Don't forget the County Fair on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, of next week. Mrs. Anna E. Colver, of Roma, went to New York on Saturday last to spend a few weeks in the commercial metropolis.

Trentville has a tobacco dealer who will not sell young boys tobacco or cigars. It would be a good idea for some towns to frame laws like this for example.

To expedite and economize time in the arrangement of articles and stock for exhibition on the first day of the Fair it is necessary to have your entries made before the Fair. It will save you and the Secretary much time and trouble.

Send us your articles for exhibition to the Secretary at Towanda as early as possible. MacFarland, a harness brackman fell from a post train in the Erie yards, at Waverly on Saturday evening and a gondola wheel passed over his ankle, fracturing his leg.

Deaths of Mrs. Dr. Montague. Towanda, Pa., Sept. 17, 1881. At 2:30 P. M. to-day, Mrs. Louise D. Montague, wife of Dr. Lester D. Montague, died at her late residence on Robinson street. Mrs. Montague was the beloved and only daughter of Wm. A. Chamberlin, Esq., and her last days were spent under the parental roof. Everything that the best medical skill could devise or loving hearts suggest was offered by willing hands for her relief. She leaves a husband and two interesting children to mourn their loss; and a host of friends who will weep tears of heartfelt sorrow at the death of one so young, lovely and beloved. Mrs. Montague had a remarkably pure and sweet voice, which she used to sing in the choir of the Methodist church, and her death was a sad bereavement to the church. Her death was a great loss to the community, for she had always lived a life of domestic virtues and her example was a blessing to all who knew her. She was a devoted wife and mother, and her death is a severe trial to her bereaved friends. They will receive it with unfeigned grief. M. L. S.

OBITUARY Mrs. E. F. Ferris. In the residence of her uncle Wm. F. Coburn, near Fort Erie, N. Y., on Sept. 19, 1881, at the age of 85 years, 5 months and 15 days, died Mrs. E. F. Ferris. She was one of our best loved young ladies, having the faculty of gaining the affection of all who came in contact with her. She was a member of the "Christian Association" of this place from its organization, and will be buried in the same place as her husband. She was a member of the Sabbath School.

Five years ago she came among us as a mother, and since that time her spirit has been a mother's place toward her as nearly as possible. Not straggling physically, she has required their constant care, and as a consequence confined herself more and more to her bed, so prone are we to allow our heart strings to envelope round the objects of our care. Possessed of an insatiable desire for knowledge, her ambition, in that direction was greater than her strength. She expected to enter an Academy this fall, there to complete her education.

Last April she left this place for LeRoy, her former place of residence, where she spent the summer in teaching there, according to her usual custom, who accordingly commenced her school May 1st, and taught with good success four weeks when she was obliged to leave her school and return to her home. Where notwithstanding all was done for her that loving kindness could suggest, she faded day by day until the last parting.

On Saturday Ang 18th, her friends and acquaintances, met together in the home of an excellent seaman by the Rev. Mr. Fuller, from the First Ward in LeRoy, to bid her adieu in the days of her youth. We looked on her face so dear to us. Our sorrow was great, yet we said in our hearts, she is not dead! But only left off this material body that the spiritual body may develop itself as the rays of the sun, by which she is surrounded, drops away from the coral giving the petals a chance to unfold and develop into perfect loveliness.

"There is no death! An angel form walks over the earth with silent tread, And bears our best loved forms away, And when he goes a smile too bright, Of heart and eye he leaves behind, He bears to that world of light, To dwell in Paradise.

Yet ever near us, though unseen, The dear immortal spirits tread; For all the bonanzas Universe Is life—there is no death. A FRIEND.

Surprise Party. Mrs. Estlin. One of those pleasant social gatherings, known as a surprise party, occurred at the home of Mrs. Hiram Vanness, on Standing Stone, on Thursday the 18th, being the sixtieth birthday of Mrs. Vanness.

About eleven o'clock a. m., two processions, composed of absent wagoners, might have been seen approaching farmer Vanness's hospitable dwelling, coming simultaneously from opposite directions and very soon the relatives and intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Vanness were assembled.

The complete surprise of Mrs. V. was greatly enjoyed by all, as she had so often remarked (and truthfully) that "surprises were only so named, no one could surprise her etc." But when she felt the cordial hand-grips of friends from Franklin, Towanda, Wyoza, and other places, her hitherto firm opinion was greatly shaken.

The merits of the excellent dinner which our farmers wives know so well how to prepare were soon tasted, to the evident satisfaction of all participants. Perhaps we have become accustomed to the intense heat, or have donned a suitable apparel for the sultry day, most certainly there seems no barrier to our perfect enjoyment as we sit in groups on the pleasant lawn, the vine-shaded porch or in the cozy parlour discussing the political question, the general news of the day, the latest fashions and other matters both great and small.

One of the most important features of the occasion was the presentation of gifts by Mr. Geo. Stevens. Among the many well selected and valuable articles, two more handsome dress patterns, silver forks, cake stand, several pieces of molasses and various other articles of utility and beauty, were presented. The gifts were all of the delicate cake of maple sugar, provided by some thoughtful friend, but which grew beautifully less in our fruitless attempts to eat it.

One peculiarity of Mrs. Vanness is her aversion to riding on the cars. Although living but a short distance from the L. V. R.R. and having relatives living in Towanda, she has never been to either place, although she frequently visits, she has never yet ridden because of the "freaking iron horse."

About 4 o'clock p. m., the company began to depart, wishing Mrs. Vanness many happy birthdays as pleasant as the one just celebrated. PATRICIA.

A GREAT SUCCESS. Last Saturday, the opening day of the Boston Clothing, Boot and Shoe House, was a great success in every respect. Crowds of people were thronging the store from early in the morning until late in the night, and every one seemed happy, except those who could not be waited upon. We can honestly say that never before has such a large stock of Clothing, Boots and Shoes, been offered at such extremely low prices. We see that the Boston Clothing House are doing business on a very large scale and are always anxious to meet the requirements of their stock, not only but first class goods, and will have one price to all. They are sure they can sell the best goods at a great deal less than many merchants can buy their goods. Everybody seems to appreciate their efforts and are learning that the place to buy the best Clothing, hand made, Boots and Shoes, is at the Boston Clothing House. We are glad to see them so successful in their efforts, and hope they will continue to do so.

THE BEAUTIFUL HOME. I. WALDO MILLER. There's a beautiful, beautiful home above, Filled with the sunshine of Jean's love, Filled with the glory of grace divine, Oh! may that beautiful home be mine. The streets are paved with gold so bright, And those who dwell there know no night, They are not seeking for a better home, Oh! may that beautiful home be mine. Rivers whose waters are pure and sweet, Flow along the golden shore, Oh! may that beautiful home be mine. Beautiful city, of purest gold, Whose glory "who hath never told," Filled with the sunshine of Jean's love, Oh! may that beautiful home be mine. Angels with golden harps are there, Loved ones have climbed the golden stair, Jean's waiting, in love divine, That beautiful home will soon be mine.
