

Public Plunder.

We have often insisted upon it, that only ties of affinity between the various sections of the Locofoco party were those cemented by the cohesive force of public plunder. So long as the offices and the public patronage remain in their hands, and are monopolized by their favorites, just that long they will remain the united, well disciplined and vigorous party they are. There is but little similarity between the various fragments that make the aggregate Locofoco party. In some of the States they sustain the protective policy, while in others they are hostile to it. In the western States they go for a liberal and comprehensive system of internal improvements, while on the seaboard they denounce the whole system as unconstitutional. In New York they go against an extension of slave territory, while further south they have made this very question a cardinal point in the party creed.

No matter for this wide difference of sentiment, however, so far as the "party" is concerned. When the Baltimore Convention meets, they will be found battling for the nominee, earnestly, vigorously, shoulder to shoulder! The power, the patronage, the public plunder, have far greater weight upon the party in power than principles or measures of public policy. It is, therefore, that the Washington Union asks most lachrymously what pledge Gen. Taylor has given "as to the distribution of the executive patronage." Supposing him in the field as a candidate, the Union is only concerned to know to whom he will give the plunder! This is consistent—Union like. Mr. Ritchie will find that the Whigs don't fight for plunder. They seek to restore the republican platform of the fathers of the republic, and whoever may happen to become their standard bearer, in the canvass at hand, will make it his business rather to "protect and defend the constitution than to minister to the hungry clamorants that now infest the seat of government. There is a good time coming, and the sooner the Vandals and Goths are driven from the capital the better for country at large.—Daily News.

The Erie bank directors have issued a card showing that the Institution has assets sufficient to meet all its liabilities. Gen. Reed has, besides, made himself responsible for the debts. The Gazette says the draining of specie by the brokers caused the suspension.

"I'm very partial to General Scott, but he is decidedly wrong."

"How so?"

"No soldier has a right to complain of his pillow."—N. Y. Atlas.

But such a pillow as Scott had. Surely you cannot blame him for complaining of it.—Boston Bee.

Certainly not in such a case. This is not the first soft pillow the hero of Lundy's Lane has stripped of its feathers.—Phil. Sun.

The N. Y. correspondent of the Boston Chronotype says that some parties in that city went into a flour speculation on the strength of the foresight and predictions of A. J. Davis, the clairvoyant. The predictions turned out fallacious and the credulous parties lost the $30,000 they had adventured. Served them right.

WHAT THEY SIT FOR.—A Quaker, who was examined before a court, not using any other language than "three," and "friend," was asked by the president judge, "Pray, Mr.—do you know what we sit here for?" "Yes, verily, do I," said the Quaker, "three of you for two dollars each a day, and the fat one on the right for one thousand dollars a year."

A PROPHECY.—A celebrated rock in Ireland, known as the rock of Cashel, recently fell to the ground, after defying the storms that have beat upon it since the deluge. An ancient prophecy was connected with this rock, the substance of which was, that a great revolution would occur in England the same year the rock should fall.

STRANGE SUICIDE.—A week or two since a man named BRUCH, living near Cincinnati, committed suicide in the following manner:—He went to the churchyard and dug his grave beside his wife, who had been buried some sixteen months before. Having procured a coffin under some pretence, he conveyed it to its destination unobserved. He then took off his clothes, except his shirt, put on a nightcap, and laid himself in the coffin which he had previously placed in the newly made grave, with a loaded pistol in it. He now drew on the cover of the coffin, and then, placing the pistol to his right temple, fired it. It is supposed he died instantly. There is no doubt that Bruce was crazy.

A race was run over the Union Course, L. I., between Fashion and Boston, last week, in which the latter was distanced. Fashion made the four miles in 8 minutes and 17 seconds.

SMALL POX.—This loathsome disease has recently prevailed to some extent in Harrisburg, having been brought thither by a party of Indians. It has since made its appearance at Carlisle, derived from the former place.

Can it be Beat.
Mr. HENRY NOVICH, of Norristown township, left at our office on Monday last, several stalks of Rye, measuring from 8 feet to 8 feet 3 inches in length. He says he has twelve acres of the same kind and desires to know whether any Locofoco grain grower in the county can show any thing like it. What say you gentlemen?
Norristown Herald.

THIRTY STATES.—The bill admitting Wisconsin into the Union has passed both branches of Congress.

Vagabonds for America.

The Limerick, (Ireland,) papers state, that about 200 vagabond spies, who were somewhat troublesome to the government, were to be forthwith transported to America, by the authorities, in a ship freighted for that purpose. The Reporter congratulates the country on the prospective happy riddance of the crew, at any cost, but at the same time condoles with the Americans in being obliged to receive such a community of wretches.

French cabinet-makers can now make wood of any color they please, by letting the roots of the tree absorb the colored fluids the year before they are cut down. A solution of iron passed up one root and of prussiate of potash up the other will give the wood a permanent blue color.

MARRIED.

In New Hope, by the Rev. P. O. Studdiford, on the 22d inst., Mr. F. E. Brooks, to Miss Elizabeth, daughter of Dr. John Deichman, all of Lower Mount Bethel, Northampton county.

DETERMINATION OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD, as it is called, can be accounted for upon no other principle than from the presence of corrupt and stagnant humors in the venous circulation, which prevent the return of the vital fluid to the heart. When the passages are choked up, and it becomes, as it were, prisoner in the head, there is a distension or swelling of the blood-vessels, a pressure upon the brain, headach, giddiness, palpitation of the heart, apoplexy, and other dreadful results.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are certain to prevent the above unpleasant complaints, because they expel from the circulation those humors which are the cause of all disordered motions of the blood. They also aid and improve digestion, and therefore will most assuredly give health and vigor to the body.

Beware of Sugar Coated Counterfeits.—Remember, that the original and only genuine Indian Vegetable Pills have the written signature of WILLIAM WRIGHT on the top label of each box.
