

JEFFERSONIAN REPUBLICAN

Thursday, February 1, 1849.

Wood .- A few loads of wood wanted at this office immediately. Those subscribers who have promised us the article would accommodate us by bringing some soon.

General Taylor, in his letter to the President, resigning the office of Major General in the army. uses the following characteristic language:- 'I Have been called by the people to serve in another capacity, and therefore resign this present commission."

Counterfeit Tens on the Mechanics' Bank of Rahway, N. J. well executed, and signed J. S. Lufberry, President, and F. King, Cashier, are in circulation.

A Felegraphic dispatch from Ohio states that Seabury Forn has been duly inaugurated as Governor of that State.

The Gold Dollar.

The Union is strongly urging the coinage of one dollar gold pieces, and to obviate the objection that they may be lost in the pocket, or in the hurry of payment passed for small silver coin, recommends a proposition by a correspondent, that the circumferance be the same as a five cent piece, with a square hole in the centre; the eagle and liberty cap to be omitted-the 13 stars, and "one dollar, 1849," to occupy one side, and a wreath and the words "United States of America," the other.

John I. Allen, Esq., who used to figure conspicuously as editor of the Honesdale Herald, has started for California.

The Mileage Reform-Done for.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune, da ted Washington, Tuesday, Jan. 23, says :- The the destruction of Locomotives was caused, but coppers were placed decently on the eyes of the it is feared a fatal injury was inflicted upon the Mileage Referm to-day, and the old and annually limbs of two or three persons. We are inaggravated abuse is to go on until the People shall formed that the train going east from Binghampsee fit to stop it. While they remain passive noth- ton being a little behind time, the one coming ing will be done here. This voting money out of from the east, which should have waited at its own pocket is rather a severe strain on modern Lauesboro', was recklessly pushed forward in patriotism.

was foreseen and predicted by friend and foe .-The House did not, will not, dare not, vote by Yeas and and Nays to perpetuate the present monstrous inequalities and abuses. It dare not vote that Messrs. Turner, A. G. Brown, Morse, Leffler, Kaufman, Cathcart, &c. are entitled to some $2,-700 to $3,300 for travel to and attendance on this Session while a large proportion of the Members receive each but $750 to $900. But it was not afraid in Committee of the Whole (where no Yeas and Nays can be called or taken,) to vote to substitute Mr. Schenck's $2,000 compensation and ten cents' Mileage for Judge Embree's Straight Mileage proposition, and, having thus thrown out the latter, it had only to-day, on coming out of Committee, to order the previous question on the hitherto, by collisions with cars or other obstawhole bill, so as to cut off all consideration of any amendments but those adopted in Committee, next ing engines, by which immense losses have alreject its own Schenck amendment, and then, you ready been sustained by the company; but this see, the business is done! The Straight Mileage is the most serious one we have yet heard of. ful medicine for carrying off a cold, because they is thrown out beyond restoration, and who did it? The gentleman who makes out the Long Mileage accounts-that old reprobate, Nobody! The chainlightning Mileage remains as zigzag as ever, but what constituency can tell whether its représentatives voted to keep it so or not ! The blow is seen and felt, but the hand that struck it is invisible.

Sixty-seven Members (but nobody can tell who) passed between the Tellers in favor of striking out Judge Embree's and inserting instead Mr. Schenck's amendment. Thirty-six to-day, on a call of the Yeas and Nays, voted to retain that Schenck amendment in the bill. Where were the other thirty-one ? Can anybody guess ?

But the Schenck amendment has done its office It has killed the Straight Mileage and preserved the House from the dilemma of a Yea and Nay vote thereon. I say deliberately, and with a thorough conviction of its truth, that the House would not, dare not, vote down Judge Embree's proposition on a direct Yea and Nay vote. If it had dared to do this, it would not have gone round through the labyrinth of the Schenck amendment to avoid it. The whole matter must speak for itself to those who have or shall have the facts before them.

Here, I presume, the discussion during this Congress must stop. There is not the ghost of a chance to get a Mileage Reform bill per se before the House for consideration; there never has been. I apprehend there will not be another bill before Congress this Session on which an amendment reforming Mileage will be in order. There is just one chance left for present action-namely, that the Senate will engraft a proper proviso on the bill and send it back for concurrence therein. It will not be in order to move such in the House in case the bill comes back without amendment on this point. Unless the Senate act, then, nothing can now be done. Should any be inclined to dressed to Senators.

But the Reform is only postponed-it cannot be lost if those who already perceive the right and detest the wrong will but remember and act .-

The Legislature.

There is so little of interest to our readers in the proceedings of the legislature in the past week, that we avoid occupying space with a formal re-

In the Senate, a bill was passed creating a new county out of part of Luzerne, and a bill regulating railroad companies.

Mr. Klots from the Committe on the Militia, reported the bill abolishing militia trainings and creating a sinking fund for the payment of the State Debt with a recommendation that it be negatived.

Mr. Cooper from the Committee of Ways and Means reported a bill providing for the ordinary State Canals and Railroads, and for the payment of debts due for work done thereon.

A number of petitions for re-charter of Banks were presented in the two houses. Among them for the Chester County Bank, the Delaware County Bank, the Germantown Bank oc.

The total amount of coal sent to market from Pennsylvania, during the last season, was 3,069,473 tens, being an increase of 93,880 tons over the amount exported the year before. This mass of coal, at $4 per ton, produced the sum of $12,277,892. Who does not perceive at half a glance that there is infinitely more wealth in the coal fields of this state, than there is in the mines of California ?

Judge Eldred, it seems, did not decide that listening at a keyhole was justifiable in a woman; he only said that it was excusable, on account of the natural curiosity of the sex.

GEN. CASS ELECTED TO THE SENATE. - A dispatch dated Detroit, Monday, Jan. 22, states that Gen. Cass was elected to the U. S. Senate by the Michigon Legislature on Saturday last, 20th inst. by a vote of 44 to 36.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS .- A dreadful collision took place by the meeting of two Locumotives with trains of Freight cars on the New York and Erie Railroad between Great Bend and which not only an immense loss of property in hopes of reaching Great Bend before meeting The whole affair has been managed exactly as the other. But they met in a deep cut and a short curve of the road where it was impossible to discover each other till close together, when they met with tremendous force, smashing up the Locoutives in a terrible manner and breaking the legs and seriously wounding the Engineer and another man on the train going east, while the Engineer going west, who was chiefly to blame jumped off and escaped.

Dr. Patrick of this place, who was sent for, informed us that the injuries were very serious, and that he was apprehensive amputation would have to be performed on the Engineer whose leg was so badly crushed. Since then we have heard that the leg was taken off by Dr. Jack-

A NEW GAME TO PLAY AT .- On Friday of last week a couple of rowdies, one of them will be restored to even sounder health than benamed Powell and the other Bonapart Boyce, before got into a frolic near Dixville, in Mercer county, and agreed to cut throats for a quart of whiskey. Aftear a few slashes Powell severed Boyce's jugular, and the latter died immediately. Boyce was formerly well known by many in this city. He was of a highly respectable family, and a man of fine talents and education. Louisville Journal.

VIRGINIA GOLD .- The Union states that at the Whitehall mines of Messrs. Heiss and Stockton, in Virginia, $9,000 of gold was found in a single week by a dozen hands, and from the 1st to the 7th of the present month. six negroes obtained thirty-five pounds of gold,
