

JEFFERSONIAN REPUBLICAN

Stroudsburg, January 19, 1842.

Terms, $2.00 in advance; $2.25, half yearly; and $2.50 if not paid before the end of the year.

Mr. Kidder of the Senate, and Mr. Brodhead of the House of Representatives, will please accept our thanks for copies of the Governor's Message.

The National Gazette has been relinquished as a distinct publication, and the subscription list transferred to the Pennsylvania Inquirer.

$15,000 have been paid this year in Illinois, for castor beans.

The Washington (Pa.) Reporter boasts of two hogs raised in that county, the aggregate weight of which was 1244 lbs.

A Hard Case.

John W. Shugart, the editor of the Venango Democrat, complains bitterly of the want of punctuality on the part of his subscribers, and such was the embarrassment of his situation that he was obliged to run for Sheriff at the last election and move into the jail in order to keep out of it.

The late news from Texas informs that immigrants are pouring in rapidly by sea and land. A vessel from Cork (Ireland) and another from Bangor, Me., had arrived with a large number. The salary of the President of the Republic has been reduced to $5000, Vice President, $1000, and members of Congress to $3 per day. If ours had no more, they would be for having shorter sessions, we opine. -Sat. Cour.

Orange County Pork.

The Newburg (N. Y.) Telegraph states that the Messrs. Gidney, farmers, residing a few miles from this village, slaughtered, last week, six hogs, which together weighed three thousand one hundred and seventy pounds! The heaviest of the lot weighed six hundred and thirty pounds, and the lowest four hundred and thirty pounds, and they average each five hundred and twenty-eight and a half pounds.

New Horse Shoe.

A Frenchman, resident in Poland, has invented (so says the United Service Journal) a new method of shoeing horses, for which the Emperor has awarded him fifty thousand roubles, besides an exclusive patent. He covers the entire hoof with iron, and the base of his shoe or scabbard is perfectly smooth. It requires neither nail nor screw, is extremely cheap, and has the important characteristic of great lightness. It is getting into use in all parts of Russia. When the hoof is injured it is found to be very beneficial. As near as we can understand this account, this shoe is a kind of moccasin, made of sheet iron.

Robbery of the Western Mail.

PHILADELPHIA POST OFFICE, January 10th, 1842.

The Great Western Mail, which left this office on Saturday night, the 8th instant, at 12 o'clock, was robbed between the Depot, near the corner of Market and 8th streets, and the city of Lancaster, and the pouches for Lancaster, York, Chambersburg and Pittsburg, were cut open and completely rifled of their contents. As several of these mails contained valuable packages, all good citizens are requested to aid the Department in ferretting out the perpetrators of this gross outrage, by communicating to the undersigned any information that may lead to their detection and conviction.

JOHN C. MONTGOMERY, P. M.

When the cars arrived at Lancaster, at 6 o'clock, on Sunday morning, the robbery was discovered. The door of the car had been forced open. The padlock and staple, it was found, had been wrenched off. The four large pouches had been cut open and rifled. The contents of the latter bags, which have been stolen, no doubt contained very considerable sums of money. A number of persons have called upon the postmaster, and stated that they were losers to a large amount. It is said that one broker here had $1300. Many drafts had been transmitted, which will of course be stopped. In addition to the mails from Philadelphia, the Eastern letter mails, brought in by the pilot line from New York, were contained in the pouches, and it will consequently be impossible to ascertain at once how large the sums are which have been stolen.

The robbery was certainly a most daring one, and many believe it must have been committed while the cars were passing over the inclined plane, whether they are drawn by horses. In forcing open the car door, some large instrument must have been employed; and according to all indications, the robbers went prepared for their work. -Sat. Courier.

HARRISBURG NEWS.

Harrisburg, Jan. 4, 1842.

The election for Speaker of the House resulted as follows: Jas. R. Snowden, of Venango, 63 Isaac Lightner, of Allegheny, 33 Scattering, 3

After the members were qualified, the usual resolutions relative to postage, rules, and newspapers were adopted, and an unusual resolution, of a reform character, that the minor officers of the House to be elected, shall expect no presents or gratuities at the conclusion of the session.

