WORMS CAUSE DEATH.

Thousands upon thousands have gone down to graves from Marasmus, or a wasting away of the body, Epilepsy, Fits, St Vitus' Dance, Locked Jaw, Apoplexy, Mania, Dropsy in the Head, Palsy, Consumption, Pleurisy, Dysentery, Convulsions, and many other supposed apparent diseases; and many have suffered for years and years, and have been doctored for some imaginary complaint without the least relief; and others are still suffering, when all the trouble arises from worms, and worms alone, which are entirely overlooked, and when the proper treatment would have saved their lives, and restored them to health. Every observant mother cannot but see and admit the truth; but still many physicians shut their eyes to that all-important cause of disease.

Persons of all ages and sexes, from the tender infant at the breast to old age, are all liable to be afflicted with worms. Many a person has suffered his whole life from them, and never suspected it. novelty, consistent with the character of the work, Different kinds of worms inhabit different parts of the body; but a long dissertation on their particular locality, origin,&c. is superfluous and unnecessary, so long as a proper, safe and certain remedy is at hand. That is all the public wants or cares for. The sale of over two millions of boxes of Sherman's Worm Lozenges, in less than five years. places their reputation far above all other worm

ment and accomplished writers of the country

The motives which have led to the commence.

ment of this undertaking may be briefly stated It is believed by the proprietor that there is in the United States an immense provision of literary ability, for which as yet there is no adequate encouragement, or field of display; that besides the numbers of clever and successful writers, whose productions are weekly, and monthly, and annual. ly read with delight by thousands, there are yet greater numbers constantly arriving at maturity of power, who have only to appear on the stage of publication to receive a brilliant award of fame; and that the powers of those whose names are already pronounced with respect by hips of wisest censure, are capable of more and still igher exertion than has yet been called forth. Is is believed, too, that the demand for literary production in this country, especially in the periodi cal channel, exceeds the supply in a very large proportion, and that new supplies have only to be presented of the right quality, and in the right way, to ensure a hearty welcome and profitable reception. No doubt is entertained of the Amer ican mind's ability to sustain itself-certainly on its own ground, if not abroad-against all the competition that the intellect of other lands carbring to the encounter; and full assurance is fethat among the millions of American readers there can be, and is, a cordial welcome for all the American writers can produce of excellent and

From these premises it is undoubtingly inferred, that there is abundant room for another Magazier, notwithstanding the merit and success of these already in being; that there can be no lack of ability to fill its pages acceptably, within the reach of capital and liberal enterprise; and that such periodical will not fail to be greeted as a welcomvisiter by thousands upon thousands, who as vit have done little of nothing toward the support and development of American periodical litera-
