FARMERS' LIBRARY.

Prospectus of the Farmer's Library, and Monthly Journal of Agriculture. JOHN S. SAINNER, Editor. None can well have studied the true sources of National welfare, without perceiving the natural and friendly connexion existing between Manufactures. Commerce and Agriculture. The po-Jicy which strikes at the prosperity of the Manufacturing consumer, must damage the Agricultural producer, and neither can be injuriously affected without detriment to the Merchant, at once consumer and carrier for both. As, however, the elements of manufacturing and commercial industry must be derived chiefly from the soil, is it not the obvious interest of all other classes that the one which gives to all their employment and subsistence, should be encouraged and benefitted with est of Win. Schlaugh in the above establishevery advantage that science can confer and the ment, takes this method to inform the public most enlightened industry make available ? Yet generally, and Millers and Farmers especial it has not been until comparatively a late period in Europe, and still later in America, that the public mind has been made properly sensible of the necessity of science to Agriculture, and so to respect Farming as essentially an intellectual and dignified pursuit-one which should imply for its followers high mental cultivation and various attainments. Happily, however, educated young men are now betaking themselves to Farming, as a business, which, like the learned professions, business in the best manner and with despatch has its own principles and will have its literature ; He will manufacture and truly it may be asked what subject has lately given rise to memoirs and works more profound and instructive, or been fruitful of more interest- for Flour and other Mills, together with Castculture ? Who, among modern Literati, enjoy more enviable distinction than Liebig and John-ston, and Boussingault and Candolle ? The taste for Agricultural Literature in our country, thanks to publish on the first day of July, and monthly thereafter, the Farmer's Library and Monthly Journal of Agriculture, to be edited by John S. SEINNER, late Assistant Postmaster General and founder of the first Agricultural periodical published in this country.

Far from being designed or in any way calculated to affect injuriously the circulation of existing journals of less price and wider circulation, they may supply the Farmer's table with lighter brary he may may find more solid as it will be more costly food.

Each number will consist of two distinct parts, viz. :--

I. The Farmers' Library, in which will be published continuously the best Standard Works on Agriculture, embracing those which, by their cost or the language in which they are written, would otherwise seem beyond the reach of nearly all American Farmers. From the Cincinnati Daily Times, of Jan. 4th 1844.

Coughs--The variableness of the weather this winter has caused an unusual number of persons to be afflicted by colds and coughs--scarcely a family has escaped; and with many, carelessness in attending to a cough, has laid the foundation for consumption. Our family has not escaped the general affliction, but owing to a remedy, used for the first time, they were speedily cured. Sherman's Cough Lozenges, which we were induced to try, proved what they are represented to be, and affected a cure in a few days of a troublesome cough, which appeared so deeply seated that seemed doubtful if it could be removed at all-We have not written the above as a puff, but as. facts which the community should know.