The Senate met at 3 o'clock, P. M., and the chair was taken by Mr. Ewing, the Speaker elected at the end of the last session. The new members were qualified, when there were ten ballots taken for the election of a Speaker, and unsuccessful. Mr. F. Coplan, of Fayette, was the candidate of the Democrats, and John H. Ewing, of the Whigs. The three first ballots Mr. Farrelly voted for Mr. Strohm, and once or twice for Mr. Ewing, but there could be no election. The Senators all being present, it required seventeen to make an election. Mr. Ewing at one time had sixteen votes, only requiring his own. The Whigs stood for him every ballot, and the Locos voted once for Mr. Strohm.

Harrisburg, Jan. 5, 1842.

The Senate this morning succeeded in electing a Speaker, on the fifth trial. Mr. Strohm, of Lancaster, was elected, having 17 votes. Mr. Fleming, of Lycoming, voted for Mr. Strohm as did Mr. Farrelly—though the last named gentleman had previously voted for Mr. Ewing the regular candidate of the whigs.

The Senate passed the customary resolutions, and the Governor informed them that his Message would be given to-morrow at 12 o'clock.

Harrisburg, Jan. 5, 1842.

In the House, little done. Mr. Stevens gave notice of his intention to introduce a resolution to limit the State debt to $40,000,000, by the Constitution. At the time the Constitution was amended, Mr. Stevens made a proposition to limit the debt to $35,000,000, which unfortunately was rejected. He was not present at the debate of the question, and some 30 or 40 members voted for it. But at this time, public sentiment is entirely different from what it was at that time. The debt is now alarming.

Mr. J. B. Andrews has been nominated as Clerk of the House of Representatives, and will, of course, be elected. The Whigs might re-elect Mr. Seiler, by joining some of Mr. S's friends; but Major Andrews is so universally popular, that they will not do it. Major Andrews is a gentleman, a quality not always sought for in selecting officers. In private life I do not believe he has an enemy, and that gives him in an advantage in a canvass.

Harrisburg, Jan. 10.

The House of Representatives was engaged most of the morning in adopting rules, and a resolution to furnish books for members, Purden's Digest, &c.

Mr. Ryan offered the following: AN ACT to provide for the more effectual punishment and prevention of crimes heretofore punishable with death.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the punishment of death by law is hereby abolished, and imprisonment for life in solitude and at hard labor be and is hereby substituted therefor, in all cases now punishable with death.

Section 2. On conviction of any person of any crime thus punishable, he shall be thereupon deemed with respect to all the contracts to the bonds of matrimony, to all rights of property, and to all civil rights and relations of what nature soever, dead in all respects as if his actual natural decease had taken place at the time of such conviction.

Section 3. That the Governor be, and he is hereby authorized and required, in all cases where persons have been convicted of crimes heretofore punishable with death, and now awaiting the sentence of the law, to commute the same to imprisonment for life at solitary confinement, with hard labor.

Harrisburg, Jan. 11.

The State Treasurer made his annual report to-day. It is an able and patriotic document, and goes for reform, by the reduction of several officers, now held as sinecures. The State Treasurer will retire with dignity and credit.

Mr. Penniman introduced a bill to repeal the relief law, and repay the loan to the banks—but how is the money to be raised? I annex the Bank nominations in the Senate:

- BANK OF PENNSYLVANIA. Mr. Bigler nominated John W. McGrath. " Spackman " Jas. Bingham. " Heister " Andrew Garrett. " Plumer " W. H. Spackman. " Fleming " John Elliott. " Plumer " James O'Connor.

- PHILADELPHIA BANK. Mr. Crispin nominated Daniel P. Bousier. " Gorgas " L. M. Troutman. " Spackman " Benj. C. Cooper. " Brooke " W. G. Cochran. " Brooke " W. H. Spackman.

- COLUMBIA BRIDGE. Mr. Sullivan nominated James Cresson. " Heister " David Rinehart. " Cochran " H. Y. Slaymaker. " Fleming " W. Atkins.

- OFFICERS OF THE SENATE. John Strohm, Speaker. George W. Hamersly, Clerk. John K. Zeilin, Assistant. Samuel T. Williams, Sergeant-at-Arms. Joseph Wade, Door-keeper. PRINTERS. Boas & Patterson, English Journal. Baab & Hummel, German Journal. G. A Sage, Bills.

- OFFICERS OF THE HOUSE. James R. Snowden, Speaker. W. J. B. Andrews, Clerk. T. Jeff. Gross, Assistant. Alfred M. Clark, Sergeant-at-Arms. Hugh Lindsay, Door-keeper. PRINTERS. Henlock & Bratton, English Journal. Hutter & Bigler, German Journal. M'Kinley & Lescuré, Bills.
