

Costs in the Hinchman Case.
 During the trial of this case there were one hundred and fifty witnesses examined; most of them have attended court from Bucks county. The case has been on the trial list once before, and they are entitled to pay mileage for their attendance then. We would imagine that the bill of costs would amount to between $5000 and $6000, all of which will have to be paid by the defendants. The cost to the county has been supposed to be very large; but the county has made money by the operation. The jury fees will amount to about $360, and the whole cost to the public will not exceed $400. All the counsel will get in compensation will be the judge's fee, $4. The time occupied by the trial had been taken up with other cases, and the county would have to have paid for eight jurors daily, instead of twelve, and the cost of the panel in daily pay during the time would have been $1288. From this we may deduct judgment fees in about fifteen cases, all that probably would have been made, making the amount $1228. The judge's officers get regular salaries, and it makes no difference whether they tried this case or another. The only convenience has been to have the trial in other cases, who by having been prevented from having their causes disposed of at this term.—Bowen's American Farmer.

Meeting from Port Jervis to Trenton.—A meeting was held at Philadelphia last week to devise and adopt measures to secure the construction of a railroad from Trenton to Port Jervis, connecting at the last named place with the New York and Erie railroad. Ex-Senator Porter addressed the meeting. He said that the road contemplated would be but a few miles long, with no higher grade than seven feet to the mile descending towards Philadelphia, while the distance from the same point to New York, though but 68 miles, with grades ranging from forty to eighty feet to the mile, being the practical distance full as great as Philadelphia. It was determined to open a subscription for the enterprise.

FEVERS.
 Fevers of all kinds are peculiarly under the control of Clickener's Sugar Coated Purgative Pills, owing to their unrivalled efficacy in purifying the chyle, and thus depriving of the blood of the nourishment that feeds its inflammation. The various Fevers are indicated by as various symptoms, but cold shiverings, succeeded by a dry heat, with pains in the head, bones and limbs, are features common to all.
 Mrs. Ann Seymour, of Troy, permits us to state, that being far advanced in the first stage of the Typhus Fever, she had recourse to Clickener's Sugar Coated Purgative Pills, which completely expelled every symptom of the disease in a week. She adds that they are the only medicine she could ever get to remain on her stomach.
 Miss H. Allison of 4 Orchard-st., New York, had a fever of 3 years' standing entirely broken up by Clickener's Sugar Coated Pills.
