

Buried Alive.

A letter in the Boston Chronotype, dated Providence, R. I., Nov. 7, relates the following singular circumstances:

Miss Harriet Buffington, aged about nineteen, nervous, sanguine temperament, blue eyes and auburn hair, dreamed about six months ago that she was buried alive, and was so much distressed about it that she spoke of it to her friends. Last Wednesday, Nov. 1st, she attended the ball at Howard Hall, and from the excitement of that occasion she did not rest so well the following night, and was, of course, somewhat exhausted during the succeeding day and night. On Friday evening, Nov. 3d, at about seven o'clock, while in the yard of her father's house, with two young ladies, she suddenly fell to the ground, exclaiming at the moment, "Oh how dizzy I am!" She appeared to be in a fit, and for some moments was senseless, and said to her young friends, "can't you do something for me?" Send for the doctor." When the doctor arrived, he opened a vein in her arm, but there was little or no flow of blood, and in about two hours he pronounced her dead. This was Friday night. She was carried to the tomb next Sabbath, at about 2 P. M. But during all this time and up to the present writing, some of her friends have felt from being perfectly satisfied that she was really dead, when committed to the tomb, and for the following reasons:

I. On Sabbath afternoon, some thirty-six hours after the swoon, her father noticed the discharge of fresh blood from her arm, where she had been lanced by the doctor on Friday night.

II. The ladies who laid her out, said they perceived what appeared to be an unusual warmth in her body at the time.

III. Her friends thought the attending physician hesitated, and manifested some uncertainty in his mind, when he pronounced her dead.

IV. At the funeral, the Rev. Mr. Book, her pastor requested the sexton not to close the lid of her coffin, and it was not closed, when she was put into the tomb, nor while she remained in it.

V. Mr. Swartz, the sexton, did not feel satisfied, and advised her father to have the body removed back to the house.

Thus the case stood last evening, when some friends consulted the celebrated clairvoyant, Miss Ann E. Hall, about the case, who said Miss B. was then alive, but would not remain so long, if they did not attend to her, and today, at about 12 noon, her father had her body removed back to his house, where it was examined by a large number of friends. Miss Hall being present, in a state of trance, said the young lady had died about 2 o'clock last night, and I have some curious collateral facts which go to show, that the clairvoyant told the truth about the case, which I may send you if you wish them. Mr. Buffington declares his child shall not be carried to the tomb again till a change has taken place, sufficient to put the matter beyond all doubt. Yours, truly, A. Y. D.

Extraordinary Case.

There fell under our observation yesterday, says the Kingston (Ulster county) Journal, the most singular case of disease we ever witnessed. The subject is a man named Snyder, aged 35 years, residing in the town of Warwarsing in this country. Four months ago he had an attack of sickness, but recovered and was to all appearance entirely healed. About a fortnight after his recovery he was seized with drowsiness, and for some time after, slept nearly two-thirds of the day. This disease continued to increase, until he would sleep two or three days without waking. When we saw him yesterday, he was continuing an uninterrupted sleep of five days. His pulse is regular, though not very full, his respiration is easy and natural, and skin moist and cool. If food or drink be placed in his mouth, he swallows it; and he walks when led by the hand, and slightly supported. On Thursday last he awoke from a sleep of two days, spoke a few words, struck a lady who was in the room violently with a chair, and almost immediately afterward sunk back into his present slumber. He is on his way to the New York Hospital.

The Asiatic Cholera proves by dissection, the Medical Examiner says, to be the inflammation and ulceration of the various membranes of the bowels. The contents of the stomach and intestines ferment and putrify, vomiting, and swelling of the abdomen quickly follow, and the patient sinks. Dr. Maxwell of Calcutta, says he cured himself by copious drafts of effervescent soda powders in cold water, that he afterwards saved many a life by the same treatment. He says that no remedy will avail except relieving the bowels of the fermenting contents and if this be not done gently, it will be fatal.

DROWSINESS, Swarming of the Head, a roaring noise in the ears, headach, palpitation of the heart, &c.—Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are a certain cure for the above unpleasant complaints, because they purge from the body those stagnant and corrupt humors which, when floating in the general mass of the circulation, are the cause of a rush of blood to the head, giddiness, dimness of sight, drowsiness, pain of the head and other symptoms of a corrupt state of the blood.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are also one of the very best medicines in the world for the cure of indigestion, and therefore will not only remove all the above unpleasant symptoms, but will most assuredly restore the body to a sound state of health.

