

A Fugitive Caught.

Much excitement has recently prevailed at Wilkesbarre, Pa. in consequence of the capture, by stratagem, of a fugitive slave.

Some time in February last a company of slaveholders and their agents were there from the South in quest of fugitives from labor.—Among them was the owner (or his agent) of one Hanson, a fugitive, who was, and has until captured, been in the employ of a wealthy man living about seven miles below Wilkesbarre, on the Susquehanna River, whose name is Harvey. It seems that information had been imparted to them of the whereabouts of said Hanson; accordingly they repaired to the premises of Harvey in quest of him. They succeeded in finding him, and pursued him to the house of Harvey, when the doors were closed, and entrance forbidden at the peril of their (the pursuers) lives.

Such open resistance of the laws of our country led to the prosecution of Harvey, and the parties with their counsel and their respective witnesses, met at Williamsport the second week in June to have the merits of the case decided. It is understood that one or two witnesses were examined, when the parties held a consultation and adjusted the matter. The manner, however, in which it was settled, was not made public, nor is it thought that the witnesses were let into the secret. Harvey, together with his witnesses and counsel, returned home on Thursday morning.

On Saturday, he sent Hanson to Wilkesbarre with a team, taking good care, however, to send some one with him, to return the team in case Hanson should be captured.—Hanson had been but a short time in town, before a number of young men, governed by Marshal Roset, made a dexterous and unexpected attack upon him, bound him hand and foot, cast him into a rough vehicle, and hurried him off toward Philadelphia.

The citizens of Wilkesbarre regard the circumstances under which Hanson was captured as little better than downright kidnapping, and feel very indignant in consequence thereof.

A few days afterward, the authorities arrested a negro barber named Mason, who had threatened the lives of several of the citizens of that place, for arresting Hanson as above described. While on his way to prison, Mason drew a razor and cut the officer in the face. He is now safely lodged in jail.

THE WHEAT CROP.—From all the wheat-growing States there are most favorable reports of the prospects for the coming harvest. In Pennsylvania, New-York, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa, as well as in some of the more southerly States, there are indications of a crop rather above the average, and the quality of the grain bids fair to be superior.

Farmers' Accounts.

We have for a long series of years watched pretty narrowly the habits of many farmers, and we have found that those who have kept constant and accurate accounts, and settle regularly with their neighbors; also keep all their farm operations in neat and regular order.—On the other hand, those who are careless and slack in settling or paying their debts, also keep a slipshod account with every part of the farms; no system, no clockwork regularity is maintained in their yearly routine of work. They also waste time in hunting for displaced tools, waste money by doing work out of season, and waste happiness by fretting over the disorder and confusion which their own hands have created. To avoid these evils, begin anew, by settling, in some shape or other, with every bedtor and creditor, and keep a strict and careful account with every body, but more especially with yourselves, and lay out work with regularity and execute it with energy.

A late French newspaper relates a marvellous incident, which is said to have occurred during a recent thunderstorm in an interior department of France. A barn, in which were two goats, was struck by the lightning, but not burnt. After the shower, a woman who had been accustomed to feed the goats, went to the barn, and perceiving that the animals were entirely motionless, approached and touched them, when to her great astonishment and alarm, they fell and crumbled to pieces, exhibiting nothing but a mass of cinders!

A discovery has just been made at Heronnes, in the Peloponnesus, of certain spring of water which, when mixed with oil, becomes at once a kind of soap. A sample has been submitted to chemical analysis.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE LUNATIC HOSPITAL.—The Harrisburg Union announces that Col. John Haviland has entirely completed his contract for the erection of the Pennsylvania State Lunatic Hospital at that place, and that the building has been delivered over to the commissioners. This immense work, 500 feet long, three stories high, and with every possible and improved convenience, has been done for less than $100,000. Trustees will now immediately commence furnishing the building, so that towards fall it will be ready for the reception of patients. There are now two wards building under separate contracts with Holman & Simons, for noisy and incurable patients, under an appropriation made last spring.

A young lady recently from one of those institutions where the "solid branches" are taught, and exact accuracy inculcated as one of the cardinal virtues, while looking upon a sea-scene by moon light, exclaimed: "What a magnificent water-scene!"

Whoever wishes to get on in the world has only to take lessons of a hen chasing a grasshopper through a field. With long neck and peeped eyes, take a few hurried strides, stop short, peep over, peep under, now to the left, then to the right, one flutter, and you have him.
