The process is new, safe, infalhable, convenient, simple, and cannot injure the health of the most delicate. Nor does it curtail matrimonial privileges in the least.

Morality Considered.

The object of this work can be shown to be of the highest utility, and sustained by the soundest principles of prudence, political econtuny, and virtue. It shows how a physiological effect may be produced, scientifically and without injury to the constitution, which thousands attempt to accomplish by the most unwise and reprehensible means. The object is by no by Dr. Weisselhoff, with private notes added means new to the world. Young Married People.

Young Married People, whose fortunes are not yet established, will find in this work matter to interest them deeply, and information of of the highest value, which they should not, on any account, be ignorant of. Hundreds of married people, now advanced in life, hate assured the author, that if they had possessed such a treasure in early life, it would have saved them more than half the suffering and deprivation they have since endured.

Unhappy Wives.

Unhappy Wives, who feel that their physical condition and health totally unfit them to become the mothers of a numerous offspring, and who reasonably fear that each period of confinement will terminate their existence, will hall the discovery of this certain means of rehef with unbounded joy. Let all such unfortunate and unhappy wives lose no time in obtaining this important work. It will be to them a precious boon through life, and prevent many an early and premature death.

Early Marriages.

Early marriages are strongly advised by all philosophers and writers upon social and political subjects. Early marriages, beyond all questions, tend to promote virtue and happiness; Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, after taking medand with the power of regulating the procreative function, made known in this work, may be freely entered into, without fear of incuring responsibilities which cannot be sustained.

Honesty of the Work. There is no deception or humbuggery of any kind about this work. It is precisely what its title indidates, a scientific publication, containing information of great value to married people, or those contemplating marriage, expressed in plain language, which all can understand, with no unnecessary words put in merely to swell the number of its pages. The whole story is told, and the means of accomplishing the of jects of the work fully and faithfully given, so that the reader may avail himself o it at once, without purchasing any medicine, instrument, or other article from the author .--The means of protection which it recommends, may also be relied upon, without fear of disap-

Beauty and Health. Cosmetics, Chalk, and a variety of proatations generally in use, when anplied to the face, very soon spoil it of its beauty They close the pores of the skin, and check that circulation, which; when nature is not thwarted by disease or powder, or the skin inflame by the alkalies used in soaps, beautifies its own produc tion in the "human face Divine," as well as in the garden of rich and delicately tinted and variegated flowers. A free, active and healthy circulation of the fluids or the coursing of the pure, rich blood to the extremities, is that which paints the counte. nance in the most exquisite beauty. It is that which imparts the indescribable shades and flashes of loveliness that all admire, but none can describe. This beauty is the offspring of nature--not of powder or soap. If there is not a free and health, circulation, there is no beauty. If the lady is fair as driven snow, if she paint, and use cosmetics. and the blood is thick, cold and Impure, she is not beautiful. If she be brown or yellow, and there is pure and active blood, it gives a rich bloom to the cheeks and a brilliancy to the eyes that is fascinating. This is why the southern, and espe. cially the Spanish ladies, are so much admired. Ladies in the north who take but little exercise or are confined in close rooms, or have spailed their complexion by the application of deleterious mix. tures, if they wish to regain elasticity of steu, buoyant spirits, sparnkling eyes and beautiful complexions, they should use Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla.
