FOR REPRESENTATIVE, JAMES P. COBURN, E. J. AYERS, B. E. MITCHELL, COLONEL.
FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER, NELSON E. GILBERT.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.

At Towanda, October 24. Speakers—Gen. James A. Beaver, Hon. W. H. Jessup and others.

The decrease in the public debt during September was $14,905,948.

A quotation for Col. Overton: "Vaulting ambition oft o'erleaps itself and falls down on either side."

For further reading, see the little remarks which are interspersed in New York by the rival factions of the same parties.

Hon. C. C. Jadwin's record is made, he is opposed to political bossism in all its forms by whatever party exercised.

There were thirty-three accidents in the mines of the middle district of Pennsylvania during the month of September, eleven of which were fatal.

What an outrage. The Record says the clerks in the office of controller Patton have assessed fifty dollars each to assist the Democratic party in conducting the campaign. And the party managers are opposed to political assignments.

Mr. Jadwin's friends in Bradford refrained from attendance or interference at the conference, because they relied upon Mr. Overton to redeem his pledges. It is unjust to them to say that they interfered against Mr. Overton at the conference. Relying upon his pledges they kept away.

At the United States Court at Pittsburgh, Monday, Judge Trunkley decided that a railroad company must honor its tickets whenever it sells them, and that whoever takes the ticket on its face entitles the holder to the rights of a passenger between points named on the ticket. This opinion reverses the judgment of the lower court, and lays down the law in an interesting way upon one phase of the ticket-selling business.

Hon. C. C. Jadwin, Representative in Congress of this district has shown that he is the servant of the whole people, and not a mere tool of party. While carefully guarding the material interests of the whole, he has been true to his principles as a Republican. He deserves well of the people of his district, and will be elected.

CONGRESS.

For reasons partly stated in the published proceedings of the convention of the Republicans, and mass-meeting of citizens of Wayne county, we decline to endorse the nomination of Col. Overton as the choice of the Republicans of Bradford county and this Congressional district for Congress. We join with the Republicans of Wayne county in presenting the name of Hon. C. C. Jadwin, as the choice of the Republicans of the district; and as the candidate entitled, by all the precedents of the district to the nomination, and which have been dishonorably disregarded in the nomination of Col. Overton, with the full knowledge of the disastrous effect of such action upon the interests of the Republican party of the district.

The reasons governing our action will be more fully stated next week. The lateness of the time of receiving the reported action of Wayne county, precludes a fuller statement of this week.

If there were no other reasons, Col. Overton's personal statements to us prior to the convention, of his motives and intentions in asking the convention of this county to name him for Congress, would govern our action. It is due to the Republicans of this county and the district that these in connection with a full history of the case should be given. We attach no blame to the Bradford conference. We have the fullest confidence in their integrity, and their desire to act right.

The responsibility for the embarrassing situation in which the interests of the Republican party of the district are placed, rests entirely with Col. Overton, and we do not intend to share it with him. There is one honorable escape for him. The path of duty is plain. If he chooses to walk in it, and withdraw his candidacy, he will be protected. If he chooses to be urged, on to his political ruin by James H. Webb, who in a county giving ordinarily a Republican majority of from 2,500 to 3,000, had made a draft upon the Democratic party of the county of one thousand votes or more to elect him to the office of Register and Recorder by a majority of about 900, and a list of other men of the party as such as in executing their purposes against the county, he can take that ill-advantaged course, and in the end have himself to blame.

THE CONGRESSIONAL COMMISSIONERS.

In his session in the southern States, he discovered there an abundance of sentiment in favor of high protective duties for the benefit of domestic manufacturers, and apparently no active sentiment in favor of free trade, which is rather strange, when we remember that the majority of southern Congressmen have long been free-trade men. It would therefore seem that somewhat of a change has come over the spirit of their dream.