Beware of Sugar Coated Counterfeits.—Remember, that the original and only genuine Indian Vegetable Pills have the written signature of WILLIAM WRIGHT on the top label of each box.

For sale by George H. Miller, who is the only authorized agent for Stroudsburg; see advertisement for other agencies in another column.

Office and general depot, 169 Race st. Phila.

CLICKENER'S SUGAR-COATED PILLS are every where the rage. And wherefore not! For all other medical compounds make you worse before they make you better, while Clickener's Purgative Pills give pleasure from the first instance, and cure one entirely without giving him to suppose that he has been taking medicine at all. Had Byron been living he would have called Clickener's Sugar-coated Pills the Poetry of Medicine, for heretofore medicine, in almost all its forms, was nearly as disgusting as it was beneficial; but now the evil is most effectually removed for Clickener's Sugar-coated Purgative Pills have no taste whatever of medicine, produce none of the nausea and griping attendant on the operation of other medicine, and their speedy effect in removing all impurities from the system cannot be excelled by any other medicine which has been discovered.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT WORK,

Child-Birth:

A Valuable Scientific Work upon the Subject of Gestation and Child-Birth, by R. M. WEISSELHOFF, M. D. late of Paris, just published in New-York by the Author.

This Work contains recently discovered information upon a subject of the highest importance to Married Persons, or those contemplating Marriage. It will be found of special value to those whose means, health or other circumstances, do not permit them to increase the number of their family, without great inconvenience, suffering, or perhaps risk of life.—A method of avoiding these troubles and dangers, at will, (recently discovered by a celebrated French Physician) is fully communicated in this work, so that any person may avail himself of it at once, without purchasing any instrument, medicine, or other article, from the author. The means of prevention here set forth, cost comparatively nothing, and are within the reach of all. The process is new, safe, infallible, convenient, simple, and cannot injure the health of the most delicate. Nor does it curtail matrimonial privileges in the least.

Mortality Considered.

The object of this work can be shown to be of the highest utility, and sustained by the soundest principles of prudence, political economy, and virtue. It shows how a physiological effect may be produced, scientifically and without injury to the constitution, which thousands attempt to accomplish by the most unwise and reprehensible means. The object is by no means new to the world. The means will be esteemed by all scientific, rightminded and sensible people, as a discovery in physiology of the highest consequence to public morals and happiness.

The Instinct of Nature.

Love, and the desire for union between the sexes, will be indulged, talk of prudence as we may. Without marriage, we have, in all countries, a debasement of one sex, and the criminal indulgence of the other; with marriage, and the unrestrained indulgence of the natural instinct, very often suffering and misery of the most fearful character. Who, then, shall deny to man, (a free agent,) the right to marry, and to regulate the instinct of nature?

Young Married People.

Young Married People, whose fortunes are not yet established, will find in this work matter to interest them deeply, and information of the highest value, which they should not, on any account, be ignorant of. Hundreds of married people, now advanced in life, have assured the author, that if they had possessed such a treasure in early life, it would have saved them more than half the suffering and deprivation they have since endured.

Unhappy Wives.

Unhappy Wives, who feel that their physical condition and health totally unfit them to become the mothers of a numerous offspring, and who reasonably fear that each period of confinement will terminate their existence, will hail the discovery of this certain means of relief with unbounded joy. Let all such unfortunate and unhappy wives lose no time in obtaining this important work. It will be to them a precious boon through life, and prevent many an early and premature death.

Hereditary Diseases.

Scrofula, Consumption, Insanity, Apoplexy, Disease of the Heart, and other horrible complaints, capable of transmission from parent to child, afflict many worthy people, who, at the same time, are as capable of enjoying themselves in the marriage state as their more fortunate fellow beings. Shall such persons refrain from marriage on this account, or shall they marry and give birth to a feeble offspring, destined to a life of suffering or an early death? The answer to these serious questions will be found in the work here recommended.

Early Marriages.

Early marriages are strongly advised by all philosophers and writers upon social and political subjects. Early marriages, beyond all questions, tend to promote virtue and happiness; and with the power of regulating the procreative function, made known in this work, may be freely entered into, without fear of incurring responsibilities which cannot be sustained.

Over Population of the Earth.

Over Population of the earth need be no longer apprehended. The calculations of Malthus, and the wild fears of Robert Dale Owen, are alike rendered baseless by the discovery here communicated to the world. "The control of man over his accidents," in this respect at least, is here established. The wisdom of exercising such control, none who give the subject a moment's consideration, can doubt.

