Susquehanna County Teachers' Association.

The Susquehanna County Teachers' Association held its third session under its constitution, at the house of Dr. B. Richardson in Brooklyn, on Saturday, Feb. 18th 1854.

A large number of teachers both ladies and gentlemen were present on the occasion, and a decidedly happy advancement, in interest and enthusiasm, was distinctly observable.

The President called the meeting to order, and requested the Secretary to call the roll.

The Secretary's report of last meeting was then read and adopted. An opportunity was now given for all present who were not already members of the Association, to come forward and join it.

The President, during the signing of the Constitution, called for the miscellaneous business, whereupon Mr. Haywood presented a schedule which he offered as a substitute for the one already adopted, and moved that it be considered, which was consented to, and it was then briefly discussed by A. B. Kent, Deans, Foster and Tewksbury, when the latter moved that it be laid over, which was agreed to. No other business being presented under this head, the President called up the appointment of committees.

C. W. Deans then moved that the President appoint a proper person to wait upon Dr. Richardson, and invite him to address the Association.—The President appointed C. R. Palmer to perform the duty, who immediately proceeded to its performance.

He soon returned, reporting to the Association that he had waited upon the Doctor, who thanked the association for its kindness, and stated that his sympathies were with the Association—its objects and aims—but declined the honor of addressing it at present.

The President then appointed a business committee consisting of E. McKenzie, C. R. Palmer, and A. B. Johnson.

No other committee being called for, the President called for the address, when the Executive Committee stated that they had failed to procure a lecturer for this meeting; whereupon B. F. Tewksbury moved that the President address the Association, which was unanimously agreed to.—The President then favored the Association with an able and telling address, so combining truth, logic and pleasantry, as to send an agreeable conviction to the hearts of many. The main points treated upon in the address, were the apathy of teachers in regard to self-improvement, the poverty of interest manifested by parents in respect to the education of their children, and their too often erroneous conceptions of true education, the commonly erroneous ideal definition generally attached to the term common schools, and a closing appeal to all interested in education, as all should be, to come forward and pledge their faith to its support.

The President then called for the discussion, and the Business Committee reported the following subjects for discussion—the subject of Text Books and the length of time schools should be kept open annually.

On motion the former was taken up and discussed with much zeal by A. B. Johnson, B. S. Foster, C. W. Deans, B. F. Tewksbury, S. T. Scott, E. A. Weston, William W. Haywood and others. The main points urged in the discussion were uniformity of books, the universal introduction of Mental Arithmetic into our schools, a different order of taking up branches of science—that Physiology and Philosophy should precede the more abstruse sciences of Grammar and Arithmetic, and lastly, that the inertia of Directors, whose duty it is made by law to regulate these things, is, in a great measure, fatal to the interests of the schools. On motion, the other topic presented was laid over till next meeting.

The President then called for report of committees, and the committee on By-Laws, appointed at a previous meeting, reported through their Chairman, B. S. Foster, and, on motion of B. F. Tewksbury, the report was laid on the table and the committee discharged.

After a brief discussion it was agreed that it be laid over till next meeting, on account of the lateness of the hour. The committee on the Address to the People reported through their chairman, B. F. Tewksbury, that they were unprepared to report at this meeting.

The Association then proceeded to select a place for its next meeting. Dimock and Harford were named by different members, and on motion of C. W. Deans, it was agreed to meet at Harford, on Saturday March 11th, 1854, at 1 o'clock P. M.

B. F. Tewksbury then read a communication from S. U. Hamilton, Esq., of Gibson—it being just received. He apologized for absence, and proffered his sympathies and influence to the interests of the Association.

By the unanimous voice of the Association, the Executive Committee were instructed to procure, if possible, the services of Rev. Lyman Richardson, of Harford University, in capacity of lecturer before the Association at its next meeting. B. F. Tewksbury then offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we tender our sincerest thanks to Dr. B. Richardson for his kindness and urbanity towards this Association in proffering the courtesies we have this day received at his hands.

The author of the resolution, on motion of Mr Haywood, was appointed to tender in person the sentiment of the Association to the Doctor.

The meeting then adjourned to meet as above stated.

CONNECTICUT POLITICS—ANTI-NEBRASKA RESOLUTIONS.—The Democratic State Convention assembled here this morning, Hon. Joel W. White, of Norwich, president. The following ticket was nominated:—For Governor—Samuel Ingham of Saybrook; Lt. Governor, John T. White, of Norwich; Treasurer—Roger Averill, of Danbury; Secretary—Tallcott Crisly, of Thomson; Comptroller—Julius Hotchkiss, of Waterbury.

The convention then passed the following resolutions opposing the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, by a large majority, the vote being nearly unanimous:

Resolved, That the Democracy of Connecticut do recognize the doctrines of the Baltimore Convention that nominated Franklin Pierce for President of the U. States, and also the principles announced in the Inaugural Address of President Pierce; and we will abide by these principles and stand upon that platform. And relying upon the wisdom and integrity of our friends in Congress, that they will be true and faithful to all compromises, especially to the ordinance of 1787 the compromise of 1820 and that of 1850, measures heretofore adopted in our national councils for the settlement of the slavery question, we have full confidence that such measures will be acquiesced in and agreed upon, as may best maintain and perpetuate the glorious union of the United States.

