A man without a name. And we wonder how he ever pays his rent? For though he wears good clothes...

Henry Clay died June 29, 1852. Wednesday June 29th, was St. Peter's Day. Attend to have a Firemen's Parade and Celebration on the Fourth.

The Baptists held a successful convention in Troy last week. John Hurst is building a small brick structure at the Towanda end of the bridge...

Who discovered the comet? It is an interesting question just now, as $200 is pending on the settlement of the comet.

Prof. H. H. Williams, Esq., of this place, has sold his former residence in Canton, to Dr. Cleveland, of that place, for $1,100.

Rev. Wright, of the Methodist Church, exchanged pulpits on Sunday last. The "steam ironman" has caused the removal of two sections—about 32 feet of the steps leading up the highest East Towanda.

A terrific gale passed over this place on Tuesday evening about 6 o'clock changing fruit and ornamental trees, and laying out corn and other growing grain flat.

The Banks will remain closed July 4th—a legal holiday—the paper money of the coming year will be Saturday July 23, and must then be arranged.

A country editor, being asked, "do you say?" says a great many do not. They take the paper several times, and then send the postmaster send it back "Refused."

It is reported that "Zazel," the human cannon ball, had some trouble with her employers a few days ago and was fired out of the cannon for good.

Prof. H. H. Williams and family left Wednesday for a visit of a few weeks among relatives and friends in Elmira and Havana, N. Y.

The Xiala Fire will go to Athens to participate in the parade on July 4th. They will take along their ornamental horse carriage and will, no doubt, turn out a full company.

Mrs. Alvin Stephens of Troy, died in Cleveland on Friday morning last. The deceased was a sister of Mrs. J. M. Fox, of Towanda, and H. C. Haisel, of Athens.

Frank Gray has just received a handsome Lincoln 10 caliber Remington rifle. Frank is quite a shot and he is likely to make sharp work for the boys at the match on the 4th.

People more because their mouths open when they sleep, and the great arrears of all kinds of bills and accounts are due.

We see by the Philadelphia Press of Monday last, that the signature of "Hon. F. L. Wilson," of Towanda, appears on the register of the Washington Chestnut Street Hotel. Who is he? This is a mystery.

In our absence last week mention of the success of the Baptist Ice Cream and Strawberry Festival held June 17, was inadvertently omitted. Our Baptist friends were highly gratified with their success and a generous patronage extended to them.

We have received a copy of the lecture "Take the Sins by the Reins," delivered by A. R. McClure, editor of the "Commonwealth," before the Alumni Association of Lehigh University, at Bethlehem, Pa., June 22, 1881.

The press of the State speak very highly of this lecture and we have no doubt that it is all that it is represented. For want of time we have been unable to permit it yet.

A race took place on Saturday evening last between the late Arthur W. G. Ryan and Jas. Humphrey. It was an interesting and amusing affair, as the boys made a number of times, and had to be picked up by the boys following them and put back in their tubs. The course was from Vandermark's island to the bridge. Hale came out winner.

The barn of Allen H. Wood, in Southfield, about two miles north of East Smithfield, was burned on Thursday night about 11 o'clock. The barn was a nearly new one of large size and first-class make. When the fire was discovered it was under such load that a horse and cow which were in the barn could not be rescued and were burned.

It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The loss is about $300 and there was an insurance of $100.—Northern Troy Herald.

A gentleman who was in Dunmore the other day, and saw some men in taking down a portion of the old Fairchild's tavern in that village, found nearly two hundred dollars in gold concealed under a stone beneath the floor-boards. The treasure had evidently been there a long time.—Reciever.

The Republican office has the honor of the most complete combination of script type in Western Pennsylvania. It comprises four sizes, and is entirely in Spencerian script, on the most possible style. Come in, you want job-work, and examine our specimens.

Mr. Alfred Blackwell, of Burlington, a thoroughly competent man, an earnest and active Republican, announces that he will be a candidate for nomination for Register and Recorder at the approaching Republican county convention. His nomination would be entirely fit to be made.

The Towanda Republican gives political notices to prominent men succeeded in getting themselves nominated, for office their defeat is certain. The Republican, as a citizen, means alone in this determination, at the day of "bossism" seems to have ended and voters have come to the conclusion that they will hold the reins of government.

A colored man named Smith, now of Towanda, was incarcerated Thursday night for being drunk and disorderly. This is the same fellow who was arrested in the same manner at Minerva some years since, and taking with her the child she was employed to care for. Great excitement prevailed, and an all night search was conducted for the kidnapped child, which was carried on. Smith and his relatives were found at Fall Brook, the child rescued and the guilty pair given the grand larceny.—Canton Sentinel.

EDITORIAL EXCURSION

The ninth annual excursion of the Pennsylvania Editorial Association took place on Tuesday last week, June 21. The object of the excursion was to visit the magnificent liberality of the Pennsylvania railroad company, the excursionists were taken to the most fertile portion of our state, the Valley of the Susquehanna, Philadelphia.

A description of the picturesque beauty and variety of the scenery along this famous thoroughfare will not be necessary. The "old country" of the Valley, the milder charms of the "meeting of the waters" at Northumberland, where the Susquehanna and Potomac rivers meet, the grandeur of the glimmers of the Blue Mountains that greet one's eyes; the Millersburg Gap, with its two perfectly matched cliffs, rising in bold outlines on the flanks of the Allegheny, and the fertile valleys and finely cultivated farms of the Chester Valley, "the garden of Pennsylvania," must be seen to be appreciated.

On the evening of June 20th, the Editorial excursionists, with their wives, "sisters, consins and amts" all stopped at the Central Hotel Philadelphia. Mr. Dyer, the secretary of the Association, of the Philadelphia Press, Col. McClure, Chas. E. Smith, Clayton McMichael and Samuel C. Johnson, welcomed their brethren of the profession.

June 21st, a special train was placed at the service of the excursionists, and a number of handsome cars were carried to the depot and city of the Editorial party across "the Jersey" to Long Branch. Mr. J. R. Wood, General Passenger Agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, was in attendance to see that the excursionists were properly cared for.