Honesty of the Work.

There is no deception of humbugery of any kind about this work. It is precisely what its title indicates, a scientific publication, containing information of great value to married people, or those contemplating marriage, expressed in plain language, which all can understand, with no unnecessary words put in merely to swell the number of its pages. The whole story is told, and the means of accomplishing the objects of the work fully and faithfully given, so that the reader may avail himself of it at once, without purchasing any medicine, instrument, or other article from the author.—The means of protection which it recommends, may also be relied upon, without fear of disappointment or injury.

Physicians, Professors, & Clergymen

In all parts of the country, have given their testimony strongly in favor of the objects of this work, and the nature of the discovery. We annex a few of these recommendations.

New York, September 13, 1848.

Dr. R. M. WEISSELHOFF—Dear Sir: I should have no question whatever that the means recommended in your work on Child-Birth, would accomplish the objects intended, considered in reference to physiological principles alone; but I have also the happiness to know that it has stood the test of practical experiment. Yours, truly, R. LE DOYEN, Professors of Midwifery, late of Paris. NEW YORK, August, 1848.

DR. R. M. WEISSELHOFF—Sir: The moral effect of such information as your work contains, I believe to be decidedly salutary. The right of man to control the animal instincts cannot be questioned. I think that work will be the means of doing much good.

Rev. B. F. CROWLEY, No. 8 Stanly Park, New York.

DR. R. M. WEISSELHOFF—Sir: The principles of Chemistry applied to the lungs for regulating the precreative functions, as stated in your work on Child-Birth, would satisfy any well informed person that the object of that publication could be attained with the most perfect ease, certainty and safety.

J. L. SULLINAN, Professor of Chemistry, New University.

Copies of this work will be sent, in a close envelope, at single letter postage, to any part of the United States for $1 sent, post paid, to Box 2710, New York City.

DR. R. M. WEISSELHOFF, Copy-right secured. No Bookseller allowed to sell this work. PUBLICATION OFFICE, 258 BROADWAY, New York City.

CAUTION.

Persons who wish the Genuine work, by Dr. Weisselhoff, with private notes added by his own hand, can obtain it only by sending directly to him, as he employs no Agents whatever, and never sells the work at wholesale—therefore no Book Agent, Pedler, Postmaster or Bookseller can possibly furnish the genuine work. Beware, therefore, of false copies, and imitations, which may not only be worthless, but dangerous! All infringements of the copyright are promptly prosecuted; and claims will only sell abridged or altered copies. This is the only original and true work—no other can be genuine. Send by mail as above; it is the only sure way to secure the work. Thousands of copies have been sent by mail with perfect safety.

Almanacs! Almanacs!!

DOCTOR D. JAYNE would respectfully inform the public that he publishes annually for gratuitous distribution, by himself and all his Agents, an Almanac, called Jayne's Medical Almanac, And Guide to Health.

The calculations for this Almanac are made with great care and accuracy for five different Latitudes and Longitudes, so as to make them equally useful as a Calendar in every part of the United States and British North America. They are printed on good paper, and with handsome new type, and are neatly bound, and besides being the neatest and most accurate Calendar printed in the United States, they contain a large amount of valuable information, suited to the wants of all, and of that kind too, which cannot be found in books.

HIS CATALOGUE OF DISEASES, with remarks and directions for their removal is really invaluable, and make them welcome visitors in every house they enter. Every family should possess at least one of these Annuals. His Almanacs for 1849 is now ready for distribution, of which he designs to publish at least TWO MILLIONS, and in order that they every family in the United States and British America, may be furnished with a copy, he hereby invites MERCHANTS AND STOREKEEPERS to forward their orders to him as early as possible, and they shall be supplied GRATUITOUSLY with as many copies as they may deem necessary to supply their various customers. They are also invited at the same time, to send a copy of their "BUSINESS CARD," which will be printed and placed on the cover of the Almanacs sent them, also without charge.

They are also requested to give all necessary directions how the Almanacs should be forwarded to them. By law they cannot be sent by mail unless the postage is first paid on them here.

Orders (post paid) directed to DR. D. JAYNE, Philadelphia, will meet with prompt attention.

FAMILIES can obtain these Almanacs Gratis of JOHN MALVEN, Stroudsburg, November 10, 1848.—3t