☞ The resolution against the National Intelligencer, adopted by the Southern Whig caucus, has not awed that excellent journal into the support of the Nebraska bill. In the opinion of wise and good men of all sections, it never occupied a more elevated and noble position, than in opposing this scheme.

New School Bill.

Dr. McClintock, of Pittsburg, the chairman of the Senate Committee on Education, has reported an act to amend the existing common school laws of the State. During a late visit to Harrisburg we were favored with hearing it read, and had hoped to be able to lay its chief sections before the readers of the Journal this month; but as it was not out of the printer's hands when we left, we can now only say that it embodies the chief points recommended in Superintendent Black's report. It provides for the election of County Superintendents by the Directors—for the increase of the minimum of teaching to five months—for the abolition of sub-districts—for the gradual consolidation of all the separate ward districts of each city or borough into one—for the collection of taxes by a collector as heretofore—for the publication of plans and drawings of school houses and furniture—and for uniformity of books and studies in the schools of each district by the action of the proper Directors.

Normal Schools are not embraced in this act; but we were informed that it is designed to report a separate bill on that vitally important subject, at an early day.—School Journal.

The N. O. Bulletin says:—"We of the South, do not owe Mr. Douglas anything for incorporating the foregoing clause in his bill. It can be of no contingent or remote, or possible advantage to us. It is more of a mockery than anything else. It sounds as though we needed protection all the time—as if the shield of some puissant warrior, like the Goliah of Illinois, for instance, must be continually extended over us to prevent some big fellow from knocking us down. We don't believe we are quite as bad off as that yet. And besides, we fear that there is a greater desire in Mr. Douglas to make a little political capital for himself, down South, than there is integrity or good will, in his movement."

The Raleigh Register, a North Carolina paper, remarks:

"We confess that we somewhat doubt the utility of disturbing the Missouri Compromise, which was acquiesced in by the South as the condition of the admission of Missouri into the Union—though we hardly know what modification our views may yet undergo. The North may say that, by attempting to repeal the slavery restrictive clause, the South has violated a solemn compact, and it will be difficult to repel the charge. They will claim, as a matter of course, to be released from that and the more recent compromise, and will attempt to introduce the Wilmot Proviso into the territorial governments now existing, or which may be in future organized south of 36 deg. 30 min. The bill, at all events, will be the rallying cry for another anti-slavery agitation, which will throw all that have preceded it in the shade."

A DEFECT OF THE LAW.—The recent shocking case of barbarous treatment of a child by its parents, G. B. Hammer and his wife, developes a singular state of the law. The community was horror-stricken at the details of the long-continued cruelty, which was proved upon the heartless wretches! And what justice was meted to them? The little sufferer was taken from them. Why, the object of their torture was to get rid of him, and thus the law has gratified their wishes to the full. If the driver of a cart gives his horse an unmerciful flogging, he is liable to be arrested and fined. But parents it would seem, may torture a child almost to death, and outrage the feelings of the whole community, and the utmost that can be done is to take the child from their control. This may be law, but there is certainly a sad want of justice. The savage treatment of little Hammer was a crime, and all crimes should have their punishment. In our opinion, the citizens would feel much more comfortable, if such degraded specimens of humanity as Hammer and his wife were taught the lessons only to be learned within the gloomy walls of a prison.—Philadelphia N. American.

A HINT TO TAXPAYERS AND CRIMINALS.—Judge Porter, in a charge to a jury trying a defendant in our Court last week for keeping a tippling house, said, that during over forty years of practice at the bar, more than three fourths of the business of the criminal courts coming under his observation, had been caused by the influence of strong drink.

These words, from one so sound in his opinions, and one who has had more professional experience than almost any other lawyer in the State, need no comment to impress them upon the minds of taxpayers who must pay the expenses of these trials, and to make men beware of the influence of that beverage which disgraces and destroys character, liberty and life.—Wayne Co. Herald.

"I Digest!" such is the true meaning of the word "Pepsin," or of the two Greek words from which it is derived. This is the significant and appropriate title of the true Digestive fluid or Gastric Juice, prepared by Dr. J. S. Houghton of Philadelphia, from the fourth stomach of the Ox, for the cure of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It is nature's own remedy for an unhealthy stomach. No art of man can equal its curative powers. It renders Good Eating perfectly consistent with health. See the figure of the ox in another part of this paper.

Fire! Fire!

TWO tremendous fires have broken out at the Steam Mill, where they have been rapidly burning more than two weeks, in spite of all efforts made by the down town fire company to extinguish or impede their progress. Though they have plied their machine with all their power and skill, the greater the effort made to stop the fires the more rapidly they burn, and we have not the least doubt that in spite of all opposition these fires will continue to burn for years, heating iron and steel to forge all kinds of edge tools, ox shoes, horse shoes, carriage irons, and job work of every description. And the proprietor of these fires would further inform the public that for the past year, ending the 1st of February, he has done the edge tool work in Hawley's shop on Main street. He now keeps a first rate stock of all kinds, and pledges himself to use no other. And for shoe corks, instead of the rotten American steel and Sweed's iron, he uses the best of German and English Blister and cast steel. The German and English Blister casts 16 and cast steel 22 cts. per pound, and American steel only 7 cents; yet he charges no more for shoeing than those who use the American steel and Sweed's iron toe corks.—All work will be done with neatness, to order, and warranted. Now, if you wish to save 20 per cent. call on D. H. HICKOK.
