In another column will be found a communi tion from Mr. Scull, in regard to the County Commissioners. We think no one would infer that the Commissioners, personally were dishonest or not capable business men. There has been a growing opinion that the funds of but were unable to ascertain the details from, that we complain of, but of their acts as Commissioners their management of county af fairs. Not one of them would so manage their vember 24th, to be observed as a day of own business as to be unable to explain how their accounts stood; nor would they allow their yearly expenses to exceed their income. The trouble has been a lack of interest-a failure to make the public business personal. It is admitted, on all hands, that there is a fault somewhere. The last Citizen plainly in sinuates that the late clerk, I. H. Curtis has been the blameable party. We deprecate this attacking the reputation of private citizens. Mr. Curtis was but a clerk and had nothing to do with the management of the affairs of the office; consequently the insinuation means nothing less than that he stole the funds of the county. He has acted in that capacity for a number of years, to the entire satisfaction of successive Commissioner; nor was his removal for any lack of qualification or integrity-being urged solely to make a place for the Citizen's protege; but we are happy to add that better counsel prevailed in the selection of his

INSURRECTI N AT HARPER'S FERRY.

On Monday, the 17th inst., an insurrection broke out at Harper's Ferry, Virginia. The insurrectionists, composed of whites and negroes, headed by John Brown, of Kansas notoriety, took possession of the U.S. Arsenal, barricaded the railroad bringe, took prisoners, and committed other attrocities. Owing to the efficient measures taken, the insurgents were mostly killed or taken prisoners the same day, and quiet restored. The evident intention was to raise a general insurrection of the negroes and horrible butchery would have ensued had not the military so timely crushed the movement. We will give the details next week.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

The fifth annual session of the M'Kean County Teachers' Institute, just closed, was characterized by a degree of interest, intelligence and application, equal if not superior to ny former session.

The attendance was large, comprising nearly all the teachers of the county, excepting a few who were absent attending school at Alfred and other places, showing that the minds of the teachers of M'Kean are fixed upon progression and improvement, and determined to become not only "school keepers,", but able, industrious, and exalted members of the Teacher's

The following is the list of teachers present. It is hoped that Directors in making selections for their winter schools will give them the preference, as it is believed that they are better prepared to discharge the duties of the duties of the school room than those who do not feel interest enough in the cause to spend one week in the year in learning how best to impart instruction to those under their care.

From the Editor's Preface

A man may not only " take his own life," by writing his Autography, without commiting felo de se, but may carry himself into futyre time, by producing a book which the world will not willingly let die. This is what Mr. Robert-Houdin, the greatest artist in what is called Conjuring, has lately done in the remarkable book, Confidences d'un Prestigiteur, faithful translation of which is here presented to the American reading public. The work has had the greatest success in Europe from its lively style as well as the various information it contains, historical and philosophical. On the practice and principle of sleight-of-hand, and the other details, mental as well as mechanical, which unite to make perfect the exhibition of White Magic, the antipodes of what our forefathers knew, persecuted, and punished as the Black Art.

As dictated to John Filson and first published

"COLONEL DANIEL BOONE was one of the most remarkable men that the country has pro-duced. His character is marked with originality, and his actions were important and infinential in one of the most interesting periods of earliest settlers; founding Boonesborough, having defended the stations successfully against the attacks of the Indisns, and the prominent part which he took in military affairs of this period of distress and peril, certainly renders his
