

I counted her tears as they fell again, Saying "Compromises" again and again.
I thought of a babe at a cabin door, Where a mother's shadow shall fall no more—I thought of the wisdom of this great land Assembled together—a mighty band, With armies and navies at its command, With thundering cannon and gleaming swords And praying chaplains, and learned boards, With their pompous words about Freedom's charms,
As they tore the babe from its mother's arms, The tears might have moved them. They were but men,
But what of the Compromises then?
I looked on her pallid cheek again—
On her sunken eyes with their scalding rain, And thought of the husband far away, She should meet no more at the close of day:
Of the hearts all torn and the heard laid waste;
And, like David of old, "I said in mine haste, Some things that I fain would repeat below But the Compromises say plainly, "No." Forgive my rhyming, Mr. GREELEY. I did not mean to do it; but the case of this poor woman affects me much; and sadness seeks rhyme for expression. It was looking on this poor mother weeping for her children that determined me to come to Washington. I wanted to see what the descendants of our Revolutionary fathers looked like, when in Congress assembled to devise ways and means for extending the area of such deeds of Chivalry. I go now into their great marble wonder, and wander through its magnificent rotundas and halls, its labyrinths of stairs and passages, gaze on its wonders of art, and before me at every turn flits up the shadowy apparition of that sorrow-stricken face. I see the humble form of that servant-woman skulking hither and thither as though she would escape to her children. At every turn an impediment prevents! Here there is a dead, cold wall. There, in the open passage, stands a group of sentinels! strange looking sentinels, too—children and pitying men, and beautiful, kind-hearted women. There are many of them who would scarcely kill a worm, who would weep that a poor bird should be taken from her nestlings; but they will all form themselves into phalanxes, with bristling bayonets and naked swords, to prevent the stricken mother flying to her child! Why is it so? Why is the voice of Nature and of God suppressed within us, and bidden to be silent? It is that we may hear what the compromisers say; and how honorable gentlemen talk about a few more compromises. You, with the rest, Mr. GREELEY, indulge "a generous spirit of compromise." It is considered very praiseworthy to do so; and no doubt you are a very clever man; but in this matter your generosity does not cost you much. It is very easy for you, or any other Northern gentleman, to make a bow to a Southern gentleman, and, in the spirit of the "most generous compromise," agree that he may tear a mother from her babes and set her up on an auction-block to get money to buy a racehorse or gold chain, and banish her, forever, from all she has known or loved. You are nothing the poorer when the deed is done. It is the mother and her children who are called upon to foot the bill; and it not unfrequently costs one of them the last remnant of a life your former generosity had made a scene of suffering and toil.

I am a little thick in the skull, and never could understand nice distinctions in etiquette or eling. When Mr. HARRIS of Tenn. rose the other day, and with all his powers of oratory—a burning eloquence that required three glasses of water to prevent its bursting out into a flame—pleaded for "the rights of the South" it just sounded to me as if he had been saying, "Gentlemen, we have a right—a natural and inalienable right, to whip women and sell babies. Our Revolutionary fathers died on the battle-field to establish the glorious principle of women-whipping and baby-selling. Our immortal Constitution was founded to secure to us the exercise of these inestimable privileges; and I, Sir, I Mr. HARRIS of Tenn. do now proclaim myself the valorous champion of American woman-scourging! It is our privilege, Sir. We of the South, here, on the floor of this House, claim the right to sell our children with our sheep and oxen.
We, Sir, it is, who can and do, and we will sell our daughters to infamy and traffic in the bodies and souls of our brethren—Yea, of our brethren, Sir—of those for whom a common Savior has shed his blood—of those who, with us, are joint heirs of immortality. We, Sir, we will carry them to the shambles, remembering that, inasmuch as we do it unto the least of these His brethren, we do it unto Him. We will there barter for gold the very Son of God himself! We it is, Sir, who sell upon the auction-block the image of God for handfuls of silver coin! We are the fearless champions who will dissolve this Union—all union between ourselves and the spirit of Freedom abroad in the earth—the favor of Heaven and the approval of all good men, for this our privilege of selling men and whipping women."

I could make nothing else of it, Mr. GREELEY. I know these are the rights for which the South contends. I know it is quite as common and respectable for a Southern gentleman to horsewhip his washerwoman as to smoke a cigar. I know this, for I have lived there; and all the eloquence and gasconading about Southern rights and Constitutional compromises resolve themselves to this one point—the right to horsewhip a woman and sell her baby. Every concession you make about guarantees is just that much of a yielding to this clamor. But the mail will soon leave; I have so much to tell and am so often interrupted I cannot get time to tell it.

Reward for Sir John Franklin.
The Queen of England has authorized a publication of the following liberal reward for the recovery of Sir John Franklin, viz: $100,000 who will effectually relieve the crews of the ships; $50,000 for relieving, or for such information as may lead to the relief of any of the crew; and $50,000 to any one who shall first succeed in ascertaining their fate.

