heroic determination that would compare with the self-sacrificing deeds done in the earlier ages. His family fearing that some other of his limbs might be demanded in a like cause, had him conveyed to the Lunatic Asylum at Columbus, where he is now in the enjoyment of as much liberty as the nature of his disease will warrant the superintendent of that institution in granting him.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.—Three young ladies residing in Wayne county, N. Y., belonging to the temperance and Bloomer society, were invited last week by a couple of young gentlemen to accompany them to an evening sleigh ride. They consented, with a proviso that they were not to be taken to any tavern where liquor was sold! The vehicle was accordingly driven up, and the ladies, imagined that their wishes were complied with. After a drive of five or six miles the sleigh hauled up at a public house where liquor was sold. One of the ladies requested the barkeeper not to sell the party any liquor. This was not heeded. The three ladies then called for a private room and supper, refusing to return home with their drivers, remained all night, and next morning walked home a distance of nearly six miles.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.—Washington, created by the last Congress, comprises that part of Oregon which lies north of the channel of Columbia river, to where it crosses the 46th degree of latitude, to the top of the Rocky Mountains. The land occupied by missionary stations, not exceeding 640 acres to each, together with the improvements, is expressly confirmed to the Missionary Societies respectively which established the same. Stations that were so occupied prior to the passage of the Act authorizing the Territory of Oregon, are also confirmed to the Societies which established them, even though they have since been abandoned.

His Stock of Groceries is full and well bought, and consequently can be sold cheap. He has also a few Choice Liquors for medicinal purposes, which he can afford as low as a more inferior article has generally been bought for. Please call before purchasing elsewhere, at the old stand of Pitts & Warner, in the building formerly known as the "Farmers Store," opposite the "Democrat office."

WHEREAS C. D. Lathrop & S. A. Woodruff have formed a co-partnership, under the name and firm of C. D. Lathrop & Co., as dealers in STOVES, TIN WARE, &C.; and whereas it is desirable that the same should be made known to the public, for the public good as well as our own;—

Notice is therefore hereby given to the good people of Montrose and the region round about, that we may still be found laboring at our vocation, at the old stand on Main Street, where we shall be happy to see our friends, and to supply their wants to the best of our ability.

A WORD TO EVERYBODY.

Attend! ye dwellers 'neath the sun!
Behold the wonders Art hath done!
We talk by lightning, ride by steam,
And paint by Sol's eternal beam!

BUT without stopping to enumerate the many benefits derived from the "wire" and "track," we would call your attention to the advantage of procuring one or more of these beautiful which are taken at the Odd Fellow's Hall, by the aid of "heaven's own sunlight" and W. B. Deans, the Artist.

Daguerreotype Portraits,

He has just returned from the City, not like the Doctor, with his "head full of knowledge," but with a new and interesting supply of plates and cases, gold and plated lockets, pins, keys, &c.

Among his latest styles of cases are the Madame Sontag, Turtle Shell, and Ladies' Own—the most splendid and attractive patterns ever offered to the public. Come and see! Admission free.

Montrose, Dec. 7th, 1852. W. B. DEANS.

Philosophy of saving the Teeth.

IT is simply this: We first carefully and thoroughly remove all the decayed matter from the cavity, then after shaping it properly and wiping it dry, we press into it gold or silver foil which are very soft and malleable, and continue to compress them until we have rendered them as hard as the solid metal. We thus completely exclude both air and moisture, the universal agents of decay, and the consequence is that the tooth decays no more in that part, and rarely does it ever commence in any other part, but should it, the cure must be repeated, and I have seldom seen an instance where it had to be repeated a third time, or even a second. If your teeth are decaying your only hope is in the Dentist. They may be affected and you not know it. A tooth usually decays a long time before it aches and persons are very apt to suppose them "all right" so long as they keep quiet. The fact that they have not troubled you is the very reason why you should have them attended to before they do. One fact more: when a tooth has become painful, you are "behind time" in going to get it filled, "the cars are off," you must groan and lose it.

Thus, courteous reader, I have given you both fact and Philosophy, if not with the profoundness of a Newton, yet truthfully, you may depend, with the hope of inducing you to call on me at "ODD FELLOWS' HALL" and submit your teeth to examination and repair, if needed. By so doing you may promote both your own interest and mine.

Yours emphatically and Professionally,

C. D. VIRGIL, Dental Surgeon.