Certain Republican leaders in this county have always pursued the policy of thrusting aside every man they could not mold and make head to their imperious commands. There is no limit to their machinations, and their head is raised to stamp the political head of every fellow who refuses to obey orders. Mr. Jadwin refused at Chicago and stood for the dominant sentiment of his district. He has refused in local matters in this county to obey Webb & Co. Hence he is trodden upon.

During the past year nearly forty-five thousand letters containing money or its equivalent in drafts, checks, etc., reached the Dead-Letter Office of this country. It is hardly possible to realize the amount of carelessness which caused this state of affairs, but it is easy to understand the amount of worry and annoyance to which post-office employees were subject by the reckless correspondents and those expectant of the missing remittance. It is difficult to frame regulations punitive for such carelessness and inconveniences of the public service; yet it would seem that some sort of stamp-penalty should be attached to those carelessly who up their time and freight charge than their three cents fee was calculated to cover.

The recent decision of our Supreme Court that a railroad company is bound to honor its tickets although the passengers presenting them may have purchased them from unauthorized vendors, is eminent alike with equity, expediency and common sense. As between the passenger and the company, the source from which a genuine ticket has been obtained is properly immaterial. The ticket is the evidence of a contract made by the company to carry the person who presents it a specified distance. This contract is an absolute one, and to make it voidable to anyone upon the ground of the duty of satisfying himself about the secondary validity of the ticket which he buys, would be to lay a great burden upon the traveling public, and consequently to injure the business of the company, which is interested in making travel as easy and attractive as possible.

Says the Philadelphia North American: "The resolutions adopted at the meeting of the German Roman Catholic Central Society in Milwaukee leave little to the imagination as to the movement which is on foot in that section at least. Withdrawal of their children from the State public school, organization for political purposes and kindred efforts are very plain indications of a policy at variance with the non-sectarian character of this Republic. The people of this county are very tolerant of parties, as a rule, but it is doubtful whether the formation of a German Roman Catholic party as a political element would be viewed with indifference. There is no disposition to force the Catholics to send their children to the public schools; but, on the other hand, there is no disposition to allow them or any other sect to impair or divide the school fund appropriations, alter their established distribution, or interfere with the taxation sources from which such funds are derived.

It is very true, as the Providence Journal remarks, that the chief reward of the soldier who sells them, and that whoever takes the ticket on its face entitles the holder to the rights of a passenger between points named on the ticket. This opinion reverses the judgment of the lower court, and lays down the law in an interesting way upon one phase of the ticket-selling business.

This has been emphatically a contest year, and after the meteorological agencies which have distinguished it will be more difficult than ever to dispute the old superstition that these erratic heavenly visitors bring bad weather.

It is unjust to Mr. Jadwin for Col. Overton's friends to say that "if Mr. Jadwin had remained at home and allowed the Republicans of Bradford to manage their own affairs, he would have been nominated." Mr. Jadwin came here at the written request of Mr. Overton with the assurance that he (Overton) desired his nomination and he could promote his interests by coming here.

"As nearly as we can get at it," says the Burlington Hawkeye, "about all the Pennsylvania independents ask of Mr. Cameron is that he get out of politics and permit them to make the nomination. This is reasonable enough at all times. We don't know but Mr. Cameron can hesitate a minute. It is due to the independents are irrationally opposed to the machine. They only want to put some new castings on it, and they are the castings."

The following changes will be made in the management of the Northern Central railroad, in consequence of the resignation of A. Cassatt from the vice-presidency. Frank Thompson will be made vice-president; Charles E. Fugh, general manager; G. C. Williams general superintendent of the Baltimore division; Alfred Walker, superintendent of the Shamokin division; with office in Sunbury, in the place of F. L. Sheppard, who will hereafter be superintendent of motive power, with office in Allentown. Mr. Cassatt will continue to be one of the directors.

It is unjust to Mr. Jadwin and his friends for Col. Overton's advisers to say; "the men who opposed his nomination in the convention and favored other candidates etc." Who opposed Col. Overton's nomination in the convention? We saw not all the delegates given to understand by the friends of both that Mr. Overton's candidacy in Bradford meant Mr. Jadwin's nomination? Mr. Griffiths and many others made it their special business to assure delegates that such was the case.

