The Address.
 We call attention to the proceedings of the Whig Meeting, held at Nazareth, on Thursday last, as well as to the Address to the people of these Congressional and Representative Districts, inserted in another column. Let every one read them. They present, in a brief, but comprehensive manner, the important issues to be decided, on Tuesday next.

To the Polls! To the Polls!!
 Freemen of Monroe and Pike, on Tuesday next you will be called upon to exercise the sacred right of suffrage, at the most important General Election that has taken place in Pennsylvania for many years. Whigs, we cannot, too strongly, urge upon you the necessity of repairing to the Polls, and discharging your duty as freemen. Let no consideration induce you to stay away. Not only go yourselves, but see that your neighbors go also. Call upon them, and take them with you. Receive no excuse. It is the duty of every man to vote, and no Whig should neglect it. Let every Whig, therefore, go to the Polls, and the success of our principles and candidates will be certain. A glorious triumph awaits us;—who will not share in achieving it?

Taxes! Taxes!! Taxes!!!
 Let it not be forgotten, on Tuesday next, at the ballot-boxes, that Francis R. Shunk is opposed to a Sale of the Public Works, and in favour of continuing the present oppressive State Tax. Also, that Gen Joseph Markle, is in favour of selling the Public Works, and reducing the heavy State Tax!

The Whig Ticket.
 We display at the head of our editorial columns this day, the Whig Ticket for 1844. It is a glorious ticket, and should command the suffrages of an overwhelming majority of the people. Every name upon it is an honour to the party, and the principles which we profess. Who is not proud of such a Ticket?

Our Congressman.
 There are two candidates before the people of this District for Congress. Richard Brodhead, and Peter S. Michler, both of Easton.—We give our preference to Mr. Michler, and hope a majority of the electors of the District will do the same, as he is in every respect more identified with the best interests of the people, than Mr. Brodhead. He is in favor of the present excellent Tariff, in favor of distributing the Proceeds of the Sales of the Public Lands among the States, and of a wise and economical administration of the affairs of the National Government. Mr. Brodhead's advocacy of a Revenue Tariff, is altogether unsatisfactory.—He also opposes Distribution, and other salutary measures intended for the good of Pennsylvania. Who, then, will not rather vote for Mr. Michler, who is known to be right on all these great questions?

Our Assembly Ticket.
 We take pride in presenting the names of Jacob Fatzinger, Henry Desch, and Depue S. Miller to the voters of Monroe and Northampton counties, for their support as candidates for the Assembly. They are able and intelligent, and if elected will be an honor to the District. Hundreds of our political opponents will vote for them.

Pike and Wayne.
 Paul S. Preston, Esq., of Wayne county, is the People's candidate, for Assembly, in the District composed of Pike and Wayne counties. We need hardly call upon our Whig friends there to make a noble rally in his behalf. They are up and doing, and will try hard to elect their man.

Peter S. Michler, Esq.
 This gentleman has been recommended to the People of Northampton, Wayne, Pike, Monroe and Carbon, as a suitable person to represent this District in the Congress of the U. States. Mr. Michler is well known to every voter, and needs no eulogium from us. He represented us in the State Senate for four years; and the manner in which he discharged the arduous duties of that office, gave universal satisfaction. His opinions upon the Tariff and Distribution, are sound—and just exactly what the people want to see carried out. Let them therefore, elect him, and they will not have reason to regret their choice. He will be supported by his opponents as well as by his political friends.

Francis R. Shunk.
 Let it be remembered, that Francis R. Shunk, is an Old office holder. That he has been in office, at Harrisburg, thirty-two years, and drawn upwards of SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS from the State Treasury.

Let it also be remembered, that he was Gov. Porter's Secretary of State, during the first three years of his administration, and shared in all the corruptions and lumber-speculations which disgraced that period of our history.
 Let it also be remembered, that he is opposed to a Protective Tariff, which secures employment to our mechanics and laborers, but is in favor of FREE TRADE, which will flood our land with the pauper labour of Europe.
 And let it also be remembered, that he is in favor of excluding the BIBLE from Common Schools.

Who can vote for a man like this, when the gallant Gen. Joseph Markle is in the field?

