

A SINGULAR CASE.—A lady in Cambridge (Mass.) died on Wednesday last—so the physician said—and was laid out for burial in her winding sheets, but from the fact that the body still retained an apparent warmth, though there was not the slightest appearance of respiration, interment was suspended. On Sunday the lady opened her eyes and called to her husband, 'Albert, give me some water.'

WASH FOR APPLE TREES.—Dissolve two pounds of potash in a pail of water—apply with a brush. It is a very effectual wash—destroying, if properly applied, most of the insect tribes taking shelter under the bark, besides giving health to the tree by a thorough cleaning.

Matrimonial Advertising.

Advertising for wives, though it may be a convenient method of procuring such an essential, is still attended with much danger, from the total ignorance that the parties have usually of each other's previous life, and the opportunities it affords for a spurious and plausible person to impose upon the credulity which the respondent to such advertisement must necessarily possess. The following is an instance as given in one of our exchanges:—

An affair, somewhat novel and exciting, took place in the village Cutchogue, a few days since. It appears that Joseph Baker, of that place, and late of Greenport, went to New York a few weeks ago for the purpose of obtaining a wife. His first move was to publish a notice in a New York paper stating that a young widow, about twenty-five years of age, having one child and a farm at a short distance in the country, wished to enter a second time into the matrimonial state with some respectable lady of about his own age. This notice attracted the attention of a young girl, in the city, aged some eighteen or nineteen years, by the name of Elsy Craigh, who soon responded to Joseph's notice.

This was followed by an interview between the parties. According to the account which the girl gave at Cutchogue, Mr. Baker represented himself to her to be a gentleman of character and respectability, in the community where he lived; that he had a valuable farm down on Long Island, with a good house, pleasantly situated, and all the necessary improvements and appurtenances; that he kept cows and other stock, together with a horse, carriage, &c. After a negotiation of a number of days, a matrimonial engagement was entered into, which was finally consummated in due form, by a clergyman of that city, on Saturday morning last.

After the marriage ceremony was solemnized, the parties, accompanied by the mother of the bride, immediately left the city, and took the accommodation train to visit the splendid establishment of Mr. Joseph Baker, Cutchogue, on L. I., with high hopes and pleasing anticipations, no doubt. On arriving at Mr. Baker's country residence, behold it was not there.

Nothing but a little shanty, situated in a lone some, out-of-the-way place, with every indication of indolence and poverty, instead of a neat, comfortable dwelling, presented itself to the astonished strangers. The poor girl and her mother, after taking a fair view of the premises, and discovering the imposition, and the manner in which the daughter had been duped, overwhelmed with disappointment, mortification and disgust, at once decided to return to the city. They found a shelter at the house of Mr. Halleck, at no great distance, and after making proper inquiries respecting the character, habits, and circumstances of the said Joseph Baker, as they were understood in that community, they declared that the marriage had been brought about by false pretences, misrepresentation and hypocrisy.

A lawyer and a justice were soon called in, to untie the knot which had so recently, and so imprudently and foolishly on the part of the girl, been formed by the parties. Writings were duly executed, by which the young lady relinquished all claim and right of dower to any property which the said Joseph Baker might have, with a consent on his part, that the marriage contract, to all intents and purposes, might be dissolved. The mother and daughter took the cars on Monday, and returned to the city.

NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

THE DAILY TRIBUNE is issued every morning except Sunday on a large sheet of fine white paper, forming eight pages of six columns each, or about the size of two average Country Newspapers. About six of these pages are new every morning; the aggregate of Editorials, News and Miscellanies being greater than that of any other paper in America, and greater than any but one or two in Europe, though its price is but half that of other first-class Dailies in this Country and less than one-fourth the cost of similar journals in England. Two Evening Editions are issued to supply each subscriber with the latest news up to the hour when his copy must be mailed.

The Tribune is edited in chief by Horace Greeley, who has special charge of all matters pertaining to the Politics and Legislation of our own Country. Its Foreign (Old-World) department is in charge of Charles A. Dana, assisted by able correspondents in London, Paris, Constantinople, &c. &c. Its California intelligence and its City department are in charge of Bayard Taylor, assisted by an efficient corps of Reporters. No expense is or will be spared to render its news from all quarters, by Telegraph, Expresses, Steamships and Mails, as early and reliable as that of any other paper.

The Semi-Weekly Tribune contains nearly all the non-advertising matter of the Daily, except such as is of local interest, or has been superseded by fuller and more exact advices before the Semi-Weekly is issued. It is of the same size with the Daily, and has few advertisements.

The Weekly Tribune is issued every Thursday morning, and contains most of the matter of the Daily with more summary accounts of such Events and Proceedings as cannot be published in full. We mean that no Weekly shall surpass this in giving a full graphic and faithful account of what the world is doing, whereof it is thinking, and how it is progressing.

The Tribune is not quite ten years old, and has obtained an aggregate circulation of not far from sixty-five thousand copies—about two thirds of them on its Weekly. Every subscription is paid in advance, and the paper stops when the advance pay runs out, so that no man need hesitate to subscribe from an apprehension of being defrauded for arrears, perhaps after he has left the place to which the paper is sent, in ignorance that it is continued. Subscriptions from individuals and clubs are respectfully solicited by

GREELEY & MELRATH,
Publishers, 154 Nassau st.

New York, Dec. 19th, 1850.

TERMS—(Always in Advance.)

WEEKLY, $2 for one copy; eight for $10; twenty to one address for $20.

The Weekly Tribune is sent to Clergymen of all denominations for $1 per year.

Money may be sent through the Post Office at the risk of the Publishers.

Notes of all specie paying Banks in the United States are taken for subscriptions to this paper at par. Money enclosed in a letter to our address, and deposited in any Post Office in the United States, may be considered at our risk; but a description of the bills ought in all cases to be left with the Postmaster.

DOCTOR YOURSELF
For 25 Cents!
By means of the Pocket Esculapius, or Every one his own Physician! Thirtieth edition, with upwards of a hundred engravings, showing private diseases in every shape and form and malformations of the generative systems
BY WM. YOUNG, M. D.
The time has now arrived, that persons suffering from secret diseases, need no more become the victim of quackery, as by the prescriptions contained in this book, any one may cure himself, without hindrance to business, or the knowledge of the most intimate friends, and with one tenth the usual expenses. In addition to the General routine of private disease, it fully explains the cause of manhood's early decline, with observations on marriage—besides many other derangements which it would not be proper to enumerate in the public prints.
If any person sending TWENTY-FIVE cents enclosed in a letter, will receive one copy of this book, by mail, or five copies will be sent for one dollar. Address, "DR. WM. YOUNG, No. 152 SPRUCE STREET, PHILADELPHIA." Post paid.
If DR. YOUNG can be consulted on any of the diseases described in his different publications, at his Office, 152 SPRUCE Street, every day between 9 and 3 o'clock, [Sundays excepted.] January 30, 1851.—1y.