WAYNE INDEPENDENT.

Under the following call, the Republican county convention of Wayne County was reconvened on Wednesday evening, October 11, 1882.

The undersigned members of said Convention, in pursuance of the call, met at the residence of Mr. J. H. Webb, at Towanda, Pa., on Wednesday evening, October 11, 1882, and after the reading of the call, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the undersigned members of said Convention, in pursuance of the call, met at the residence of Mr. J. H. Webb, at Towanda, Pa., on Wednesday evening, October 11, 1882, and after the reading of the call, the following resolutions were adopted:

GENERAL CLEANINGS.

A company of Iowa capitalists, with $300,000 of capital, are now in Birmingham, Ala., for the purpose of building another steel furnace. This makes a total of $500,000 invested in the manufacture of pig iron in the Birmingham district.

The town of Pawtucket, R. I., has refused to accept a city charter by a majority of sixty-five votes. Pawtucket has a population of over 20,000 souls, and is the largest town under town government in the United States.

The State Military Association met in session at Harrisburg on Tuesday for the discussion of important improvements in the art of military. Mr. Robert Grinnell, of this city, will deliver the fifth annual address on Tuesday evening. There are over 2000 members in Pennsylvania, being more than in any other State in the Union.

The liquor dealers of Scranton held a meeting at the Scranton House last week and organized an association, called the Personal Liberty Protection Association. Resolutions were passed condemning the action of the temperance board last week in announcing the Sunday law and the law referring to minors as unjust. The members also pledged themselves only to support and vote for those candidates for political office who were not antagonistic to their rights and privileges.

The New York Republican State platform declares against monopolies in much the same language as the Democratic platform in that State. This seems to show that the anti-monopoly plank is destined to find a place in the national platform of both our great parties in the Presidential canvass of 1884.

Young, middle aged, or old men, suffering from nervous debility and kindred ailments, should resort to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, giving successful treatment. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

An Irish Republican Club, numbering 32 persons, has been organized at Scranton. A good medicinal tonic, with real merit, is Brown's Iron Bitters, sold by druggists.

A colored marching club has been organized in Pittsburgh, under the name of the Beaver Guards. "Lynn, Mass., always was a good place for health, but it has become a modern Bethesda since Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of 233 Western Avenue, made her great discovery of the Vegetable Compound, or panacea for the principal ills that afflict the fair creation. This differs, however, from the ancient recipe of marvellous cure in this important particular. The healing agency, with all its virtues, can be sent to order by express or mail all over the world.

The Democratic papers now begin to speak well of Gen. Butler, the Democratic nominee for Governor of Mass. Those editors cut away with a reliable truly wonderful—Worshipful Advocate.

Belief in five minutes of every case; gratifying, wholesome relief beyond a money value. Cure begins with first application, and is rapid and permanent. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure. Complete for $1.

A Republican club has been formed in Chambersburg, the home of candidate Stewart. A majority of the Republican voters of Mr. Stewart's ward are members of it, and already over 300 names are on the rolls.

Only Two Better. Messrs. Johnson, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with a request to send a good catarrh cure to two army officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentleman told them that both the officers and the wife of Gen. J. C. Fremont Governor of Arizona, had been cured of catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm.

How the Democratic papers like to magnify the size of the so-called Independent Republican meetings. They expend more labor on the latter than they do on their own. A word to the true Republican will be sufficient.

Ely's Cream Balm reduces inflammation. Sores in the nasal passages are healed in a few days. Catarrhal headache is dispelled. Sense of smell, taste and hearing are restored or improved. Apply into nostrils with little finger.

Notwithstanding Mr. Stephens' large majority in Georgia the war cast appears to have been unusually light. In some places less than 50 per cent. of the voters went to the polls. The greatest indifference was shown among the colored men.