Sale of the Main Line.
 It must not be forgotten that on Tuesday next, the people of Pennsylvania will be called upon to decide whether the Main Line of our Public Works, shall be sold or not. We are satisfied that nine-tenths of the voters of the State are in favor of the Sale; and are encouraged in their resolution by the united force of the Whig Party and Whig Press. But the loco loco office holders, and office seekers, oppose the sale, and thus endanger the vote which is to be taken. The Wayne County Herald, of last week, comes to us with the flag hoisted, against the Sale. We have heretofore mentioned other loco papers, which take the same course. Francis R. Shunk, too, is well known to oppose the Sale. What can the honest portion of our opponents think of this? Is it not enough to satisfy them that General Markle, and the Whigs, go in for a reduction of the State Tax, and the relief of the people; and that Francis R. Shunk, and the loco loco leaders, are the advocates of Taxation, and the friends of extravagant expenditures of the people's money.

The Whig Mass Meeting on the 28th of September.

We think we never witnessed a more animated assemblage of the people, than was to be seen thronging the streets of Stroudsburg on Saturday last. There were men from the different walks of society,—the honest farmer and artisan in their plain attire, the professional man, the merchant, and the man of leisure, collected in groups, discussing grave questions of State or national policy; or gazing at the imposing pageant, as with badge and banner it passed in long procession. A fine delegation came from Pocono, accompanied by the Nazareth band of music. From Brodhead's creek, also, a noble band was sent. In that procession there was one team of 15 yoke of oxen, drawing 2 or 3 wagons lashed together and well loaded, which attracted much attention. The Smithfield delegation, also, was a spirited affair, got up in good taste, and very respectable for numbers. But the Whigs of Mt. Bethel, what shall we say of them. They certainly did the thing up right. The spectacle they presented when passing through the town was truly grand. Accompanied by the Williamsburg and the Stewartville bands of music, and ornamented by several splendid flags, and banners with various mottoes and devices, it could not be otherwise than most imposing. From Ross, also, the Whigs sent their delegation, and a fine one it was. New Jersey also joined us on the festive occasion. Many were here from the neighborhood of Blairstown—many also from Belvidere and its vicinity; but the Columbia boys took the lead. They came in right good earnest. The procession altogether was a fine one. This we think all will admit. We may safely estimate the number present at one thousand. Had the meeting been nearer the middle of the week, and had the day been favorable, the assemblage would have been far greater than it was. Of this we have the means of knowing for certain.

At the hour of 1 o'clock P. M., the mass of people collected around the stand, erected in front of the Female Seminary, while the Seminary itself, above and below, was filled with ladies, anxious to manifest their sympathy with the Whig cause, and to share in the anticipated pleasure of listening to the fine speakers present on the occasion. The meeting was organized by appointing the following officers:

- President.
 Dr. WILLIAM P. VAIL.
- Vice Presidents.
 GEORGE TROXELL, Upper Mt. Bethel.
 DAVID B. HAZEN, do.
 JAMES TROCH, Pocono.
 JAMES ELEY, Ross.
 JAMES BOYS, Stroud.
 JOHN I. BLAIR, Blairstown, N. J.
 JOHN PRICE, Esq., Price.
 CHARLES SAYLOR, Esq., Hamilton.
 HENRY SMITH, Smithfield.
 JONAS HANNA, Middle Smithfield.
 JOHN DAWES, Easton.
- Secretaries.
 James Bell, Jr.
 Dr. Charles Walton.
 Joseph Fenner.

Mr. Creveling, of Warren, N. J., was now called upon to sing one of his Whig songs, which he did in fine style. The Hon. JOSEPH L. WHITE, formerly member of Congress from Indiana, now a citizen of New York, was then introduced to the meeting. Appearances had indicated rain all the previous part of the day, and now it had commenced. The Hon. speaker therefore proposed that the meeting should adjourn to some suitable place, sheltered from the weather. It was voted, however, by acclamation, that he should proceed, as they were willing to brave the storm in such a cause. He did proceed, and a more lucid, fair, dignified, and well-compacted argument in favor of the Protective System could not have been made, under the very unfavorable circumstances of the case. Such plain, earnest, intelligent, home appeals as flowed from the eloquent orator, could not fail of execution. Never did an argumentative speaker rivet more closely the attention of an audience than did Mr. White that day—if the eye and whole expression of listeners is a fair index of what they feel. He took occasion also, in the course of his remarks, to define the relative positions of Mr. Clay and Mr. Polk, on the absorbing question of the Tariff. We only wish that the well meaning, but misled supporters of Polk could have heard him. The leaders of that party, however, take good care to prevent their followers from hearing the plain truth. Not many friends of Polk were on the ground, though the Whigs had turned out to hear the Loco-Foco speakers on the 12th ult. in large numbers. We merely state the fact, and leave inferences to others.

