THE COLUMBIAN MAGAZINE,

FOR 1845. EDITED BY JOHN INMAN AND ROBERT A. WEST. Prospectus for the Second Year.

At the close of his second volume, the magazine having been commenced on the first of January, country. The subscribers have on hand and 1844, the publisher finds himself irresistably call- for sale at their yard in Milford ed on to express the satisfaction and gratitude with which he has been filled by the brilliant and unexampled success that has attended his endeavors to win the public favor. Notwithstanding the difficulties, disappointments and vexations that almost invariably follow the establishment of a new periodical, in the production of which there must be the harmonious co-operation of many heads and many hands - notwithstanding occasional short-comings, especially in the pictorial department, which no care or diligence could avert and no expenditure prevent, the Columbian Magazine has gone on steadily increasing in support and popularity from the opening number, and if the unbought unsolicited testimony of the press may be received as unswayed by partiality and unbiassed by friendship, the efforts of contributors and editors have been satisfactory to the public and accepted as fulfilling the promises made for them at the commencement of the enterprise. The publisher undertook the work with a firm conviction that the great city of New York was the best and the true home for a magazine of general literature; that notwithstanding the failure of many previous attempts to establish such a work, say there could be no impossibility of success with sufficient capital, perseverance and the right system of management both by publisher and editor; stimulated by this conviction he embarked in the enterprize and the result of the first year has proved that his judgment was correct.

It has long ceased to be necessary, or reasonable, that we should speak of the Columbian as an experiment. At all events, it is now an experiment substantially tried. We feel ourse'ves upon as firm a basis as any similar journal in the world-Our principal cares now regard not so much the securing what ground we have gained (for we consider this sufficiently secure) as the extension of our sphere of action and utility-not so much, even, citizens of Stroudsburg, and the public generalthe mere enlargement of our subscription-list, as the most suitable modes of catering for the amusement (and shall we say occasionally for the profit?) of our subscribers in the present and in the future-the many whom we have, and the many at his residence in Jacksonville, one door above

Our music and engravings, we confidently believe, will not be equalled-very cer- in any other establishment in Stroudsburg, or in tainly they shall not be surpassed in real merit, any City, as he has done business in the first by those of any other magazine. We propose to shops in New York and a number of other Cigive, each month, two or more superb engravings, ties, and has a thorough knowledge of all the independently of two pages of music by the most various styles and changes of fashion.

Regarding the literary and editorial conduct of the Columbian, the publisher does not feel called upon to say more than a very few words. The general management of this department is confided to the gentleman who has hitherto given abundant evidence, not only of the highest ability to put forth a meritorious magazine and one exactly adapted to the tastes of all readers, with whom is associated another gentleman of ability and experience. The publisher, therefore, has every confidence that what has already been done for the literary value of this journal, will be done again. We are perfectly willing that our future in this respect should be estimated by our past. The subjoined list of those who have furnished articles for the Columbian during the by gone year, will satisfy, we feel assured, the most fastidious, that we are resolute to spare, in no particular, either exertion or expense.

September 14, 1842. Spitting of Blood, NIGHT SWEATS AND PAIN IN THE SIDE. Jonathan Haworth, Esq. the well known Temperance Lecturer, was attacked with a cold from sleeping in damp sheets, in the winter of 1841. He neglected it at first, but soon found it assuming a somewhat alarming aspect, and then resorted to the various remedies usually recommended for lung complaints. When one thing failed he tried another, until he had exhausted his patience and the whole catalogue of remedies. His cough was almost incessant, so that he could get little or no sleep-attended with pain in his side, spitting of blood, night sweats, and all the usual symptoms of Consumption. While at Rome, (N Y) he felt that his end was nigh-that in that place he must soon end his journey of life. Providentially, a lady who visited him advised a trial of Dr Sherman's Cough Lozenges. He accordingly sent and got a box, and the first dose gave him more reflet than all the other medicines he used before. By the time he had taken one small box, he was able to start for the city of New York, and in three weeks' time he was perfectly restored to his usual health. He often announces the fact to his hearers, when lecturing on Temperance, and says he owes his. life to Dr Sherman's Lozenges

From the Cincinnati Daily Times, of Jan. 4th 1844. Coughs-The variableness of the weather this winter has caused an unusual number of persons to be afflicted by colds and coughs-scarcely a family has escaped; and with many, carelessness in attending to a cough, has laid the foundation for would be thankful for any patronage extended consumption.
