

The new "three-cent piece" ordered to be struck by the last Congress, has been issued, and great numbers are now in circulation in Philadelphia, New York, and other of our chief cities. A few have penetrated the interior, and we saw one of the "little jokers" the other day. It is about the size of a five-cent piece; though thinner. On one side it is circled by the words "United States of America, 1851," with a single star filling the centre, and on which is the usual representation of the shield. On the reverse side is the circle of thirteen stars, with a large C enclosing ILL. When this new coin first appeared in New-York the rush for them was so great that one broker sold over a thousand at four cents each. Great difference of opinion exists as to the adaptation of this piece to general use. The Philadelphia Ledger says it promises to be a general favorite; while the N. Y. Tribune pronounces it the meanest coin that ever bore the impress of the U. S. Mint, and admirably calculated to deceive, being very similar in size to the five-cent piece.

The Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society of Pennsylvania have selected the city of Harrisburg as the place for holding the Agricultural Fair, which is to come off on the 22d, 23d and 24th days of October, next. Among the several competitors for the distinction Harrisburg showed the most liberality, advancing two thousand dollars for the expense of the occasion. Lancaster was not far behind her rival.

Revolt and Horrible Affair—Murder of a Wife by Starvation.

NASHVILLE, May 10, P. M.—Much excitement has been created among a portion of our citizens, by the arrest on Friday evening, of a man named Butler, who is in the employment of the Gas Company, charged with attempting to kill his wife by starvation. Butler lives on the corner of Spencer and Gay streets, and it seems that the suspicions of his neighbors were aroused by certain mysterious proceedings about his house.—These suspicions increased until Friday evening, when several persons determined to enter Butler's house, and satisfy themselves in regard to the matter. The house was entered by a window, the doors being all fastened, and a woman was found lying in the bed, covered with filth, in a most emaciated condition.—She was extremely weak, and it is stated she declared that she had not eaten anything for a week or more. She spoke but little. She died to-day at noon, and the Coroner held an inquest over her body, and rendered a verdict.

There are a hundred flying rumors regarding this; all of which present the case in a very shocking aspect. Butler is now in jail, in default of giving bail in the sum of $10,000.

It is stated that several humbly disposed ladies had repeatedly tried to obtain admittance to the house, during his absence, and were driven away by the daughter of Mrs. Butler, who set a fierce house dog upon them. On one occasion, a lady passed by, heard a faint cry of "water!" On Thursday morning, the wife of a neighbor who had sought, several times, to explore the mystery, seeing the husband of the woman passing by on his way to the city, asked his permission to see her, and was refused.—This refusal further excited suspicion. On yesterday several young men went to the house and were also set upon with the dog by the little girl, when they finally succeeded in forcing their way in.—They found that her person bore the marks of violence, and about her limbs were black marks of cords, by which it is supposed she had been bound to the bed. She was so much reduced that the bones in many places had worn through the skin.

He alleges she was sick of the typhoid fever, and was also very intemperate in her habits, and he kept people away to prevent them from supplying her with drink.—Louisville Courier.

New Constitution for Maryland.

The Convention to form a new Constitution for Maryland has adjourned, having finally completed its labors. The following are the principal points in the instrument they have formed. It will shortly be submitted to the people for adoption or rejection:—

"The Governor is to be elected every four years, and to receive a salary of $3,600. The Senate is to be composed of twenty-two members, who are to be elected for four years; one-half going out every two years. The House of Delegates will contain seventy-four members, to be chosen biennially. The basis of representation will be according to population for the counties, and Baltimore city will be entitled to four more delegates than the largest county. No county is to have less than 2 members. The judiciary are to be elected by the people, and the majority of them hold office for ten years. The State's Attorneys for the city of Baltimore and the different counties, and the Registers of Wills, are to be elected by the popular voice. The people will also choose a Comptroller, Board of Public Works, Lottery Commissioners, and in fact nearly every local and State officer, with a few exceptions. Imprisonment for debt is abolished, and a certain amount of property is exempted from execution. The lottery system is abolished. Any party engaged in a duel, as principal or second, is disqualified from holding office; and the same penalty attaches itself to any one convicted of using bribery to influence voters. Any person condemned for larceny or other infamous crime is disfranchised.