After Mr. White had spoken about one hour, it was thought best to adjourn to the mansion house of Daniel Stroud, where the Hon. gentleman concluded his very able speech. The audience then desired that the meeting should be removed to the Court-house, in order that they might see, as well as hear, the speaker. It was done so accordingly. JOSIAH RANDALL, Esq., of Philadelphia, was then introduced to the meeting, who entertained the audience with an excellent speech of about an hour in length. He expressed some strong, but to our opponents, not very palatable truths. That was not his fault, however. In these times the motto of those who are struggling for the truth should be—"Let justice take its course, though the Heavens should fall." It is not at all desirable that harsh and abusive language should be uttered; and a departure from the strict line of truth is not to be tolerated—but the plain truth should be spoken, kindly but fearlessly; kindly to those who have been egregiously deceived and misled by those who know better,—fearlessly to those who have resolved to secure the end, irrespective of the means. Mr. Randall asserted that there was not one principle, upon which the self-styled democratic party had insisted when Jackson first came into power, which that same party had not now abandoned. This he had challenged their speakers to prove false if they could. They had not attempted it. This was indeed a very grave charge, but one that may easily be sustained.

In the evening there was some very excellent speaking at the house of Mr. Shively, by Giles M. Hillyer, Esq., of New York city, and Joseph Boughton, Esq., of Binghamton, N. Y., and by M. Robert Buttz, of Belvidere, N. J. These gentlemen acquitted themselves well indeed. The remarks of Mr. Hillyer, especially, were deserving of very serious consideration. He made it evident to any who are capable of honest conviction, that a deep laid plan has been matured, on the part of England, to prostrate American industry, by the dissemination among us of their delusive doctrines of free trade; free for British subjects, but not free for us,—doctrines suited to the meridian of South Carolina, and of which Mr. Polk is the known friend and supporter.

Thus passed off our meeting. Considering the badness of the day, the success was signal. Let no one hereafter deride the Whigs with want of spirit. The Whigs of '44 have the same kind of stuff in them that the Whigs of '76 had. Contending for American principles then—contending for them now—they will contend for them always.

Several other Whig speakers were on the spot, and would have addressed the people had time permitted. There was Charles W. Jay, Esq., Editor of the Clay Banner, Trenton, H. D. Maxwell, Esq., of Easton, John Maxwell and Samuel Sherred, Esqrs., of Belvidere, all ready for the stump, good and efficient speakers, one and all. It will not be said, we presume, that ample provision was not made for this meeting. It will not be said—by those who regard what they say at any rate—that we made a great flourish of trumpets, announcing the Hon. this one and that one, and failed in the end to fulfil our promises; making, as we had proof not long since on an occasion similar to this, great swelling pretensions, golden promises, but, in the event, a most lame and impotent performance.

In conclusion we say that the 28th of September, 1844, is a day not soon to be forgotten by the Whigs of Monroe county, nor by the Loco Foco neither. That day gave good proof of the indomitable spirit of the Whigs. Now look out for the ideo of October and November. Nine cheers for Harry Clay of the West, Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, and the gallant Markle of Westmoreland.

The Governor.
 This is the last time we can address our readers previous to the gubernatorial Election, and call upon them to rally in favor of General Joseph Markle, the hero, patriot, and poor-man's friend. Gen. Markle is a noble specimen of a man. His heroic services during the late war, stamp him as one of our bravest and best of soldiers—whilst his disinterested sacrifices and devotion to the country, proclaim him to be every inch a man and a patriot. He is in favor of selling the Public Works and reducing the heavy State Tax, and goes for other measures of relief. His opponent is an old Office holder, who has fattened upon the State's money, and is unworthy to be trusted. Who then will you vote for? Will you vote for Francis R. Shunk, who is opposed to your best interests, or will you vote for the old hero, who whipped the British and Indians during the last war, and who will restore our State to the condition in which the plunderers, who now abuse their power, found it?

Gen. Joseph Markle.
 Gen. Markle, is no office holder. Although he distinguished himself in the most honorable manner during the late war, he has never set that up as a claim upon his fellow citizens to elect him to office. He has been contented on his farm, tilling the soil, and improving his mind with sound general and political information. His fellow-citizens, now call him from his retirement, to pay a debt of gratitude which they owe him. Obedient to the call of duty, he is as ready now to rescue the State from the hands of the plunderers, as he was to deliver the country from the dangers of an invading foe.—Who will not rather vote for him than for the old office holder, Francis R. Shunk?

