The Citizen.

This is the title given to the new paper which has just made its appearance in New York, and edited by John Mitchel. We are frank to admit that we have been disappointed in the tone of this journal. The editor has taken a position which will prove injurious to the cause in the United States. Sentiments like the following are uncalled for, and will cause serious apprehensions as to the stability and permanency of the paper:

"We are not abolitionists;—no more abolitionists than Moses or Socrates, or Jesus Christ. We do not think it is a crime, or a wrong, or even a peccadillo to hold slaves, to buy slaves, to sell slaves, to keep slaves to their work by flogging or other needful coercion. 'By your silence,' we are told, 'you will become a participator in their wrongs.' But we will not be silent when occasion calls for speech and act for being a participator in the wrongs, we wish that we had a good Plantation stocked with negroes in Alabama."

The New York Tribune comments on the above unwise speech of the Irish editor in just terms when it says:

"If liberty for Ireland and the Irish is sought in the spirit evinced, and on the principles avowed by the Citizen, it can hardly be necessary to say that the effort will be fruitless, and the hopes of its champions a mockery. Alas for the aspirations of the wronged and oppressed, if their incitement to struggle for liberty is the horrible desire of buying, selling, and lashing each other!"

We desire to have as little to do with the Citizen as circumstances will warrant, but we cannot refrain from making one more quotation from its columns, to show the heartless and unmeaning position which the editor has selected. Read the following:

"In war, everything that will either kill, hurt, or burn, or blast an enemy, is good. Bless your innocent heart, vitriol is good for nothing. If there had been, as there ought to have been, an insurrection in Dublin, in 1848, and if the women in the upper stories could have rained hell-fire upon the enemies of their country, they would have watered the Revolutionary garden till it blossomed like the rose."

LABOR-SAVING MACHINE FOR THE SPIRITUAL RAPPERS.—The New York Tribune of yesterday says:—We are not surprised at learning, by a letter from Mr. J. T. Pease, of Thompsonville, Connecticut, that he has succeeded in inventing a machine which he denominates the Spiritual Telegraph Dial. This apparatus is contrived with a dial face on which are marked the letters of the alphabet, the Arabic numerals, the words Yes and No, and some other convenient signs.

A moveable hand, or pointer, is fixed in the centre; and when a ghost wants to communicate with its pupils and friends in the body, all that is requisite is for it to give a gentle twitch to the pointer and the revelation is accomplished. Mr. Pease states that with a good tipping medium to facilitate the movements of the pointer by agitating the table, letters will be indicated on the dials as fast as an amanuensis can write them down. There is also an arrangement by which the dial may be concealed from the sight of the medium, so that he cannot know what it is that is being said by the ghost.

As is the case with the steamboat and the electric telegraph, the glory of first applying labor-saving machinery to spiritual rappings, cannot be claimed as exclusively American, or at least the claim will be disputed by foreign nations. Mr. Pease's letter is dated on December 5th last, but we learn from Berlin, that as early as November 15th, the Baron Lieutenant Colonel Von Forstner had exhibited at a public lecture in that city, a machine called the Psychograph, (the invention of a Mr. Wagner, which, we must say, seems rather ahead of the Spiritual Telegraph Dial.

This German apparatus is so arranged that the ghosts not only point to the letters of the alphabet, but when they feel like it, can employ a pencil held by the machine over a sheet of paper convenient for their use. It is even said that poetry, (we hope it was much above the usual level of ghostly lyrics) was written down in that way, and very tolerable jokes made by the machine before a public audience, without the intervention of any human hand. At least, so it is related in respectable journals, while with regard to Baron Lieut. Col. Von Forstner, we can testify that he is a man of character and repute.

PEREMPTORY ACTION OF LOUIS NAPOLEON.—The Presse very positively confirms the story told by the Independance Belge about the peremptory message lately sent by Louis Napoleon to the English Government. It is says this journal, perfectly true that France called upon Great Britain to take the course which became imperatively necessary after the disastrous affair of Sinope; it is perfectly true that France declared to Great Britain that if the British squadron did not receive immediate orders to enter the Black Sea conjointly with the French squadron, the latter would enter alone to protect Turkey efficaciously. It is moreover, perfectly true that Lord Aberdeen, "faisant contre fortune bon coeur." replied, without hesitation, without delay, on the very day the application was made, by the most complete adhesion to the categorical declaration of France.

The orders given to the squadron are said to be to cruise in the Black Sea in such a way as to constitute a sort of impassible maritime barrier from Varna to Batoum, not permitting either Turkish or Russian fleets to cross the line, but leaving each of them perfect freedom of action on their own side.—The Presse argues that war on any large scale is now much more improbable than it was before the allies resolved upon this last step.

