JEFFERSONIAN REPUBLICAN

CONGRESS.

Correspondence of the Baltimore American.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17, 1841.

CANADIAN PATRIOTS.

The Vice President presented a memorial from citizens of New York which created some extend over them also. feeling. The petition states that there are 150 American Citizens in Van Dieman's Land in a state of servitude, treated as felons, punished as convicts, subject to the lash and compelled to labor at unusual hours. The memorial comes from the friends of the sufferers in New York, who pray for the interference of the Government--- the forcible interference if it should be deemed necessary. The citizens sent to Van Dieman's Land were Americans captured in Canada, and sent far away as a punishment for their crimes.

Mr. Norvell said that any demand upon England, except a pacific one, would fail of its intended purpose. He wished the memorial might be referred to the President of the United States, and thought that some negotiation might be brought about by which the sufferings of the Americans in Van Dieman's Land might be alleviated.

Mr. Preston spoke also in reference to the memorial. The subject he considered as one of the first importance. He hoped the proposition would not be entertained in any manner, and the more so as Great Britian had been guilty of an interference in our affairs. Mr. P. referred to the interference of the Government of Great Britain in the L'Amistad case, and said if the prayer now before the Senate were to ke countenanced, then these who had interfered with us might find an apology for their foregoing .- Orange Republican. interference.