Canal Commissioner.
 If you want to elect a good and experienced man, Canal Commissioner, on Tuesday next, vote for Simeon Guilford, of Lebanon county. He is therefore well acquainted with the duties of the office. His opponent, Joshua Hartshorne, of Chester county, is a DOCTOR. He has spent all his life in studying medicine, &c., and attending to his patients. He has had no experience to qualify him for the station, and it would, therefore, be very wrong, and injurious to the State, to elevate him to a place in the Canal Board. We say again, vote for SIMEON GUILFORD.

Our Prospects.
 The probability of our success was never brighter than it is at present. The news from every part of the State is of the most encouraging character, and the friends of Gen. Markle, have but to exert themselves, and poll all their votes, to insure his success. For Congressmen and Representatives, our chance is good. In Northampton, great dissatisfaction prevails among our opponents in regard to the Regular Ticket, and hundreds will vote against it. A corresponding change here, may secure us defeat, and the triumph of the people's candidates. Let a proper effort be made to secure this desirable result.

Conferee Meeting.
 A convention of the conferees of this Senatorial district, met on Tuesday, Sept. 24th, at the house of Mr. Connor, Mauch Chunk, where it was found that Charles W. Pitman, J. W. Roseberry and J. B. Levan, of Schuylkill county, and C. G. Von Tagen, Charles Snyder and E. W. Harlan, of Carbon, were present—the other counties of the district not being represented. On motion, C. G. VON TAGEN was chosen President, and C. W. PITMAN Secretary.

The number of Conferees to be chosen by each of the counties comprising this senatorial district, it was agreed should be left for future arrangement. On motion, STEPHEN BALLIET, of East Penn township, Carbon county, was unanimously chosen as the senatorial candidate to represent the counties of Schuylkill, Carbon, Monroe and Pike.

On motion, Resolved, That we will use our utmost endeavors to secure the election of Stephen Balliet to represent this Senatorial district in the Senate of Pennsylvania, believing as we do that he is well qualified to discharge the duties pertaining to the office, and therefore cordially recommend him to our fellow citizens for their support at the coming election.

Resolved, That we look forward to the anticipated success of the Whig cause and the triumphant election of the Whig candidates, CLAY, FRELINGHUYSEN and MARKLE, for the permanent establishment of those principles of National and State policy which will restore prosperity to every interest and to all classes of community.

C. G. VON TAGEN, President.
 C. W. PITMAN, Secretary.

Democratic Whig Meeting.
 A large meeting of the Whigs of Northampton county, was held at the house of Daniel Riegle, in Nazareth, on Thursday, the 26th of September 1844. The meeting was organized by the appointment of the following officers: BENJAMIN F. ARNDT, of Lower Mount Bethel, Chairman.

PAUL M. MILLER, of Moore, B. D. BARNES of Allen, JACOB B. SHIMER, of Upper Nazareth and G. ROTH, Vice Presidents.
 Josiah P. Hetrich, of Easton, and Sidney A. Clewell, of Bushkill, Secretaries.

The call for the meeting was read, being for the purpose of acting upon a Congressional and County Ticket, and deliberating upon the interests of the party, after which some appropriate remarks were made by George W. Yates, Esq. when, on motion, it was unanimously resolved that the Whigs of this county and Congressional District recommend candidates at the approaching election for Congress, Assembly, Director of the Poor, Coroner and Auditor.

On motion, it was unanimously resolved that PETER S. MICHLER, Esq. be recommended to the electors of this Congressional District, to represent them in the next Congress and for members of Assembly we recommended JACOB FATZINGER, of Allen, HENRY DESCH, of Saucon, and DEPUE S. MILLER, of Stroud of Monroe county. For Director of the Poor and House of Employment JACOB HELLER, of Freudensthal. For Auditor JOHN HUNTSBERGER, of Upper Mount Bethel. For Coroner RICHARD B. TEMPLIN, of Easton.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to address the electors of this Congressional District, The Representative District, and citizens of this county, in relation to the claims which the Ticket recommended by this Meeting has upon them for their support. The Chairman appointed the following persons said committee: Geo. W. Yates, John H. Keller, Samuel Yohe, James J. Horner, and Samuel Kinsey.

Resolved, That this meeting be a committee of vigilance to promote the election of the candidates of the Democratic Whig party.

Resolved, That in accordance with the recommendation of the Whig State Central Committee, the friends of Markle, Clay, Frelinghuysen and the Ticket recommended this day hold Borough and Township meetings throughout the County, on Friday preceding the General Election, to appoint Committees of Vigilance and take other necessary measures to secure the triumph of our principles.

The meeting was briefly but ably addressed
