The Murder of Dr. Parkman. The verdict of the coroner's inquest upon the mutilated remains of Dr. Parkman was tendered W. Webster with the murder. The investigation lasted ten days, and a very large number covering some eighty pages of foolscap, is withheld by instruction of the Attorney General until the meeting of the Grand Jury, who and report during the month of January next.

The following is the verdict :-

From the Boston Transcript of Friday. of late-that although he has read the finding of the coroner's inquest, it has not disturbed him in the least, and he remains perfectly calm and self-possessed. He is in good health, and apparently quite contented in his situation and satisfied with the treatment which he receives from the officers of the jail.

It has been reported that his cell was better furnished and his fare more sumptuous than other prisoners. We are informed that his accommodations are only improved by the allowance of some footmats, but it is true that his food is furnished by his friends from Parker's restaurant in Court Square.

Prof. Webster's time is wholly employed in reading and epistolary correspondence with his friends. Although it is understood that Hon-Franklin Dexier has declined to act as counsel for defence, he is sull admitted at the jail as such, in common with Edward D. Sohier, Esq.

Professor Webster. The Boston Journal says:

"The public should not hastily jump at a conclusion of guilt from the verdict of the coronor's jury. The evidence adduced before these tribunals is generally of an ex parte character, and it is not considered necessary, neither is it usual, for the suspected party to make his defence. In this case it is not known even that any defence was attempted by Dr. Webster. It is obvious, therefore, that the verdict of the jury can be regarded only as indicating that circumstances which are unexplained, but may admit of an explanation, furnish evidence satisfactory to the jury that the deed of violence was committed by the accused.

Boundary of California. The boundary of the State of California, commences at " the point of intersection of the 42d degree of north latitude with the 120th degree of longitude west from Greenwich, and running south on the line of said 120th degree of west longitude until it intersects the 39th degree of north latitude: thence running in a straight line in a south-easterly direction to the river Colorado, at a point where it intereects the 35th degree of north latitude; thence down the middle of the channel of said river. to the boundary line between the United States and Mexico, as established by the treaty of May 30th, 1848; thence running west and along said boundary line to the Pacific ocean, and extending therein three English miles; thence running in a north-westerly direction, and following the direction of the Pacific coast to the 42d degree of north latitude, thence on the line of eard 42d degree of north latitude to the place of beginning." This is very nearly the limit set by the Mex ican government to the jurisdiction of California. It divides the Great Central Basin about two-thirds of the distance between the Sterra Nevada and the great Salt Lake It gives the state 600 miles of sea-coast and an average of 250 miles in breadth, including both sides of the Sierra Nevada and some of the best rivers of the Great Basin. Several thousand square miles of the southern part, however, are por tion of a desert as scorching and sterile as that of Zahara -- a country of butning salt plains and shifting hills of sand, whose only signs of human sistlation are the bones of animals and men scattered along the trails that cross it.

Not long since, a farmer from New Jersey came to his death, upon their oaths do say that found a customer in Washington Market, who paid for his entire load of poultry in cash. He pointed to an adjoining commission store, inuthe human frame have been identified and mating that his place of business was in that proved to be the remains and parts of the dead quarter. ANOTHER PRIZE FIGHT, or brute exhibition, is to come off at New York before long. A man rejoicing in the title of Awful Gardner, and another calling himself Dublin Tricks We learn that Prof. Webster's appearance have agreed to fight for a thousand dollars to-day is precisely the same which it has been within six months from Monday last. Will the police interfere ?

Quick on the Trigger.

"You will please observe," said old Mr Lambell, as he led us through his school the other day, " that the boys are required to observe the utmost attention to quietness and dis-

We had at this moment arrived in front of several boys standing around a water bucket, and one had just charged his mouth with the contents of the cup while the old gentleman was stooping over to recover his pen from the floor, when another passing along behind, snapped his finger quick under the drinker's ear, and caused him on a sudden start to eject the contents of his mouth over the pedagogue's bald pate. Standing upright with his face and hair dripping, the master shouted-" Who done that ?"

The party unanimously cried out, " Jim Gun,

"James Gun, what did you do that for ?" Jim, appalled at the mischief he had done, muttered that it was not his fault, that Tom Owen snapt him.

This changed the direction of old Lambwell's wrath, and shaking his cane portentiously over Owen's head, he asked --

" Did you snap Gun?" The culprit, trembling with fear, murmured --"Yes, sir; I snapt Gun, but I didn't know he was loaded !"

Interior of the Earth.

A fact of great interest has been proved by the torings for Artesian wells in the suburbs of Paris, namely that as we go toward the centre of the earth, the temperature increases at the rate of about one degree every 50 feet .-That the whole interior portion of the earth, or at least a great part of it, is an igneous ocean of melted rock, agitated by violent winds, though I dare not affirm it, is still rendered highly probable by the phenomena of volcanoes. The facts connected with their eruption have been ascertained and placed beyond a doubt. How then are they to be accounted for? The theory prevalent some years since, that they are caused by the combustion of immense coal beds, is perfectly peurile, and entirely abandoned. All the coal in the world would never afford fuel enough for a single capital exhibition of Vesuvius. We must look higher than this; and I have little doubt that the whole rests on the action of electric and galvanic principles which are constantly in operation in the earth. We know then when certain metals are brought together, powerful electric action is developed, and a light is produced, superior even in effulgence to the splendor of the sun. Now if a small arrangement produces such results, what may we not expect from the combination of those immense beds of metals to be found in the earth ? Here we may have the key to all the grand phenomena of volcanic action. An illustration on a small scale may be seen in an instrument called the theo-electrical battery, made of zinc, bismuth and antimony, packed in a box and varmished. In this, heat is evolved elow, while the top is cold; and here we have the very cause of the volcano, when in the interior a fiery ocean is heaving its surges; while its peak is capped with everlasting snows.