Tic Douloureux or Neuralgia.
Joanna Lynchburg, of Clarence, N. Y. states that for twelve years she was severely afflicted with Tic Douloureux or painful affliction of the nerves of the face, attended great swelling and much pain, so that she was unable to attend to her work. That the only sure remedy she had found was in the use of that celebrated medicine known as Geo. W. Merchant's Gargling Oil: by taking it and by applying it to the parts affected. She also states that she has been afflicted with bleeding at the lungs and weakness of the breast,—that of all the above disease she had been cured by the internal and external use of this oil; and has since been able to attend to her work. She has also used it with great success in burns.

An Extraordinary Invention.
Dr. Alexandre, from Paris, the inventor of the artificial leech, has lately brought out another invention, a sub-marine boat, in which a company of persons can go down to the bottom, have communication with the ground, performing any sort of work by digging or otherwise, and return to the surface at will. This is the very thing for finding the gold at the bottom of the streams in California.

The Iron Interest.
It is only necessary, to illustrate the practical operations of the present tariff, to glance at the iron business as it presents itself to the most casual observer. The Monticello furnace, within a few miles of Duncan's Island has been closed within a few days and the moveable property belonging thereto sold at public auction. Within a circle of ten miles of Du-can's Island, the following iron establishments have suspended operations: Monticello furnace, Juniata furnace, Emeline furnace, Victoria furnace, Oak Grove furnace, and Perry furnace. There remains in operation in the vicinity, only the Caroline furnace and the Duncannon iron works. The effect of these suspensions upon the domestic trade and business of the section of the country in which these furnaces are located has been disastrous. Hundreds are thrown out of employment; the merchant and grocer find no sale for their goods, and the farmer, instead of having a market at his very door for his surplus produce, and an immediate return therefor, is obliged to send it to Baltimore or this city, and after deducting freight and commissions, realizes after a month's delay, a less price than the article would, under other circumstances, have commanded in the granary.—Daily News.

Dr. Beecher and Prof. Webster.
Rev. Dr. Beecher contradicts the story stated about his having seen Prof. W. or any other person in his laboratory, either through a telescope or otherwise, cutting up a human body.
Why do the Boston papers start all these ridiculous stories against the Professor?
Prof. Webster's daughter Harriet has written a feeling and touching letter to Judge Marsh, at Boston. She declares her belief in her father's innocence, and states that her mother and sisters are waiting with trembling anxiety the result of the present popular effort in favor of pardon. The recent calamities that has occurred to this interesting family, has incited their old friends in Boston, to raise for them a handsome donation, as a testimonial of continued friendship. The widow of the late Dr. Parkman heads the list with $500, which has already reached above $20,000.

Match for One Thousand Dollars a Side.
A trotting match for one thousand dollars a side, mile heats, has been made by the owners of Cassius M. Clay, and Black Hawk, to come off over one of the Long Island courses, the 3d Tuesday in October next. It promises to be the match of the season, each horse having achieved the highest reputation.

Cure for Colds.
Three cents worth of liquorice, three cents worth of gum arabic, put them in a quart of warm water, simmer them till thoroughly dissolved; then add three cents worth of paragolic, and a little quantity of antimonal wine.
Let it cool, and sip whenever the cough is troublesome. It is pleasant, infallible, cheap and good. Its cost is 15 cents.

So We Go.
The American Mechanic, published at Poughkeepsie, Me., justly remarks:
A man grows at paying a shilling for a loaf of bread; thinking he ought to get it for eleven pence, and the same evening takes his family to witness the feats of a magician, for the purpose of being humbugged, knowing they will be humbugged; and willingly pays a dollar for the privilege! Another is too poor to pay for a newspaper, but can spend a levy or a quarter, for every poppet show or other foolish exhibition that travel the country, and not miss it.
Another is too poor to pay a few dollars, but can attend concerts and negro performances that come along. Another wants a mechanic to work for nine and six-pence, when he demands ten shillings, and watches him to see that he labors faithfully, and the next day hires a horse and wagon, at the expense of two dollars, to travel ten miles to see a horse race.
Another "beats down" an old woman a penny on a bunch of radishes, and before getting home spends two or three shillings in treating his friends.

