SECOND CLASS MATTER. THURSDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1882.

Pennsylvania has peen reduced $915, from sight by any one now living.

In a New York town one day last prohibitionists must approve of this use of this mildly alcoholic beverage.

Congress has passed a bill giving the State of Georgia $35,000 to reimburse her for some expenses incurred in 1777. in defence of the Colonies. The sum is not a large one, and we trust it will not be supplimented with another for "expenses" incurred during the late re-

Still enlarging store and fa-cilities. Doubled both in the last two years; more than doubled them. Trade has doubled; and it crowds less now than at any time before; works more smoothly; gives more general satisfaction: and suffers fewer mishaps It is growing faster than ever: and with every appear ance of a healthy growth. Because people find so much advantage in trading with us that they send to us for whatever they want, no matter how far-away they may be, if they can charlatanry.]

Our building is still temporary. A part of it was once the Freight Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad. has been built around and upon, until it looks more like a Turkish mosque on the old side: while on the new, it has taken in so many Chestnut-street stores, that it looks like any other part of Chestnut street. We hav'n't made money enough in these five years to put up a building worthy of the place and of the trade. You will be interested in seeing how we have turned and twisted these old buildings about and how many commodious and really elegant rooms we have, without so much as wall-paper between them. We are sending more and more by express and mail. The means of trading without seeing are new and rude. You think it strange that it can be done at all. You wouldn't think of buying a farm without seeing it; or a horse, or cow, or sheep. How can you buy everything your family wears, everything you use in your house, without seeing?

Why, simply because we take the risk.