It is not an admissible supposition that Russia will devote her Black Sea fleet to destruction by provoking the united French, English and Turkish naval forces to an unequal combat. Nicholas will, therefore, be placed between these two alternatives: either he must indefinitely prolong a situation excessively humiliating and inconvenient to him, or he must speedily evacuate the Principalities. The latter course will hurt his pride less than to let his fleet remain practically blockaded in the port of Sebastopol.—N. Y. Times.

☞ Mitchell in his lecture at Boston the other evening, "on the position and duty of European refugees in America," agreed to show that to the country of their adoption their whole and undivided duty belongs, irrespective of prejudice or previous ties; and that to pretend to be an American citizen without such devotion was to be treasonable. With this devotion it becomes the refugees duty to sustain the laws, for the protection those laws afford them. Irish refugees must not look back to the country they have left with any other feeling than as American citizens—must sympathise with their country only as Americans may sympathise with Hungary and be none the less American. He would encourage education in arms among the refugees, for the purpose of defending their adopted country against foreign invasion, or assist their struggling friends abroad, as American citizens have the right to do; that the land would have no more efficient defenders. Irish votes should be given with regard to the public good. It should be the refugees' duty to obey the government, and vie with the natives in zeal in its support. He called upon all to abandon religious prejudices and hatreds, and uproot the tree of whose bitter fruits their babes might eat and die.

Broke Jail.

On Monday night, Edward Smith and Darius Hinman escaped from the jail of this county, by sawing off the bars of the window of their cell, and scaling the wall of the jail-yard. They probably had assistance from without. Smith is an Irishman, about 45 years old, about 5 feet in height, thick set, round favored, rather sandy complexion, dark brown hair, a little gray, large whiskers lighter than his hair, the ends some gray, wore a sheep's gray sack coat, black wool hat. Was imprisoned for stealing a cow. Hinman is an American about 18 years old, light complexion, rather long favored smooth fresh face, light hair, slim built about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, wore a sheep's mixed sack coat, linen pantaloons over blue overalls, boots with long legs. Was imprisoned for stealing an axe.

Sheriff Wattles offers a reward of $25 for the arrest of Smith and $10 for Hinman.—Binghamton Democrat.

Deaths.

Died, In Jackson, Jan. 9th, 1854, AUGUSTUS PICKERING.

At a special meeting of Huron Lodge No. 482, I O of O F convened at Jackson, Jan. 10th 1854. In consequence of the death of P. G. Augustus Pickering, who departed this life Jan. 9th, 1854; The following Resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Whereas, It has pleased the Supreme Ruler of all Worlds, in his holy and wise Providence to remove from our midst, our Worthy Past Grand and esteemed Brother, Augustus Pickering, whose manly and Christian deportment rendered him a valuable member of Society, while a constant flow of kindly feelings, showing that he was bound to his fellow men by the triple tie of Friendship, Truth and Love, have endeared him to the brethren of this lodge and embalmed his memory in our hearts.

Resolved, That the Brothers of Huron Lodge, deeply lamenting the death of our brother, tender our heartfelt sympathy to the Family and Friends of the deceased, trusting that what is their loss and ours, is to him infinite gain, through the merits of Jesus Christ.

Resolved, That the members of this Lodge attend the funeral of our late brother, to-morrow, and that they wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these Resolutions be presented to the family of our departed Brother. Also, that a copy be forwarded to each of the County Papers with a request for publication.

J. M. BRONSON, N. G.

L. D. BENSON, Sec'y.

Montrose, January 24, 1854.

To the Officers and Brothers of Huron Lodge, No. 482, I. O. of O. F.

DEAR BROTHERS—I hasten to comply with your request, and herewith furnish you a copy of my address to the Brothers and Sisters of our Order, on the occasion of the Funeral Obsequies o. Bro. Augustus Pickering; which address you are at liberty to use as you shall think proper. And if it shall prove of any benefit to your Lodge, or to the Order, it will be a source of gratification to your Brother in F. L and T. P. A. W.