BOOTH & FOSTER
LATE
J. C. BOOTH & Co.,
FASHIONABLE CLOTHING
EMPORIUM,
Wholesale and Retail,
27 Courtland Street, New-York.
(A FEW DOORS BELOW THE WESTERN HOTEL.) THIS HOUSE, by reason of its Great Popularity and Extensive Reputation, both for the Superior Qualities and Cheapness of its Goods, has recently been extending its business, until it now presents an assortment at once UNRIV-ALLED BY ANY IN THE CITY. One of the Firm, being one of the Pioneers in the Clothing business, devotes all his time to purchasing goods for the establishment, which, his long experience, acknowledged skill, and with the aid of abundant capital, he is enabled to do with the most predominant success. Another of the firm superintends, in person, their extensive MANU-FACTURING DEPARTMENT; and the stock thus produced, and with a view to neatness, elegance and utility, and amounting to nearly $100,000 in Value, comprises an assortment now unequalled, and they defy all competition. They desire particularly to call the attention of Country Merchants to their stock, whom, by their extensive arrangements, they are enabled to supply with an assortment at once the best, the most varied, and the cheapest of any other on this Continent.
Nor does the extent of their business prevent them from supplying the individual wants.
Gentlemen visiting this city will at all times find them in readiness to furnish from the Smallest Article to the Complete Outfit, of such as cannot fail to suit the most refined taste, or meet the approbation of the most fastidious.
Their Manufactured Department is replete with every description of DRESS and FROCK, BUSINESS and TRAVELLING, SACK and ALBERT COATS. All the styles of Drap De Ete, Alpaca and Bro. Linen COATS.
PANTALOONS of all the various styles and qualities.
VESTS of the latest and richest pattern.
DRESSING GOWNS, &c.
The Fancy Department embraces every thing new and desirable in the line of SHIRTS, DRAWERS, BOSOMS, COLLARS, CRAVATS, STOCKS, SCARFS, GLOVES, HANDKERCHIEFS, HOSIE-RY, SUSPENDERS, SHOULDER BR-ACES, MONEY BELTS, &c.
To verify the above statements, they ask gentlemen, when visiting the city, to call and examine for themselves, where they will receive the most polite attention, the proprietors relying on the excessive cheapness which their unrivalled facilities enable them to afford their Goods, to ensure a sale.
Full suits furnished to order at the shortest notice, and sent to any part of the United States.

PROCLAMATION.
Whereas the Hon. NATHANIEL B. ELDRID, President Judge of the 22d Judicial district of Pennsylvania, composed of the counties of Carbon, Monroe, Pike and Wayne, and Moses W. Coolbaugh and Stoddell Stokes, Esq's., Associate Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of the county of Monroe, and by virtue of their offices, Justices of the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail delivery, and Court of General Quarter Sessions in and for the said county of Monroe, have issued their precept to me commanding that a Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace and Common Pleas, and General Jail Delivery and Orphans' Court, for the said County of Monroe, to be holden at Stroudsburg, on Monday, the 27th day of May, next, to continue two weeks if necessary.

NOTICE
Is therefore, hereby given to the Coroner, the Justices of the Peace, and Constables of the said County of Monroe, that they be then and there ready with their rolls, records, inquisitions, examinations and other remembrances to do those things which to their offices are appertaining, and also that those who are bound by recognizances to prosecute and give evidence against the prisoners that are or shall be in the jail of said County of Monroe, or against the persons who stand charged with the commission of offences, to be then and there to prosecute or testify as shall be just.

MONROE COUNTY
Mutual Fire Insurance Company.
The rate of Insurance is one dollar on the thousand dollars insured, after which payment no subsequent tax will be levied, except to cover actual loss or damage by fire, that may fall upon members of the company.

The net profits arising from interest or otherwise, will be ascertained yearly, for which each member in proportion to his, her, or their deposit, will have a credit in the company.— Each insurer in or with the said company will be a member thereof during the term of his or her policy. The principle of Mutual Insurance has been thoroughly tested—has been tried by the unerring test of experience, and has proved successful and become very popular. It affords the greatest security against loss or damage by fire, on the most advantageous and reasonable terms.

Applications for Insurance to be made in person, or by letters addressed to

B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE.

A SURE REMEDY FOR WORMS.

The testimony in its favor is overwhelming.
The proprietors are daily in receipt of letters and certificates, going to prove its remarkable efficiency to all cases of worms, both in children and adults. The relief given, and the immediate improvement of health which follows its use, has called the attention of physicians to this article, and they freely recommend and prescribe it in their practice.

The retail price is 25 cents per vial, which brings it within the means of all.

Brooklyn, L. I. January 16, 1847.
I do certify that I gave one bottle of B. A.
Fahnestock's Vermifuge to my child, and in seven hours it passed 23 large worms. Any person doubting this may apply for further information at my residence corner of York and Jackson streets. JAMES MCCAFFREY.
Poughkeepsie, N. Y. March 2, 1844.

I certify, that I took two vials of B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, which I found to be the greatest cure for worms I have ever used. I have been troubled with tape worms for a number of years, and I have never found so good a medicine as B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge. I therefore recommend it. MARTHA CLIFT.
The public is cautioned against counterfeit and spurious articles, and to put no confidence in statements that "Kohnstock's" and "S. Fahnestock's" Vermifuge are the same or as good as the only genuine article, which is B. A.
