

Letter from Ikey Smooth, to his Mother, at Smoothburg, way down to Vermont.

MILFORD, Sept. 22, 1843. DEAR MAM:—After I left our little town of Smoothburg, in Vermont, and bided good-bye to all the Smooths and Slicks who wege-tate in that ar place, I steered a sow-by-sow-west direction, as cusir Zekiel, who sails in the Two Pollys, sez, til I run fowl of a town they kols Milford. Jist afore I got to this place, I sold evry darn red oak ham and wood-on nutmeg that I had, so that I hadn't darned a spudgen left in the old waggin, and my hoss, sleepdy day, had his pluck so riz by the flour bars I gived him, and was so oll-fired spunky, that I thort I'd stop to this town, and get a load of notions, to kepe his dandir down. Wal, marm, arter I'd bin here eenamost a weke, I thort I'd bail out for Vermont, but the folks tell'd me—"Mr. Smooth, you better stay here a few days longer; the young ladies intend to have a Fair, and no doubt you will be much pleased with it, and you will have something new to tell the heathens away up to Vermont."

de panton, as the Schoolmaster used to say,) marm, you musn't scold, kase I couldnt help it, and you musn't let Dolly know on it or she'll giv me the miting. Here it be. Sez I to a leetle gal. You havn't got nothin else to sell have you? No Mister Smooth, sez she, we haint nothin else; we used to sell kisses but we dont do it any more. Wouldn't you sell me jist one? sez I. What'll you giv? sez she. Here I felt like a ternal coot, and jist as if I could hide in a mite's shadder, for I hadn't a brass farthin about me. I'll giv you this ring, sez I. Dun, sez she, but dont let the folks see. Smack! smack! and Dolly's ring was gone; howsum'er I'll git Dolly another, and she wont know, nothin on it. Dear marm I must stop now, or I wunt have nothin to writ next time. So I remain your lin son.

IKEY SMOOTH. Mrs. MERCY SMOOTH, Smoothburg, Vermont.

Baltimore Whig Convention.

At a meeting of the Whig Convention of the city of Baltimore, held on Thursday evening, the 21st September, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted: WHEREAS, a joint meeting of the Whig members of Congress was held in Washington, on Saturday, the 18th of February last, for the purpose of considering the propriety of holding a National Convention to nominate candidates to be supported by the Whig party at the next election of President and Vice President, at which meeting the following resolution was adopted, to wit:

"Resolved, That the Whig members of Congress, concurring in the expediency of the proposed Convention, and yielding to the wishes expressed, that they should designate a time and place, do respectfully recommend that a Whig National Convention, for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice President of the United States, be held at the city of Baltimore, on Wednesday, the 1st day of May, 1844, and that the said Convention be composed of delegates from the respective States, equal to the number of Senators and Representatives of each State in the Congress of the United States."

And WHEREAS the Whigs of the city of Baltimore being deeply impressed with the importance of giving to the nomination of the National Convention the most conspicuous and authoritative ratification which their brethren throughout the Union are able to confer; and holding in lively remembrance the admirable service of the Young Men's Convention assembled in this city on the 4th of May 1840, and the deservedly great influence of that Convention over the country; and believing that the canvass of 1844 may be animated by the same patriotic enthusiasm, and be conducted with the same eminent success, if it be commenced and directed under the same intelligent guidance; they unanimously recommend through their delegates in this body, to their Whig brothers of the several States, the formation of a Young Men's Convention of Ratification, to be composed of delegates from every district of the country, who shall meet in Baltimore on THURSDAY, the 2d day of May, 1844.

Therefore, Resolved, That it be recommended to the Whigs of the several States, to appoint a Young Men's Convention of Ratification, to assemble in the city of Baltimore, on THURSDAY, the 2nd day of May, 1844, who shall have full power to ratify the nomination of the National Convention, and to make such arrangements for the conduct of the canvass as they may believe best adapted to insure success to the cause.

Further Resolved, That this Convention, in the name of the true and patriotic Whigs of the city of Baltimore, invite the largest appointment of delegates to the Young Men's Convention of Ratification, tendering to them as well as the members of the National Convention, cordial welcome to house and home, and hospitable entertainment during their stay.

Resolved, That the editors of the journals, throughout the U. States, friendly to the Whig cause, be requested to publish these resolutions, and to invite the concurrence and aid of the Whigs to give them effect.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK FOR NOVEMBER.

A Particular Number. JOSEPH C. NEAL, ESQ., AUTHOR OF "CHARCOAL SKETCHES," &c. &c.

Will contribute one of his best articles for the November No. of Godey's Lady's Book.

It is unnecessary for us to go into detail touching the merits of this gentleman. There has perhaps no work ever been published in this country, from which extracts have been so frequently made, as the far-famed Charcoal Sketches.

The Proprietor of The Lady's Book was the original publisher of these sketches, and can vouch for their popularity. Besides Mr. Neal, arrangements have been made with all the contributors of any repute in this country, whose contributions will regularly appear in the Book.

The Embellishments of the number will be numerous, at least SEVEN ENGRAVINGS of different kinds. One particularly—

A NOVELTY, a Steel Engraving with an arabesque border, never before attempted in this country, and which gave so much eclat to Lockhart's Spanish ballads.

The Plate of Fashions.

anticipates all others, as we have received from Paris and London the plates containing the latest fashions for winter cloaks, beautifully coloured. This alone for the ladies makes the number invaluable.

Are the public aware that we never omit our fashion plate! This should be looked to when subscribing for a fashionable magazine. They are in every number, and coloured at a great expense.

It is pleasant to look back upon our long career, and reflect upon the millions that have received instruction and amusement from our work—it is also gratifying to know that we have in no instance ever published a line that would give offence, and have never excited the ire of our brethren of the press. This shall be our future course.

THE EMBELLISHMENTS of Godey's Lady's Book are of the first class, both for selection of subject and skill in engraving. They consist of Mezzotint, Line and Stipple, and always engraved by the first artists. We continue to have the largest circulation of any magazine ever published, and we presume the course we have always followed is the reason.

OUR TERMS.

A single copy one year, $3 00 Two copies " " 5 00 Five " " " 10 00 Eight " " " 15 00 Eleven " " " 20 00

Any person forming a club shall receive for every subscriber sent a Novel.

"GODEY'S CENTRE TABLE ORNAMENT" will be sent to any person sending $3 for a single subscriber. Address L. A. GODEY, Publishers' Hall, Phila.