BROTHERS AND SISTERS—We are again convened to perform the last and sad duties we owe a departed Brother. And though it may seem as though a multiplicity of such scenes would have a tendency to sear or clog the channels of sympathy, yet such is not the case; nor do we come here for sympathy alone. Are we not here with prayerful hearts toward that all-wise Providence, whose mysterious workings with us poor mortals has brought us together on this occasion? And when looking upon our Brother now in the embrace of the "icy monster death"—a Brother who but a few days ago we supposed was destined to remain with us much longer; whose counsel was so often required by us, and to whom we never in vain applied for advice, may we not console ourselves with the blessed thought, and cherished hope, that though we are no more to have his presence in our Lodge here below, he has gone to, and is now happy in that mansion above, "whose maker and builder is Christ"? And yet we mourn. This family who has lost a husband and a father, and we, Brothers and Sisters, who have lost a Brother, aye, a Father! though we all mourn, let us believe that it is truly said that "life is but happiness," and that for the believer in Christ, "to die is gain." Perhaps the taking of this Brother from our midst is but a warning to us, that we, like him, may be prepared to receive the summons in peace.

The connection of our Brother Pickering with our Order has been of such a relation as to enable us to learn and appreciate his ever bountiful good qualities. And it is a great satisfaction to know that he has made every effort to carry out and sustain the principles of our Order, the great object of which is to fraternize the world, and to unite in one brotherhood all people, tongues and kindred." We have seen in him that exhibition of Friendship, Love and Truth, that we so much admire, and desire should govern all our actions.

To our Sister, the wife of our deceased Brother, we would say, let not the link that is just broken cast you down. Remember, we all must die; and remember, too, that there are those left who will willingly and freely counsel with you in all trials and troubles of this life.

To you, Brothers and Sisters of our Order, I would say, you can here behold an emblem of the calm, still sleep that we are sure to undergo. Let it sink deep into your minds, for you know not how soon it may come to you. Let it teach us all the great necessity of faithfully performing the duties we owe our Maker, our kindred, our brothers and our sisters, and to ourselves. Therefore let our workings be for charity, through love and your hope in Heaven. And though you may be often censured, and often hear persons speak ill of our Order, blame them not; rather pity them, remembering the dying prayer of our Savior when he stood alone; no friend to console him. All around him was but persecution, yet did he not say, "Father, forgive them; thy know not what they do?" May Faith, Hope and Charity, coupled with Friendship, Love and Truth, those divine and ever to be cherished principles, "be and remain with you always."

"I Digest!" a uel, is the true meaning of the word "Pepsin," or of the two Greek words from which it is derived. This is the significant and appropriate title of the true Digestive fluid or Gastric Juice, prepared by Dr. J.S. Houghton of Philadelphia, from the fourth stomach of the Ox, for the cure of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It is nature's own remedy for an unhealthy stomach. No art of man can equal its curative powers. It renders Good Eating perfectly consistent with health. See the figure of the ox in another part of this paper.

NOTICE.

WHEREAS a report is in circulation that Mr. John F. Dunmore paid me fifty dollars the penal sum required by the Post Office Department, for attempting to use a canceled letter stamp. It is due to him, that I should say, that was not the case.

The Department did not pronounce it canceled; therefore, I have returned it to Mr. Dunmore.

The Artist's New Year's Greeting.

FRIENDS AND PATRONS:—Another mile stone has been reached on the journey of life—another degree has been marked, on the scale of time—another link has been severed from the chain of the future—another page has been written in, the great volume of the past—and again we stand at the opening of a New Year.

And at its early dawn we meet you,
And with a "happy New Year" greet you.

And now, as you review the year just departed, and in memory dwell upon its joys and sorrows—its privileges enjoyed, and its duties neglected, perchance some of you are reminded that you have neglected to call on the Artist, and secure one of those

"Truthful Shadows,"

Which Light and Art, with magical spell,
By working together, can catch so well.

But the past may yet be redeemed. As you lay your plans for the advancing year, let this occupy an early and prominent place on the programme of your future intentions.

Would you leave a LASTING IMPRESSION behind you? Come to the Daguerrean Gallery! "Would you see yourselves as others see you?" Come to the Daguerrean Gallery! Would you make an appropriate present to a cherished friend? Come to the Picture Rooms! And beside all this, would you encourage Art, and make glad the Artist?

Then let it appear, by promising here,
That during the year Fifty-Four,
You will, one and all, endeavor to call
At "Odd Fellows' Hall," second floor.

Poetry and Pictures.

"Lives of great men oft remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Pictures which will last some time!

"Pictures, which perhaps another,
Sailing o'er life's stormy main,
Some forlorn and wayworn brother,
Seeing, can go and get some more
just like them!"

The above was sent us by a friend, and, being right to the point, we give our readers the benefit of it, hoping that they will heed the wise suggestion and "go and get some more just like 'em."

Our stock of canes, lockets, keys pins, &c., is varied and complete, and we are anxious to set them all with "natural" pictures, and get the PAY for so doing.

Our motto is, "good work and fair prices."
