MADISON SQUARE THEATRE COMPANY. The coming event in our season's amusements is the appearance of the above-named organization in the remarkably successful play of "Hazel Kirtle." No one so well fitted for the part as the artistically trained and accomplished actress, Miss L. M. Sayre. That it is of an intensely absorbing interest is shown by the verdict of the New York Press:

"The play is a perfect one—full of honest purposes and vigor."—Bertrand.

"Worthy of the highest commendation, as of the tenderest sympathy."—Tribune.

"Exceedingly strong situations, and admirably well sustained."—Tribune.

"An artistic work it has real merit."—Tribune.

"People cry and laugh throughout."—Graphic.

"Lately to rival Tommas's 'Book' in its capacity for enjoying on forever."—Graphic.
